PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations, for the preservation of the American Union and the existence of our civil, political and religious liberties, and acknowledging our dependence upon Him for the continuance of those blessings to us and our posterity, do, for the more certain security thereof and for the better government of this State, ordain and establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

That the great, general, and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, and that the relations of this State to the Union and government of the United States and those of the people of this State to the rest of the American people may be defined and affirmed, we do declare that:

Section 1. The equality and rights of persons. We hold it to be self-evident that all persons are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, the enjoyment of the fruits of their own labor, and the pursuit of happiness.

Sec. 2. Sovereignty of the people. All political power is vested in and derived from the people; all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.

Sec. 3. Internal government of the State. The people of this State have the inherent, sole, and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof, and of altering or abolishing their Constitution and form of government whenever it may be necessary to their safety and happiness; but every such right shall be exercised in pursuance of law and consistently with the Constitution of the United States.

Sec. 4. Secession prohibited. This State shall ever remain a member of the American Union; the people thereof are part of the American nation; there is no right on the part of this State to secede; and all attempts, from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve this Union or to sever this Nation, shall be resisted with the whole power of the State.

Sec. 5. Allegiance to the United States. Every citizen of this State owes paramount allegiance to the Constitution and government of the United States, and no law or ordinance of the State in contravention or subversion thereof can have any binding force.

Sec. 6. Separation of powers. The legislative, executive, and supreme judicial powers of the State government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other.

Sec. 7. Suspending laws. All power of suspending laws or the execution of laws by any authority, without the consent of the representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights and shall not be exercised.

Sec. 8. Representation and taxation. The people of this State shall not be taxed or made subject to the payment of any impost or duty without the consent of themselves or their representatives in the General Assembly, freely given.

Sec. 9. Frequent elections. For redress of grievances and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections shall be often held.

Sec. 10. Free elections. All elections shall be free.

Sec. 11. Property qualifications. As political rights and privileges are not dependent upon or modified by property, no property qualification shall affect the right to vote or hold office.

Sec. 12. Right of assembly and petition. The people have a right to assemble together to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the General Assembly for redress of grievances; but secret political societies are dangerous to the liberties of a free people and shall not be tolerated.

Sec. 13. Religious liberty. All persons have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences, and no human authority shall, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience.

Sec. 14. Freedom of speech and press. Freedom of speech and of the press are two of the great bulwarks of liberty and therefore shall never be restrained, but every person shall be held responsible for their abuse.

Sec. 15. Education. The people have a right to the privilege of education, and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right.

Sec. 16. Ex post facto laws. Retrospective laws, punishing acts committed before the existence of such laws and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust, and incompatible with liberty, and therefore no ex post facto law shall be enacted. No law taxing retrospectively sales, purchases, or other acts previously done shall be enacted.

Sec. 17. Slavery and involuntary servitude. Slavery is forever prohibited. Involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the parties have been adjudged guilty, is forever prohibited.

Sec. 18. Courts shall be open. All courts shall be open; every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law; and right and justice shall be administered without favor, denial, or delay.

Sec. 19. Law of the land; equal protection of the laws. No person shall be taken, imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or outlawed, or exiled, or in any manner deprived of his life, liberty, or property, but by the law of the land. No person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws; nor shall any person be subjected to discrimination by the State because of race, color, religion, or national origin.

Sec. 20. General warrants. General warrants, whereby any officer or other person may be commanded to search suspected places without evidence of the act committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offense is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and shall not be granted.

Sec. 21. Inquiry into restraints on liberty. Every person restrained of his liberty is entitled to a remedy to inquire into the lawfulness thereof, and to remove the restraint if unlawful, and that remedy shall not be denied or delayed. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.

Sec. 22. Modes of prosecution. Except in misdemeanor cases initiated in the District Court Division, no person shall be put to answer any criminal charge but by indictment, presentment, or impeachment. But any person, when represented by counsel, may, under such regulations as the General Assembly shall prescribe, waive indictment in noncapital cases.

Sec. 23. Rights of accused. In all criminal prosecutions, every person charged with crime has the right to be informed of the accusation and to confront the accusers and witnesses with other testimony, and to have counsel for defense, and not be compelled to give self-incriminating evidence, or to pay costs, jail fees, or necessary witness fees of the defense, unless found guilty.

Sec. 24. Right of jury trial in criminal cases. No person shall be convicted of any crime but by the unanimous verdict of a jury in open court. The General Assembly may, however, provide for other means of trial for misdemeanors, with the right of appeal for trial de novo.

Sec. 25. Right of jury trial in civil cases. In all controversies at law respecting property, the ancient mode of trial by jury is one of the best securities of the rights of the people, and shall remain sacred and inviolable.

Sec. 26. Jury service. No person shall be excluded from jury service on account of sex, race, color, religion, or national origin.

Sec. 27. Bail, fines, and punishments. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.

Sec. 28. Imprisonment for debt. There shall be no imprisonment for debt in this State, except in cases of fraud.

Sec. 29. Treason against the State. Treason against the State shall consist only of levying war against it or adhering to its enemies by giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. No conviction of treason or attainder shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture.

Sec. 30. Militia and the right to bear arms. A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to liberty, they shall not be maintained, and the military shall be kept under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power. Nothing herein shall justify the practice of carrying concealed weapons, or prevent the General Assembly from enacting penal statutes against that practice.

Sec. 31. Quartering of soldiers. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war but in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 32. Exclusive emoluments. No person or set of persons is entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services.

Sec. 33. Hereditary emoluments and honors. No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors shall be granted or conferred in this State.

Sec. 34. Perpetuities and monopolies. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free state and shall not be allowed.

Sec. 35. Recurrence to fundamental principals. A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.

Sec. 36. Other rights of the people. The enumeration of rights in this Article shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people.

ARTICLE II

Sec. 11. Sessions.

(2) Extra sessions on legislative call. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall convene the General Assembly in extra session by their joint proclamation upon receipt by the President of the Senate of written requests therefor signed by three-fifths of all the members of the Senate and upon receipt by the Speaker of the House of Representatives of written requests therefor signed by three-fifths of all the members of the House of Representatives.

Sec. 12. Oath of members. Each member of the General Assembly, before taking his seat, shall take an oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution and laws of the United States and the Constitution of the State of North Carolina, and will faithfully discharge his duty as a member of the Senate or House of Representatives.

Sec. 13. President of the Senate. The Lieutenant Governor shall be President of the Senate and shall preside over the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate is equally divided.

Sec. 14. Other officers of the Senate.

(1) President Pro Tempore - succession to presidency. The Senate shall elect from its membership a President Pro Tempore, who shall become President of the Senate upon the failure of the Lieutenant Governor-elect to qualify, or upon succession by the Lieutenant Governor to the office of Governor, or upon the death, resignation, or removal from office of the President of the Senate, and who shall serve until the expiration of his term of office as Senator.

(2) President Pro Tempore - temporary succession. During the physical or mental incapacity of the President of the Senate to perform the duties of his office, or during the absence of the President of the Senate, the President Pro Tempore shall preside over the Senate.

Section 1. Executive power. The executive power of the State shall be vested in the Governor.

Sec. 2. Governor and Lieutenant Governor: election, term, and qualifications.

(1) Election and term. The Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State in 1972 and every four years thereafter, at the same time and places as members of the General Assembly are elected. Their term of office shall be four years and shall commence on the first day of January next after their election and continue until their successors are elected and qualified.

(2) Qualifications. No person shall be eligible for election to the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor unless, at the time of his election, he shall have attained the age of 30 years and shall have been a citizen of the United States for five years and a resident of this State for two years immediately preceding his election. No person elected to the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall be eligible for election to more than two consecutive terms of the same office.

Sec. 3. Succession to office of Governor.

(1) Succession as Governor. The Lieutenant Governor-elect shall become Governor upon the failure of the Governor-elect to qualify. The Lieutenant Governor shall become Governor upon the death, resignation, or removal from office of the Governor. The further order of succession to the office of Governor shall be prescribed by law. A successor shall serve for the remainder of the term of the Governor whom he succeeds and until a new Governor is elected and qualified.

(2) Succession as Acting Governor. During the absence of the Governor from the State, or during the physical or mental incapacity of the Governor to perform the duties of his office, the Lieutenant Governor shall be Acting Governor. The further order of succession as Acting Governor shall be prescribed by law.

(3) Physical incapacity. The Governor may, by a written statement filed with the Attorney General, declare that he is physically incapable of performing the duties of his office, and may thereafter in the same manner declare that he is physically capable of performing the duties of his office.

(4) Mental incapacity. The mental incapacity of the Governor to perform the duties of his office shall be determined only by joint resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all the members of each house of the General Assembly. Thereafter, the mental capacity of the Governor to perform the duties of his office shall be determined only by joint resolution adopted by a vote of a majority of all the members of each house of the General Assembly. In all cases, the General Assembly shall give the Governor such notice as it may deem proper and shall allow him an opportunity to be heard before a joint session of the General Assembly before it takes final action. When the General Assembly is not in session, the Council of State, a majority of its members concurring, may convene it in extra session for the purpose of proceeding under this paragraph.

(5) Impeachment. Removal of the Governor from office for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

Sec. 4. Oath of office for Governor. The Governor, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall, before any Justice of the Supreme Court, take an oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution and laws of the United States and of the State of North Carolina, and that he will faithfully perform the duties pertaining to the office of Governor.

Sec. 5. Duties of Governor.

(1) Residence. The Governor shall reside at the seat of government of this State.

(2) Information to General Assembly. The Governor shall from time to time give the General Assembly information of the affairs of the State and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall deem expedient.

(3) Budget. The Governor shall prepare and recommend to the General Assembly a comprehensive budget of the anticipated revenue and proposed expenditures of the State for the ensuing fiscal period. The budget as enacted by the General Assembly shall be administered by the Governor.

The total expenditures of the State for the fiscal period covered by the budget shall not exceed the total of receipts during that fiscal period and the surplus remaining in the State Treasury at the beginning of the period. To insure that the State does not incur a deficit for any fiscal period, the Governor shall continually survey the collection of the revenue and shall effect the necessary economies in State expenditures, after first making adequate provision for the prompt payment of the principal of and interest on bonds and notes of the State according to their terms, whenever he determines that receipts during the fiscal period, when added to any surplus remaining in the State Treasury at the beginning of the period, will not be sufficient to meet budgeted expenditures. This section shall not be construed to impair the power of the State to issue its bonds and notes within the limitations imposed in Article V of this Constitution, nor to impair the obligation of bonds and notes of the State now outstanding or issued hereafter.

(4) Execution of laws. The Governor shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

(5) Commander in Chief. The Governor shall be Commander in Chief of the military forces of the State except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

(6) Clemency. The Governor may grant reprieves, commutations, and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses (except in cases of impeachment), upon such conditions as he may think proper, subject to regulations prescribed by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons. The terms reprieves, commutations, and pardons shall not include paroles.

(7) Extra sessions. The Governor may, on extraordinary occasions, by and with the advice of the Council of State, convene the General Assembly in extra session by his proclamation, stating therein the purpose or purposes for which they are thus convened.

(8) Appointments. The Governor shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the Senators appoint all officers whose appointments are not otherwise provided for.

(9) Information. The Governor may at any time require information in writing from the head of any administrative department or agency upon any subject relating to the duties of his office.

(10) Administrative reorganization. The General Assembly shall prescribe the functions, powers, and duties of the administrative departments and agencies of the State and may alter them from time to time, but the Governor may make such changes in the allocation of offices and agencies and in the allocation of those functions, powers, and duties as he considers necessary for efficient administration. If those changes affect existing law, they shall be set forth in executive orders, which shall be submitted to the General Assembly not later than the sixtieth calendar day of its session, and shall become effective and shall have the force of law upon adjournment sine die of the session, unless specifically disapproved by resolution of either house of the General Assembly or specifically modified by joint resolution of both houses of the General Assembly.

Sec. 6. Duties of the Lieutenant Governor. The Lieutenant Governor shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate is equally divided. He shall perform such additional duties as the General Assembly or the Governor may assign to him. He shall receive the compensation and allowances prescribed by law.

Sec. 7. Other elective officers.

(1) Officers. A Secretary of State, an Auditor, a Treasurer, a Superintendent of Public Instruction, an Attorney General, a Commissioner of Agriculture, a Commissioner of Labor, and a Commissioner of Insurance shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State in 1972 and every four years thereafter, at the same time and places as members of the General Assembly are elected. Their term of office shall be four years and shall commence on the first day of January next after their election and continue until their successors are elected and qualified.

(2) Duties. Their respective duties shall be prescribed by law.

(3) Vacancies. If the office of any of these officers is vacated by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint another to serve until his successor is elected and qualified. Every such vacancy shall be filled by election at the first election for members of the General Assembly that occurs more than 30 days after the vacancy has taken place, and the person chosen shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term fixed in this Section. When a vacancy occurs in the office of any of the officers named in this Section and the term expires on the first day of January succeeding the next election for members of the General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the office.

(4) Interim officers. Upon the occurrence of a vacancy in the office of any one of these officers for any of the causes stated in the preceding paragraph, the Governor may appoint an interim officer to perform the duties of that office until a person is appointed or elected pursuant to this Section to fill the vacancy and is qualified.

(5) Acting officers. During the physical or mental incapacity of any one of these officers to perform the duties of his office, as determined pursuant to this Section, the duties of his office shall be performed by an acting officer who shall be appointed by the Governor.

(6) Determination of incapacity. The General Assembly shall by law prescribe with respect to those officers, other than the Governor, whose offices are created by this Article, procedures for determining the physical or mental incapacity of any officer to perform the duties of his office, and for determining whether an officer who has been temporarily incapacitated has sufficiently recovered his physical or mental capacity to perform the duties of his office. Removal of those officers from office for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

Sec. 8. Council of State. The Council of State shall consist of the officers whose offices are established by this Article.

Sec. 10. Seal of State. There shall be a seal of the State, which shall be kept by the Governor and used by him as occasion may require, and shall be called "The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina." All grants or commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of North Carolina, sealed with "The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina," and signed by the Governor.

Sec. 11. Administrative departments. Not later than July 1, 1975, all administrative departments, agencies, and offices of the State and their respective functions, powers, and duties shall be allocated by law among and within not more than 25 principal administrative departments so as to group them as far as practicable according to major purposes. Regulatory, quasi-judicial, and temporary agencies may, but need not, be allocated within a principal department.

ARTICLE IV

JUDICIAL

Section 1. Judicial power. The judicial power of the State shall, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, be vested in a Court for the Trial of Impeachments and in a General Court of Justice. The General Assembly shall have no power to deprive the judicial department of any power or jurisdiction that rightfully pertains to it as a coordinate department of the government, nor shall it establish or authorize any courts other than as permitted by this Article.

Sec. 2. General Court of Justice. The General Court of Justice shall constitute a unified judicial system for purposes of jurisdiction, operation, and administration, and shall consist of an Appellate Division, a Superior Court Division, and a District Court Division.

Sec. 3. Judicial powers of administrative agencies. The General Assembly may vest in administrative agencies established pursuant to law such judicial powers as may be reasonably necessary as an incident to the accomplishment of the purposes for which the agencies were created. Appeals from administrative agencies shall be to the General Court of Justice.

Sec. 4. Court for the Trial of Impeachments. The House of Representatives solely shall have the power of impeaching. The Court for the Trial of Impeachments shall be the Senate. When the Governor or Lieutenant Governor is impeached, the Chief Justice shall preside over the Court. A majority of the members shall be necessary to a quorum, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the Senators present. Judgment upon conviction shall not extend beyond removal from and disqualification to hold office in this State, but the party shall be liable to indictment and punishment according to law.

Sec. 5. Appellate division. The Appellate Division of the General Court of Justice shall consist of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals.

Sec. 6. Supreme Court.

(1) Membership. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and six Associate Justices, but the General Assembly may increase the number of Associate Justices to not more than eight. In the event the Chief Justice is unable, on account of absence or temporary incapacity, to perform any of the duties placed upon him, the senior Associate Justice available may discharge those duties.

(2) Sessions of the Supreme Court. The sessions of the Supreme Court shall be held in the City of Raleigh unless otherwise provided by the General Assembly.

Sec. 7. Court of Appeals. The structure, organization, and composition of the Court of Appeals shall be determined by the General Assembly. The Court shall have not less than five members, and may be authorized to sit in divisions, or other than en banc. Sessions of the Court shall be held at such times and places as the General Assembly may prescribe.

Sec. 8. Retirement of Justices and Judges. The General Assembly shall provide by general law for the retirement of Justices and Judges of the General Court of Justice, and may provide for the temporary recall of any retired Justice or Judge to serve on the court or courts of the division from which he was retired. The General Assembly shall also prescribe maximum age limits service as a Justice or Judge.

Sec. 9. Superior Courts.

(1) Superior Court districts. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, divide the State into a convenient number of Superior Court judicial districts and shall provide for the election of one or more Superior Court Judges for each district. Each regular Superior Court Judge shall reside in the district for which he is elected. The General Assembly may provide by general law for the selection or appointment of special or emergency Superior Court Judges not selected for a particular judicial district.

(2) Open at all times; sessions for trial of cases. The Superior Courts shall be open at all times for the transaction of all business except the trial of issues of fact requiring a jury. Regular trial sessions of the Superior Court shall be held at times fixed pursuant to a calendar of courts promulgated by the Supreme Court. At least two sessions for the trial of jury cases shall be held annually in each county.

(3) Clerks. A Clerk of the Superior Court for each county shall be elected for a term of four years by the qualified voters thereof, at the same time and places as members of the General Assembly are elected. If the office of Clerk of the Superior Court becomes vacant otherwise than by the expiration of the term, or if the people fail to elect, the senior regular resident Judge of the Superior Court serving the county shall appoint to fill the vacancy until an election can be regularly held.

Sec. 10. District Courts. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, divide the State into a convenient number of local court districts and shall prescribe where the District Courts shall sit, but a District Court must sit in at least one place in each county. District judges shall be elected for each district for a term of four years, in a manner prescribed by law. When more than one District Judge is authorized and elected for a district, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall designate one of the judges as Chief District Judge. Every District Judge shall reside in the district for which he is elected.

For each county, the senior regular resident Judge of the Superior Court serving the county shall appoint for a term of two years, from nominations submitted by the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county, one or more Magistrates who shall be officers of the District Court. The number of District Judges and Magistrates shall, from time to time, be determined by the General Assembly. Vacancies in the office of District Judge shall be filled for the unexpired term in a manner prescribed by law. Vacancies in the office of Magistrate shall be filled for the unexpired term in the manner provided for original appointment to the office.

Sec. 11. Assignment of Judges. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, acting in accordance with rules of the Supreme Court, shall make assignments of Judges of the Superior Court and may transfer District Judges from one district to another for temporary or specialized duty. The principle of rotating Superior Court Judges among the various districts of a division is a salutary one and shall be observed. For this purpose the General Assembly may divide the State into a number of judicial divisions. Subject to the general supervision of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, assignment of District Judges within each local court district shall be made by the Chief District Judge.

Sec. 12. Jurisdiction of the General Court of Justice.

(1) Supreme Court. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to review upon appeal any decision of the courts below, upon any matter of law or legal inference. The jurisdiction of the Supreme Court over "issues of fact" and "questions of fact" shall be the same exercised by it prior to the adoption of this Article, and the Court may issue any remedial writs necessary to give it general supervision and control over the proceedings of the other courts. The Supreme Court also has jurisdiction to review, when authorized by law, direct appeals from a final order or decision of the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

(2) Court of Appeals. The Court of Appeals shall have such appellate jurisdiction as the General Assembly may prescribe.

(3) Superior Court. Except as otherwise provided by the General Assembly, the Superior Court shall have original general jurisdiction throughout the State. (5) Waiver. The General Assembly may by general law provide that the jurisdictional limits may be waived in civil cases.

(6) Appeals. The General Assembly shall by general law provide a proper system of appeals. Appeals from Magistrates shall be heard de novo, with the right of trial by jury as defined in this Constitution and the laws of this State.

Sec. 13. Forms of action; rules of procedure.

(1) Forms of Action. There shall be in this State but one form of action for the enforcement or protection of private rights or the redress of private wrongs, which shall be denominated a civil action, and in which there shall be a right to have issues of fact tried before a jury. Every action prosecuted by the people of the State as a party against a person charged with a public offense, for the punishment thereof, shall be termed a criminal action.

(2) Rules of procedure. The Supreme Court shall have exclusive authority to make rules of procedure and practice for the Appellate Division. The General Assembly may make rules of procedure and practice for the Superior Court and District Court Divisions, and the General Assembly may delegate this authority to the Supreme Court. No rule of procedure or practice shall abridge substantive rights or abrogate or limit the right of trial by jury. If the General Assembly should delegate to the Supreme Court the rule-making power, the General Assembly may, nevertheless, alter, amend, or repeal any rule of procedure or practice adopted by the Supreme Court for the Superior Court or District Court Divisions.

Sec. 14 Waiver of jury trial. In all issues of fact joined in any court, the parties in any civil case may waive the right to have the issues determined by a jury, in which case the finding of the judge upon the facts shall have the force and effect of a verdict by a jury.

Sec. 15. Administration. The General Assembly shall provide for an administrative office of the courts to carry out the provisions of this Article.

Sec. 16. Terms of office and election of Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and Judges of the Superior Court. Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and regular Judges of the Superior Court shall be elected by the qualified voters and shall hold office for terms of eight years and until their successors are elected and qualified. Justices of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Court of Appeals shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State. Regular Judges of the Superior Court may be elected by the qualified voters of the State or by the voters of their respective districts, as the General Assembly may prescribe.

Sec. 17. Removal of Judges, Magistrates and Clerks.

(1) Removal of Judges by the General Assembly. Any Justice or Judge of the General Court of Justice may be removed from office for mental or physical incapacity by joint resolution of two-thirds of all the members of each house of the General Assembly. Any Justice or Judge against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied by a copy of the causes alleged for his removal, at least 20 days before the day on which either house of the General Assembly shall act thereon. Removal from office by the General Assembly for any other cause shall be by impeachment.

(2) Additional method of removal of Judges. The General Assembly shall prescribe a procedure, in addition to impeachment and address set forth in this Section, for the removal of a Justice or Judge of the General Court of Justice for mental or physical incapacity interfering with the performance of his duties which is, or is likely to become, permanent, and for the censure and removal of a Justice or Judge of the General Court of Justice for wilful misconduct in office, wilful and persistent failure to perform his duties, habitual intemperance, conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, or conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute.

(3) Removal of Magistrates. The General Assembly shall provide by general law for the removal of Magistrates for misconduct or mental or physical incapacity.

(4) Removal of Clerks. Any Clerk of the Superior Court may be removed from office for misconduct or mental or physical incapacity by the senior regular resident Superior Court Judge serving the county. Any Clerk against whom proceedings are instituted shall receive written notice of the charges against him at least ten days before the hearing upon the charges. Any Clerk so removed from office shall be entitled to an appeal as provided by law.

Sec. 18. District Attorney and Prosecutorial Districts.

(1) District Attorneys. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, divide the State into a convenient number of prosecutorial districts, for each of which a District Attorney shall be chosen for a term of four years by the qualified voters thereof, at the same time and places as members of the General Assembly are elected. The District Attorney shall advise the officers of justice in his district, be responsible for the prosecution on behalf of the State of all criminal actions in the Superior Courts of his district, perform such duties related to appeals therefrom as the Attorney General may require, and perform such other duties as the General Assembly may prescribe.

(2) Prosecution in District Court Division. Criminal actions in the District Court Division shall be prosecuted in such manner as the General Assembly may prescribe by general law uniformly applicable in every local court district of the State.

Sec. 19. Vacancies. Unless otherwise provided in this Article, all vacancies occurring in the offices provided for by this Article shall be filled by appointment of the Governor, and the appointees shall hold their places until the next election for members of the General Assembly that is held more than 30 days after the vacancy occurs, when elections shall be held to fill the offices. When the unexpired term of any of the offices named in this Article of the Constitution in which a vacancy has occurred, and in which it is herein provided that the Governor shall fill the vacancy, expires on the first day of January succeeding the next election for members of the General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint to fill that vacancy for the unexpired term of the office. If any person elected or appointed to any of these offices shall fail to qualify, the office shall be appointed to, held, and filled as provided in case of vacancies occurring therein. All incumbents of these offices shall hold until their successors are qualified.

Sec. 20. Revenues and expenses of the judicial department. The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment of a schedule of court fees and costs which shall be uniform throughout the State within each division of the General Court of Justice. The operating expenses of the judicial department, other than compensation to process servers and other locally paid non-judicial officers, shall be paid from State funds.

Sec. 21. Fees, salaries, and emoluments. The General Assembly shall prescribe and regulate the fees, salaries, and emoluments of all officers provided for in this Article, but the salaries of Judges shall not be diminished during their continuance in office. In no case shall the compensation of any Judge or Magistrate be dependent upon his decision or upon the collection of costs.

Sec. 22. Qualification of Justices and Judges. Only persons duly authorized to practice law in the courts of this State shall be eligible for election or appointment as a Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Court of Appeals, Judge of the Superior Court, or Judge of District Court. This section shall not apply to persons elected to or serving in such capacities on or before January 1, 1981.

(2) If a recall petition shall be certified by the Clerk to be sufficient he shall at once submit it to the Board of Aldermen with his certificate to that effect and shall notify the officer whose removal is sought of such action. If the officer whose removal is sought does not resign within five days after such notice the Board of Aldermen shall thereupon order and fix a day for holding a recall election. Any such election shall be held not less than 70 nor more than 100 days after the petition has been certified to the Board of Aldermen, and it may be held at the same time as any other general or special election within such period; but if no other election is to be held within such period the Board of Aldermen shall call a special recall election to be held within the time aforesaid.

If a majority of such votes be for the recall of the officer designated on the ballot, he shall, regardless of any defects in the recall petition, be deemed removed from office.

(6) If an officer in regard to whom a sufficient recall petition is submitted to the Board of Aldermen shall resign before the election, or be removed as a result thereof, the vacancy so caused shall be filled in the manner provided by this Charter for filling vacancies in such office, except as provided in subdivision (8) of this section. But an officer removed by the voters as the result of a recall election or resigning after a sufficient petition for his recall has been submitted to the Board of Aldermen, shall not be reelected to fill the vacancy caused by his own removal or resignation.

(7) No recall petition shall be filed against an officer within three months after he takes office, nor, in case of an officer subjected to a recall election and not removed thereby, until at least six months after that election.

(8) If the recall of a majority of the members of the Board of Commissioners shall be effected at a single recall election, the successors of the officers recalled shall be elected by the registered, qualified voters of the Town at a special municipal election, and said successors shall serve for the unexpired part of the terms of the officers recalled. The members of the Board of Aldermen who have not been recalled are empowered to call said special election and to make all necessary provisions regarding the same in conformity to the Constitution and general laws of North Carolina. If the recall of all of the members of the Board of Aldermen shall be effected at a single recall election, they shall be continued in office for the purpose, and only for the purpose, of calling a special municipal election for the election of their successors as above provided, and of ascertaining and declaring the result thereof.

(b) In the special election, those voters who favor the incorporation of the Town of Cajah Mountain as provided in this act shall vote a ballot upon which shall be printed the words: "FOR Incorporation of the Town of Cajah Mountain"; and those voters who are opposed to the incorporation of the Town of Cajah Mountain as provided in this act shall vote a ballot upon which shall be printed the words "AGAINST Incorporation of the Town of Cajah Mountain".

If the majority of the votes cast in such special election shall be cast "AGAINST Incorporation of the Town of Cajah Mountain", then the provisions of Sections 1 and 2 of this act shall have no force and effect.

Whereas, the tracts of the land hereinafter described were acquired by the City of Albemarle in 1955 and 1962. The tracts adjoin the site of an industrial facility operated by Collins and Aikman Corporation and until 1980 were used by the City of Albemarle as a settling basin in pretreating waste from the industrial facility prior to discharge into the city wastewater collection system; and

If the Commission finds probable cause that a licensee has violated any of the provisions of this Chapter, the Commission may hold a hearing on the allegations of misconduct.

All such hearings shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 150A of the General Statutes. The Commission shall have power to suspend or revoke at any time a license issued under the provisions of this Chapter, or to reprimand or censure any licensee, if, following a hearing, the Commission adjudges the licensee to be guilty of:

(1) Making any willful or negligent misrepresentation or any willful or negligent omission of material fact;

(3) The licensee has violated any of the provisions of G.S. 93A-6(a) when selling, leasing, or buying his own property; or

(4) The broker's unlicensed employee, who is exempt from the provisions of this Chapter under G.S. 93A-2(c)(6), has committed, in the regular course of business, any act which, if committed by the broker, would constitute a violation of G.S. 93A-6(a) for which the broker could be disciplined.

(c) The Commission may appear in its own name in superior court in actions for injunctive relief to prevent any person from violating the provisions of this Chapter or rules promulgated by the Commission. The superior court shall have the power to grant these injunctions even if criminal prosecution has been or may be instituted as a result of the violations, or whether the person is a licensee of the Commission.

(d) Each broker shall maintain complete records showing the deposit, maintenance, and withdrawal of money or other property owned by his principals or held in escrow or in trust for his principals. S. B. 144 CHAPTER 85

AN ACT TO PROMOTE FAIR COMMERCIAL PRACTICES IN THE WHOLESALE WINE INDUSTRY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 18B-1106, 18B-1107, and 18B-1110 are each amended by designating the present language as subsection "(a) Authorization." and adding a new subsection to read:

"(b) Distribution Agreements. Wine distribution agreements are governed by Article 12 of this Chapter."

Sec. 2. Chapter 18B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"ARTICLE 12.

"Wine Distribution Agreements.

"§ 18B-1200. Construction; findings and purpose.—(a) This Article shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies.

(b) The underlying purposes and policies of the Article are:

(1) To promote the compelling interest of the public in fair business relations between wine wholesalers and wineries, and in the continuation of wine wholesaleships on a fair basis;

(2) To protect wine wholesalers against unfair treatment by wineries;

(3) To provide wine wholesalers with rights and remedies in addition to those existing by contract or common law; and

(4) To govern all wine wholesaleships, including any renewals or amendments, to the full extent consistent with the Constitution of this State and the United States.

(c) The effect of this Article may not be waived or varied by contract or agreement. Any contract or agreement purporting to do so is void and unenforceable to the extent of that waiver or variance.

"§ 18B-1201. Definitions.—As used in this Article, unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) 'Agreement' means a commercial relationship between a wine wholesaler and a winery. The agreement may be of a definite or indefinite duration and is not required to be in writing. Any of the following constitutes prima facie evidence of an 'agreement' within the meaning of this definition:

a. A relationship whereby the wine wholesaler is granted the right to offer and sell a brand offered by a winery;

b. A relationship whereby the wine wholesaler, as an independent business, constitutes a component of a winery's distribution system;

c. A relationship whereby the wine wholesaler's business is substantially associated with a brand offered by a winery;

d. A relationship whereby the wine wholesaler's business is substantially reliant on a winery for the continued supply of wine;

e. The shipment, preparation for shipment, or acceptance of any order by any winery or its agent for any wine or beverages to a wine wholesaler within this State;

f. The payment by a wine wholesaler and the acceptance of payment by any winery or its agent for the shipment of any order of wine or beverages intended for sale within this State.

(2) 'Wine wholesaler' means any holder of a wine wholesaler permit, wine importer permit, or bottler permit issued under the authority of this Chapter.

(3) 'Winery' means any holder of an unfortified winery permit, fortified winery permit, limited winery permit, or nonresident wine vendor permit issued under the authority of this Chapter who sells at least 1,000 cases of wine in North Carolina per year.

(4) 'Territory' or 'sales territory' means the area of primary sales responsibility expressly or implicitly designated by any agreement between any wine wholesaler and winery for a brand offered by any winery. The term 'area of primary sales responsibility' may not be construed as restricting sales or sales efforts by any wine wholesaler attempting to sell wines within any designated sales territory.

"§ 18B-1202. No inducement, coercion, or discrimination.—No winery may:

(1) Induce, coerce, or attempt to induce or coerce any wine wholesaler to accept delivery of any alcoholic beverage or any other commodity which has not been ordered by the wine wholesaler;

(2) Induce, coerce, or attempt to induce or coerce any wine wholesaler to do any illegal act by any means, including threatening to amend, cancel, terminate, or refuse to renew any agreement existing between a winery and a wine wholesaler;

(3) Require a wine wholesaler to assent to any condition, stipulation, or provision limiting the wholesaler in his privilege to sell a product offered by any other winery;

(4) Unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, sex, religion, or national origin in awarding or maintaining agreements covered by this Article. Wineries who contract with wholesalers in this State shall make reasonable efforts to establish and maintain agreements with wholesalers who are females and members of minority groups.

"§ 18B-1203. Primary area of responsibility.—(a) Each agreement shall designate a sales territory of the wholesaler. No winery may enter into more than one agreement for each brand of wine or beverage it offers in any territory unless the Commission, using the standards of G.S. 18B-1204(4), orders otherwise. Territories served by a wine wholesaler on the effective date of this Article are designated sales territories within the meaning of this section. Within 30 days of the effective date of this Article, each winery shall notify the Commission in writing of all designations of sales territories as of the effective date of this Article. Redesignations occurring after the effective date of this Article shall be reported to the Commission within 30 days. No provisions of this Article, however, may prohibit the continuation of a multi-wholesaler agreement entered into before the effective date of this Article as between the winery and the original wine wholesalers thereto.

(b) This section may not be construed as restricting sales or sales efforts by any wine wholesaler attempting to sell wines within any designated sales territory.

"§ 18B-1204. Cancellation.—Notwithstanding the terms, provisions, or conditions of any agreement, no winery may amend, cancel, terminate, or refuse to continue to renew any agreement, or cause a wholesaler to resign from an agreement, unless good cause exists for amendment, termination, cancellation, nonrenewal, noncontinuation, or resignation. 'Good cause' does not include a change in ownership of a winery. 'Good cause' does include:

(1) Revocation of the wholesaler's permit or license to do business in this State;

(2) Bankruptcy or receivership of the wholesaler;

(3) Assignment for the benefit of creditors or similar disposition of the assets of the wholesaler; or

(4) Failure of the wholesaler to comply substantially, without reasonable excuse or justification, with any reasonable and material requirement imposed upon him by the winery, including a substantial failure by a wine wholesaler to:

(i) maintain a sales volume of the brands offered by the winery, or

(ii) render services comparable in quality, quantity, or volume to the sales volumes maintained and services rendered by other wholesalers of the same brands within the State.

In any determination as to whether a wholesaler has failed to comply substantially, without reasonable excuse or justification, with any reasonable and material requirement imposed upon him by the winery, consideration shall be given to the relative size, population, geographical location, number of retail outlets, demand for the products applicable to the territory of the wholesaler in question and to comparable territories, and any reasonable sales quota set by the agreement. The burden of proving good cause for amendment, termination, cancellation, nonrenewal, noncontinuation, or resignation is on the winery.

"§ 18B-1205. Notice of intent to terminate.—(a) Except as provided in subsection (c), a winery shall provide a wholesaler at least 90 days prior written notice of any intention to amend, terminate, cancel, or not renew any agreement. The notice, a copy of which shall be mailed at the same time to the Commission, shall state all the reasons for the intended amendment, termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal.

(b) When the reasons relate to conditions that can be rectified by the wholesaler, he has 60 days in which to do so. If the wholesaler rectifies the conditions within the 60-day period, he shall give written notice thereof to the winery and to the Commission. If the wholesaler has rectified the conditions, the proposed amendment, termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal is void, except that when the winery contends that the wholesaler has not completely rectified the conditions, the winery may, within 15 days after the expiration of the 60-day period, request a hearing before the Commission to determine if the wholesaler has rectified all the conditions.

(c) When the reasons relate to conditions that cannot be rectified by the wholesaler within the 60-day period, the wholesaler may request a hearing before the Commission to determine if the winery has good cause for the amendment, termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the agreement. The burden of proving good cause for the amendment, termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal is on the winery.

(d) Upon receiving a written request from the winery or wholesaler for a hearing, the Commission shall, after notice and hearing, determine if the wholesaler has rectified the conditions or if good cause exists for the amendment, termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the agreement, as appropriate. In any case in which a petition is made to the Commission for such a determination, the agreement in question shall continue in effect, pending the Commission's decision and any judicial review thereof.

(e) In all proceedings before the Commission, the Commission shall ensure that no agreements covered by this Article result in unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, sex, religion, or national origin.

(f) No notice is required and an agreement may be immediately terminated, amended, canceled, or allowed to expire if the reason for the amendment, termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal is:

(1) The bankruptcy or receivership of the wholesaler;

(2) An assignment for the benefit of creditors or similar disposition of the assets of the business; or

(3) Revocation of the wholesaler's permit or license.

"§ 18B-1206. Transfer of business.—(a) No winery may unreasonably withhold or delay consent to any transfer of the wholesaler's business or transfer of the stock or other interest in the wholesaleship whenever the wholesaler to be substituted meets the material and reasonable qualifications and standards required of the winery's wholesalers.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (a), no winery may withhold consent to, or in any manner retain a right of prior approval of, the transfer of the wholesaler's business to a member or members of the family of the wholesaler. Subsequent to such a transfer, the rights and obligations of the wholesaleship and its owners are in all respects governed by the provisions of this Chapter. As used in this subsection, 'family' means the spouse, parents, siblings, and lineal descendants, including those by adoption, of the wholesaler.

"§ 18B-1207. Judicial remedies.—(a) If a winery violates any provision of this Article, a wholesaler may maintain a suit against the winery. The court may grant injunctive and other appropriate relief, including damages to compensate the wholesaler for the value of the agreement and any good will, to remedy violations of this Article.

(b) Any winery that amends, cancels, terminates, or refuses to renew any wine agreement, or causes a wholesaler to resign from an agreement shall compensate the wine wholesaler for the wine wholesaler's wine inventory. The amount of compensation shall include the F.O.B. costs of the wine inventory and any freight charges incurred by the wine wholesaler in receiving them.

"§ 18B-1208. Price of product.—No winery, whether by means of a term or condition of an agreement or otherwise, may directly or indirectly fix or maintain the prices at which the wholesaler may sell any wine or beverage.

"§ 18B-1209. Retaliatory action prohibited.—No winery may take retaliatory action against a wholesaler who files or manifests an intention to file a complaint alleging that the winery violated a State or federal law or rule. Retaliatory action includes refusal without good cause to continue the agreement or a material reduction in the quality of service or quantity of products available to the wholesaler under the agreement.

"§ 18B-1210. Management.—No winery may require or prohibit any change in management or personnel of any wholesaler unless the current or potential management or personnel fails to meet reasonable qualifications and standards required by the winery.

"§ 18B-1211. No discrimination.—No winery may discriminate among its wholesalers in any business dealings, including the price of wine sold to the wholesaler, unless the classification among its wholesalers is based upon reasonable grounds.

"§ 18B-1212. No waiver.—No winery may require any wholesaler to waive compliance with any provision of this Chapter. Nothing in this Chapter, however, may be construed to limit or prohibit good faith settlements of disputes voluntarily entered into between the parties.

"§ 18B-1213. Obligations of purchaser.—The purchaser of a winery is obligated to all the terms and conditions of an agreement in effect on the date of the purchase, except for good cause, which includes,

(i) revocation of the wholesaler's permit or license to do business in this State,

(ii) bankruptcy or insolvency of the wholesaler,

(iii) assignment for the benefit of creditors or similar disposition of the assets of the wholesaler, or

(iv) failure by the wholesaler to comply substantially, without reasonable excuse or justification, with any reasonable and material requirement imposed upon him by the winery.

As used in this Article, 'purchase' includes the sale of stock, sale of assets, merger, lease, transfer, or consolidation.

"§ 18B-1214. Prohibited practices enumerated.—It is a violation of this Article for any winery, directly or indirectly, to engage in any of the following practices:

(1) To restrict the sale of any equity or indebtedness or the transfer of any securities of any wholesaler or in any way prevent or attempt to prevent the transfer, sale, or issuance of shares of stock or indebtedness to employees, personnel of the wholesaler, or heirs of the principal owner, as long as basic financial requirements of the winery are complied with and the sale, transfer, or issuance does not have the effect of accomplishing a sale of the wholesaler;

(2) To impose unreasonable standards of performance upon a wholesaler;

(3) To prohibit directly or indirectly the right of free association among wholesalers for any lawful purpose.

"§ 18B-1215. Intent of nondiscrimination.—It is the intent of this Article that there shall be no unlawful discrimination based on race, color, creed, sex, religion, or national origin in any aspect of the awarding or maintaining of agreements covered by this Article.

"§ 18B-1216. Relation of Article to other laws.—Nothing in this Article relieves a winery or wholesaler of any obligation, duty, or prohibition imposed by any other provision of this Chapter or by G.S. 75-1.1 or by any other provision of State law, and the remedies provided in this Article are nonexclusive."

Sec. 3. If any provision of this act is declared invalid or unenforceable, that invalidity or unenforceability does not affect the remaining provisions of this act, and to that end the provisions of this act are severable.

Sec. 4. This act is effective upon ratification.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 21st day of March, 1983.

If this vacancy is in a position filled by an appointee nominated by the chief administrators of domiciliary homes within the county, then the county commissioners shall fill the vacancy from persons nominated by a majority of the chief administrators. If the domiciliary home administrators fail to make a nomination by registered mail within 45 days after written notification has been sent to them requesting a nomination, such appointment may be made without nominations. Any county commissioner who is appointed to the committee shall be deemed to be serving on the committee in an ex officio capacity. Members of the committee shall serve without compensation, but may be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred by them in the performance of their duties. The names of the committee members and the date of expiration of their terms shall be filed with the Division of Aging, Department of Human Resources.

(h) The Division of Aging, Department of Human Resources, shall develop training materials, which shall be distributed to each committee member. Each committee member must receive training as specified by the Division of Aging prior to exercising any power under G.S. 131D-32. The Division of Aging, Department of Human Resources, shall provide the committees with information, guidelines, training, and consultation to direct them in the performance of their duties."

The names of all complaining persons and the names of residents involved in the complaint shall remain confidential unless written permission is given for disclosure. The committee shall notify the enforcement agency of all verified violations of the Domiciliary Home Residents' Bill of Rights.

(f) The committee or subcommittee may communicate through the committee chair with the Department of Human Resources, the county Department of Social Services, or any other agency in relation to the interest of any resident.

(g) Each committee shall quarterly visit the homes for the aged and disabled it serves. For each official quarterly visit, a majority of the committee members shall be present. A minimum of three members of the committee shall make at least one visit annually to each family care home and group home for developmentally disabled adults present in the county. In addition, each committee may visit the domiciliary homes it serves whenever it deems it necessary to carry out its duties. In counties with subcommittees, the subcommittee assigned to a home shall perform the duties of the committee under this subsection, and a majority of the subcommittee members must be present for any visit. When visits are made to group homes for developmentally disabled adults, rules concerning confidentiality as adopted by the Commission for Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Services shall apply.

(h) The individual members of the committee shall have the right between 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. to enter the facility the committee serves in order to carry out the members' responsibilities. In a county where subcommittees have been established, this right of access shall be limited to members of the subcommittee which serves that home. A majority of the committee or subcommittee members must be present to enter the facility at other hours. Before entering any domiciliary home, the committee or members of the committee shall identify themselves to the person present at the facility who is in charge of the facility at that time.

(i) The committee shall prepare reports as required by the Department of Human Resources containing an appraisal of the problems of domiciliary care facilities as well as issues affecting long-term care in general. The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Section 300 of the Charter of the City of Rocky Mount, being Chapter 938 of the 1963 Session Laws is amended by adding the following new language at the end:

"The City Council is hereby empowered, in accordance with the conditions and procedure specified in this act, by ordinance to regulate in any portion or portions of the City of Rocky Mount, including those portions of Nash and Edgecombe Counties in which it has extraterritorial zoning authority, the uses of buildings and structures for trade, industry, residence, recreation, public activities or other purposes, and the uses of land for trade, industry, residence, recreation, agriculture, water supply conservation, soil conservation, forestry or other purposes.

For any or all these purposes, the City may divide its territorial jurisdiction into districts of any number, shape, and area that may be deemed best suited to carry out the purposes of this section; and within those districts it may regulate and restrict the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair or use of buildings, structures, or land. All regulations shall be uniform for each class or kind of building throughout each district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts; provided, however, that the City may provide for the creation of conditional use districts in addition to general use districts.

It is the purpose and intent of this section to permit the City of Rocky Mount to create general use districts in which a variety of uses are permitted, and to also create conditional use districts in which a single use, or a limited number of uses, is permitted upon the issuance by the City Council of a conditional use permit prescribing the conditions under which such use or uses will be permitted. Each conditional use district created shall correspond to a general use district and the use or uses permitted pursuant to the conditional use permit must be a use allowed in the corresponding general use district.

Any person petitioning for rezoning of a tract of land, where conditional use districts are authorized by ordinance, may elect to request general use district zoning for said tract, or he may elect to request conditional use district zoning for said tract.

If he elects to petition for general use district zoning, he may not refer, either in his petition or at any hearings related to the petition, to the use or uses intended for the property upon rezoning. The City Council may not consider the intended use or uses in determining whether to approve or disapprove the petition, but shall consider the full range of uses permitted within the requested general use district. If the petition is approved, the rezoned property may be used for any of the uses permitted in the applicable general use district.

If the petitioner elects to petition for conditional use district zoning, the petition must specify the actual use or uses intended for the property specified in the petition, and the intended use or uses must be a use permitted in the corresponding general use district. If the petition is for conditional use district zoning, the City Council shall approve or disapprove the petition on the basis of the specific use or uses requested. If more than one use is requested in a petition for conditional use district zoning, the City Council may approve all the uses requested, fewer than all uses requested, or a single use. If the petition is approved, the City Council shall issue a conditional use permit authorizing the requested use or uses with such reasonable conditions as the City Council determines will promote the public health, safety and general welfare.

The conditions contained in a conditional use permit issued by the City Council may include: location of the proposed use on the property; the number of dwelling units; the location and extent of support facilities such as parking lots, driveways, and access streets; location and extent of buffer areas and other special purpose areas; the timing of development; and such other matters as the City Council determines will promote the public health, safety and general welfare, provided; however, that such condition shall not include architectural review or controls.

It is the further intent of this section to permit the creation of districts for specific uses and the imposition of reasonable conditions in order to secure the public health, safety and welfare, and insure that substantial justice be done."

Any property sold in accordance with this subsection shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at a price not less than the fair market value thereof, as fixed by the Commission. All conveyances made under the authority of this subsection shall contain restrictive convenants limiting the use of property so conveyed to the designated purpose for which the conveyance is made.'

b. G.S. 160A-514(d) is amended by inserting the following at the end: 'Regardless of the preceding provisions, the Commission may reject the highest responsible bid and accept a lesser bid where it makes the following specific findings and where such findings are verified and approved by the governing body of the municipality after a public hearing advertised in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 160A-513: The general public welfare and proper development of the community will be better served by the bid which was accepted than by the higher bid or bids which were rejected, for one or more of the following reasons:

(1) The proposed use or development of the land under the successful bid will result in an assessed valuation for ad valorem taxation greater than that of the use or uses proposed by the higher bidders;

(2) The proposed use or development of the land under the successful bid will have a substantially greater beneficial effect upon neighboring property, the project area, and the community as a whole than the use or uses proposed by the higher bidders and will tend to induce greater investment in the development of other property in the area;

(3) The proposed use or development of the land under the successful bid will facilitate the relocation of families where required by law to a substantially greater degree than the use or uses proposed by the higher bidders.'

c. G.S. 160A-514(d) is amended by inserting the following clause between the word 'section' and the word 'provided' in line 16: 'or to a developer under the special circumstances set forth in subdivision (6) of subsection (e).'

'(6) Convey at private sale to any other redeveloper particular properties within a redevelopment area where it finds the proposed redeveloper is the only known available, qualified and willing redeveloper for the contemplated use and makes one or more of the following findings and all such findings are verified and approved by the governing body of the municipality after a public hearing, notice of which shall be given once a week for two successive calendar weeks in a newspaper published in the municipality, said notice to be published the first time, not less than 15 days prior to the date fixed for said hearing:

a. that the proposed use or redevelopment is necessary in order to facilitate the relocation of families where required by law;

b. that the proposed use or redevelopment is reasonably necessary in order to assure development which will have the desired beneficial effect upon neighboring property, the project area and the community as a whole, as contemplated by the redevelopment plan;

c. that the proposed use or redevelopment will assure that the property will not remain unused for an unduly long period and will result in a return to the local ad valorem rolls at a substantially earlier date than uses or redevelopment obtainable by other methods of disposition.

Such conveyance shall be for such consideration as may be agreed upon by the Commission and the redeveloper and approved by the governing body of the municipality, which shall not be less than the fair, actual value of the property as determined by the Commission and by the governing body of the municipality, based on competent evidence.'

(2) If the property was acquired by the City directly, the City may convey property interests by (i) any procedure set forth in its City Charter, special act or the general law, or (ii) by private negotiation or sale.

"Sec. 8.24. Construction of the project. A contract between the City and the developer or developers may provide that the developer or developers shall be responsible for the construction of the entire economic development project. If so, the contract shall include such provisions as the City Council deems sufficient to assure that any public facilities included in the project meet the needs of the City and are constructed at a reasonable price. Any funds loaned by the City, pursuant to this paragraph, to a private developer, and used by said developer in the construction of a project on private property shall not be deemed an expenditure of public funds.

"Sec. 8.25. Operation. The City may contract for the operation of any public facility or facilities included in an economic development project by a person, partnership, firm or corporation, public or private. In addition, the City, upon consideration, may contract through lease or otherwise whereby it may operate privately constructed parking facilities to serve the general public. Such a contract shall include provisions sufficient to assure that any such facility or facilities are operated for the benefit of the citizens of the City."

S. B. 151 CHAPTER 257

AN ACT TO COMMEMORATE THE DATE OF THE ADOPTION OF THE HALIFAX RESOLVES ON THE GREAT SEAL OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Whereas, April 12, 1983, is the 207th anniversary of the occasion on which the Fourth North Carolina Provincial Congress adopted the famous Halifax Resolves; and

Whereas, the Halifax Resolves authorized the North Carolina delegates to the Continental Congress at Philadelphia to concur with the delegates of other colonies in a declaration of independence from the British Empire; and

Whereas, the Halifax Resolves was the first authoritative, explicit declaration, by any colony in favor of full, final separation from Britain; and

Whereas, the members of the Fourth Provincial Congress were already determined on the course of independence and knew other colonies were likewise so determined; and

Whereas, the said members forbore to take unilaterally an action which they conceived ought to be taken by all 13 colonies acting in unison; and

Whereas, by such forbearance they set the example for American unity in defense of American liberty; and

Whereas, such examples led ultimately to the winning of American independence and to the establishment of the oldest surviving constitutional republic in the world; and

Whereas, the examples set at Halifax on April 12, 1776, ought ever to be an inspiration and model for all North Carolinians and Americans; and

Whereas, April 12 of every year has been designated as Halifax Day; and

Whereas, the importance of the adoption of the Halifax Resolves to this State and Nation is emphasized by placing the date of their adoption on the flag of North Carolina along with the date of the signing of another great document of freedom—The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence; and

Whereas, the date of the adoption of the Halifax Resolves ought to be commemorated on the Great Seal of North Carolina as a constant reminder of the people of this State's commitment to liberty;

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. The third sentence of the second paragraph of G.S. 147-26 is deleted and the following inserted:

"The date 'May 20, 1775' shall appear within the seal and across the top of the seal. The date 'April 12, 1776' shall appear within the seal and across the bottom of the seal. The words 'esse quam videri' shall appear at the bottom around the perimeter."

Sec. 2. This act shall not invalidate any Seal presently on display or heretofore used.

Sec. 3. This act shall become effective on January 1, 1984.

"§ 74-77. Permit requirement.—No person shall engage in exploration activity for the discovery of uranium without having first obtained from the Department an exploration permit which covers the affected land and which has not terminated, been revoked, or otherwise become invalid.

"§ 74-78. Permits, application, granting, terms, duration, renewal.—(a) A person desiring to engage in exploration activities for discovery of uranium shall make written application to the Department for an exploration permit. An application shall be upon a form furnished by the Department and shall fully state the information called for. In addition, the applicant may be required to furnish any other information the Department deems necessary in order to enforce this Article.

The application shall be accompanied by a signed agreement, in form specified by the Department, that in the event a bond or other security forfeiture is ordered pursuant to G.S. 74-81, the Department and its representatives and contractors may make any necessary entries on the land and take any necessary action to carry out abandonment procedures not completed by the permit holder.

The Department shall also notify the Radiation Protection Commission of the Department of Human Resources of the application and request its views and comments on the application.

The applicant shall make a reasonable effort, satisfactory to the Department, to notify all owners of record of land adjoining the proposed site and the chief administrative officer of the county or municipality in which the proposed site is located that he intends to explore for uranium on the site.

(b) The Department shall deny an application upon finding:

(1) That the proposed exploration activity will or is likely to violate any requirement of this Article or any rule promulgated under it; or

(2) That the person seeking to conduct the exploration activity has not corrected all violations which he committed under a prior uranium exploration permit. In the absence of any such findings, a permit shall be granted.

The Department shall grant or deny the permit as expeditiously as possible, but in no event later than 60 days after the filing of the application and of any reasonably required supplementary information.

(c) A permit may be conditioned upon any reasonable requirements and safeguards the Department deems necessary to assure that exploration activity will comply fully with the requirements and objectives of this Article and of other applicable State environmental and public health laws.

The Department shall set the amount of the performance bond or other security required pursuant to G.S. 74-79. The applicant shall have 30 days following the mailing of notification of the bond or security requirement in which to deposit the required bond or security with the Department. The exploration permit shall be issued upon timely receipt of this deposit.

(d) Exploration permits shall be valid for a period of one year. Permits may be renewed annually upon a showing that the person conducting exploration activity has complied with this Article, the rules promulgated under it, and the terms of his permit. Renewal applications shall be upon a form furnished by the Department and shall state the information called for, as well as other information the Department deems necessary.

"§ 74-79. Bonds.—Each applicant for an exploration permit shall file with the Department following approval of his application and shall thereafter maintain in force a bond or other security in favor of the State of North Carolina. The bond or other security shall be acceptable to the Department and shall be in an amount determined by the Department based upon a schedule established by the Commission. That schedule shall provide for bond or other security at a level that will allow the Department, through whatever reasonable means it chooses, to perform the abandonment and other work required by this Article. The bond or other security shall be continuous in nature and shall remain in force until cancelled by the guarantor. Cancellation shall be effectuated upon written notice thereof by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the Department and to the permit holder, and shall be effective no sooner than 60 days following receipt by the Department and the operator.

The bond or other security shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this Article and of the rules adopted pursuant to it. Liability under the bond or other security shall remain in effect until completion of abandonment or until substitution of a good and sufficient bond or other security acceptable to the Department. In no event shall the liability of the surety exceed the amount of the bond or other security required by this section.

If notice of impending cancellation is issued by the surety, or if for any reason, the bond or other security provided is suspended or revoked or ceases to be effective, the permit holder shall, within 30 days of receipt of notice thereof, substitute a good and sufficient bond or other security acceptable to the Department. Upon failure of the permit holder to make the required substitution, his permit shall automatically become void and of no effect. Any continuation of exploration after the permit becomes void and ineffective shall make him subject to all sanctions and remedies afforded by this Article.

"§ 74-80. Abandonment.—All exploration holes shall be abandoned by adequately plugging them with cement from the bottom of the hole upward to a point three feet below ground surface. The remainder of the hole between the top of the plug and the surface shall be filled with cuttings or nontoxic material.

If multiple aquifers are encountered that have alternating usable quality water and salt water zones, or if other conditions determined by the Department to be potentially deleterious to surface or ground water are encountered, the conditions must be isolated immediately by cement plugs. Each such hole shall be plugged with cement to prevent water from flowing into or out of the hole or mixing within the hole. Usable quality water is ground water that is used or can be used for a beneficial purpose, including, domestic, livestock, irrigation or industrial uses.

Alternative plugging procedures and materials may be utilized when the applicant has demonstrated to the Department's satisfaction that the alternatives will protect ground waters and comply with the provisions of this Article. In the event that a hole is more suitably plugged with a nonporous material other than cement, the material shall have sealing and lasting characteristics at least equal to cement.

All other excavations or disturbances made in connection with exploration activities shall be adequately reclaimed so as to protect the natural resources of the surrounding area and to prevent the release of toxic substances.

Abandonment shall be undertaken as soon as practicable after exploration, except if multiple aquifers or other conditions potentially deleterious to surface or ground water are encountered. In any event, all abandonment shall be accomplished no later than 30 days following completion of exploration activity in an area of affected land.

"§ 74-81. Inspection and approval of abandonment, bond release and forfeiture.—Upon completion of abandonment of an area of affected land, the permit holder shall notify the Department on a form and in a manner it shall require. Upon receipt of the report, and at any other time it deems reasonable, the Department shall make an inspection of the area to determine whether the permit holder has complied with the requirements of this Article, any rules promulgated under it and the terms and conditions of his permit. Following its inspection, the Department shall give written notice to the permit holder of any deficiencies noted. The permit holder shall commence action within 10 days of receipt of notice to rectify these deficiencies and shall diligently proceed to correct them. The Department may extend the 10-day performance period if it finds that the permit holder is making every reasonable effort to comply.

Whenever the Department finds that the person conducting exploration activity has failed to properly abandon an area of affected land within the time allowed by G.S. 74-80 and has failed to undertake timely corrective actions following notice, it shall initiate forfeiture proceedings against the bond or other security filed pursuant to G.S. 74-79.

If the Department finds that abandonment has been properly completed, it shall so notify the person conducting the exploration activity in writing within 10 days after that finding and release him from further obligations under this Article. At the same time it shall release all or the appropriate portion of the bond or other security that has been provided.

"§ 74-82. Suspension, revocation or modification of permit.—The Department may revoke, suspend or modify a permit for violations of this Article, any rules promulgated under it, or other terms or conditions of the permit. This authority is subject to the 'Special Provisions on Licensing' of G.S. 150A-3.

"§ 74-83. Forfeiture proceedings.—Whenever the Department determines the necessity of a bond or other security forfeiture under the provisions of G.S. 74-81, or whenever it revokes, suspends or modifies a permit under the provisions of G.S. 74-82, it shall request the Attorney General to initiate forfeiture proceedings against the bond or other security filed by the permit holder: Provided, however, that no such request shall be made for forfeiture of a bond or other security until the guarantor has been given written notice of the violation and a reasonable opportunity to take corrective action. These proceedings shall be brought in the name of the State of North Carolina. In these proceedings, the face amount of the bond or other security, less any amount previously released by the Department, shall be treated as liquidated damages and subject to forfeiture. All funds collected as a result of these proceedings shall be placed in a special fund and used by the Department to carry out, to the extent possible, the abandonment measures which the permit holder has failed to complete. If the amount of the bond or other security filed pursuant to this section proves to be insufficient to complete the required abandonment, the permit holder shall be liable to the Department for any excess above the amount of the bond or other security which may be required to defray the cost of completing the required reclamation.

"§ 74-84. Notice.—Whenever in this Article written notice is required to be given by the Department, such notice, unless otherwise provided, shall be mailed by registered or certified mail to the permanent address of the person set forth in his most recent application for an exploration permit. No other notice shall be required.

"§ 74-85. Hearings; appeals.—Any affected person wishing to contest the decision of the Department which approves, denies, suspends or revokes a permit, required additional abandonment work, refuses to release any or all of the bond or other security, or assesses a civil penalty, shall be entitled to an administrative hearing before the Mining Commission conducted in accordance with the provisions of Article 3 of Chapter 150A of the General Statutes. Appeal of the final decision of the Mining Commission shall be in accordance with the procedures established in Article 4 of Chapter 150A of the General Statutes. Requests for an administrative hearing must be made in writing and served upon the Mining Commission by serving the Department, within 30 days of receipt of notice of the action giving rise to the hearing.

"§ 74-86. Rules and regulations.—The Mining Commission may promulgate any rules necessary to administer and carry out the purposes of this Article.

"§ 74-87. Penalty for violations.—(a) Civil Penalties.

(1) a. A civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) may be assessed by the Department against any person who fails to secure a valid exploration permit prior to engaging in the exploration for uranium, as required by G.S. 74-48. Each day of continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation and a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) per day may be assessed for each day the violation continues.

b. Any person with an exploration permit who violates any of the provisions of this Article, any rules promulgated under it, or any of the terms and conditions of his exploration permit shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). Each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation. Prior to the assessment of any civil penalty, written notice of the violation shall be given pursuant to G.S. 74-84. The notice shall describe the violation with reasonable particularity, shall specify a time period reasonably calculated to permit the violator to complete actions to correct the violations, and shall state that failure to correct the violations within that period will be considered an aggravating factor in the determination of the amount of the civil penalty, if any, to be assessed.

(2) The Department shall determine the amount of the civil penalty to be assessed. In determining the amount of the penalty, the Department shall consider the degree and extent of harm caused by the violation, the cost of rectifying the damage, the amount of money the violator saved by his noncompliance, the violator's state of mind in committing the violation, the prior record of the violator in complying or failing to comply with this Article, and any corrective action taken by the violator. The Department shall notify the person conducting exploration activity of the assessment of the civil penalty by certified mail, return receipt requested or by other reasonable means calculated to provide actual notice. This notice shall describe the violations for which the civil penalty has been assessed. The person conducting exploration activity may appeal the assessment of any civil penalty assessed pursuant to this section in accordance with the procedures set forth in G.S. 74-85.

(3) If payment of any civil penalty assessed pursuant to this section is not received by the Department or if no administrative hearing is requested within 30 days following notice to the person of the assessment of the civil penalty, or within 30 days following denial of appeal pursuant to G.S. 74-85, the Department shall refer the matter to the Attorney General for the institution of a civil action in the name of the State in the superior court of the county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred to recover the amount of the penalty.

(4) All funds collected pursuant to this section shall be placed in a special fund and shall be used to carry out the purposes of this Article.

(b) Injunctive Relief. In addition to other remedies, the Department may request the Attorney General to institute any appropriate action or proceedings to prevent, restrain, correct or abate any violation of this Article or any rules promulgated under it.

(c) Criminal Penalties. In addition to other penalties provided by this Article, any person who engaged in exploration activity in willful violation of the provisions of this Article or of any rules promulgated under it or who willfully misrepresented any material fact in any action taken pursuant to this Article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each offense. Each day of continued violation after written notification shall be considered a separate offense.

"§ 74-88. Confidentiality of logs, surveys, and reports.—If a person engaged in uranium exploration shows to the satisfaction of the Department that logs, surveys plats, and reports filed under this act are of a proprietary nature relating to his competitive rights, that information shall be confidential and not subject to inspection and examination (as authorized by G.S. 132-6) for four years after receipt of the information by the Department. Further, upon written request of any such person, and a showing of a continued proprietary interest affecting competitive rights, the Department shall hold the material confidential for additional two-year periods. Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny the North Carolina Geological Survey access to all logs, plats, and reports filed under this Chapter. The North Carolina Geological Survey shall be bound to hold this information confidential to the same extent that the Department is bound.

"§ 74-89. Delay before mining permits issued.—No permit for the mining of uranium shall be issued to an applicant for either three years, beginning with the date of issuance of his first permit to explore for uranium, or for two years, beginning with the date of the filing of his first application for a permit to mine uranium, whichever comes first."

Sec. 2. G.S. 143B-290(1) is amended by adding the following new subpart:

"e. To promulgate rules and regulations necessary to adminster the Control of Exploration for Uranium in North Carolina Act of 1983, pursuant to G.S. 74-86."

Sec. 3. This act is effective upon ratification.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 6th day of May, 1983.

H. B. 689 CHAPTER 281

AN ACT TO INSURE PRIVACY OF AREA MENTAL HEALTH, MENTAL RETARDATION AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE AUTHORITY EMPLOYEE PERSONNEL RECORDS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 122 is amended by adding a new section 122-35.45.1 as follows:

"§ 122-35.45.1. Privacy of personnel records.—(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 132-6 or any other general law or local act concerning access to public records, personnel files of employees, former employees, or applicants for employment maintained by an area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority are subject to inspection and may be disclosed only as provided by this section. For purposes of this section, an employee's personnel file consists of any information in any form gathered by the area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority with respect to that employee and, by way of illustration but not limitation, relating to his application, selection or nonselection, performance, promotions, demotions, transfers, suspension and other disciplinary actions, evaluation forms, leave, salary, and termination of employment. As used in this section, 'employee' includes former employees of the area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority.

(b) The following information with respect to each employee is a matter of public record; name; age; date of original employment or appointment to the area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority; current position title; current salary; date and amount of most recent increase or decrease in salary; date of the most recent promotion, demotion, transfer, suspension, separation or other change in position classification; and the office to which the employee is currently assigned. The local governing board shall determine in what form and by whom this information will be maintained. Any person may have access to this information for the purpose of inspection, examination, examination and copying, during regular business hours, subject only to such rules and regulations for the safekeeping of public records as the local governing board may have adopted. Any person denied access to this information may apply to the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice for an order compelling disclosure, and the court shall have jurisdiction to issue such orders.

(c) All information contained in an employee's personnel file, other than the information made public by subsection (b) of this section, is confidential and shall be open to inspection only in the following instances:

(1) The employee or his duly authorized agent may examine portions of his personnel file except (i) letters of reference solicited prior to employment, and (ii) information concerning a medical disability, mental or physical, that a prudent physician would not divulge to his patient.

(2) A licensed physician designated in writing by the employee may examine the employee's medical record.

(3) An area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority employee having supervisory authority over the employee may examine all material in the employee's personnel file.

(4) By order of a court of competent jurisdiction, any person may examine such portion of an employee's personnel file as may be ordered by the court.

(5) An official of an agency of the State or federal government, or any political subdivision of the State, may inspect any portion of a personnel file when such inspection is deemed by the official having custody of such records to be inspected to be necessary and essential to the pursuance of a proper function of the inspecting agency, but no information shall be divulged for the purpose of assisting in a criminal prosecution of the employee, or for the purpose of assisting in an investigation of the employee's tax liability. However, the official having custody of such records may release the name, address, and telephone number from a personnel file for the purpose of assisting in a criminal investigation.

(6) An employee may sign a written release, to be placed with his personnel file, that permits the person with custody of the file to provide, either in person, by telephone, or by mail, information specified in the release to prospective employers, educational institutions or other persons specified in the release.

(7) The local governing board may inform any person of the employment or nonemployment, promotion, demotion, suspension or other disciplinary action, reinstatement, transfer, or termination of an employee and the reasons for that personnel action. Before releasing the information, the board shall determine in writing that the release is essential to maintaining public confidence in the administration of services or to maintaining the level and quality of services. This written determination shall be retained as a record for public inspection and shall become part of the employee's personnel file.

(d) Even if considered part of an employee's personnel file, the following information need not be disclosed to an employee nor to any other person:

(1) Testing or examination material used solely to determine individual qualifications for appointment, employment, or promotion in the area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority service, when disclosure would compromise the objectivity or the fairness of the testing or examination process.

(2) Investigative reports or memoranda and other information concerning the investigation of possible criminal action of an employee, until the investigation is completed and no criminal action taken, or until the criminal action is concluded.

(3) Information that might identify an undercover law enforcement officer or a law enforcement informer.

(4) Notes, preliminary drafts and internal communications concerning an employee. In the event such materials are used for any official personnel decision, then the employee or his duly authorized agent shall have a right to inspect such materials.

(e) The area board may permit access, subject to limitations they may impose, to selected personnel files by a professional representative of a training, research, or academic institution if that person certifies that he will not release information identifying the employees whose files are opened and that the information will be used solely for statistical, research, or teaching purposes. This certification shall be retained by the area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority as long as each personnel file so examined is retained.

(f) The area board of area mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse authority that maintains personnel files containing information other than the information mentioned in subsection (b) of this section shall establish procedures whereby an employee who objects to material in his file on grounds that it is inaccurate or misleading may seek to have the material removed from the file or may place in the file a statement relating to the material.

(g) A public official or employee who knowingly, willfully, and with malice permits any person to have access to information contained in a personnel file, except as is permitted by this section, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined an amount of not more then five hundred dollars ($500.00).

(h) Any person, not specifically authorized by this section to have access to a personnel file designated as confidential, who shall knowingly and willfully examine in its official filing place, remove or copy any portion of a confidential personnel file shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in the discretion of the court but not in excess of five hundred dollars ($500.00)."

Sec. 2. This act is effective upon ratification.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 6th day of May, 1983.

S. B. 253 CHAPTER 282

AN ACT TO AMEND CHAPTER 104D OF THE GENERAL STATUTES TO ENTER INTO THE SOUTHERN STATES ENERGY COMPACT AND TO ESTABLISH THE SOUTHERN STATES ENERGY BOARD.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Section 104D-1 of the General Statutes is hereby rewritten in its entirety to read as follows:

"§ 104D-1. Compact entered into; form of compact.—The Southern States Energy Compact is hereby enacted into law and entered into with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

SOUTHERN STATES ENERGY COMPACT

ARTICLE I. Policy and Purpose. The party states recognize that the proper employment and conservation of energy and employment of energy-related facilities, materials, and products, within the context of a responsible regard for the environment, can assist substantially in the industrialization of the South and the development of a balanced economy for the region. They also recognize that optimum benefit from and acquisition of energy resources and facilities require systematic encouragement, guidance, and assistance from the party states on a cooperative basis. It is the policy of the party states to undertake such cooperation on a continuing basis; it is the purpose of this compact to provide the instruments and framework for such a cooperative effort to improve the economy of the South and contribute to the individual and community well-being of the region's people.

ARTICLE II. The Board. (a) There is hereby created an agency of the party states to be known as the 'Southern States Energy Board' (hereinafter called the Board). The Board shall be composed of three members from each party state, one of whom shall be appointed or designated in each state to represent the Governor, the State Senate and the State House of Representatives, respectively. Each member shall be designated or appointed in accordance with the law of the state which he represents and shall serve and be subject to removal in accordance with such law. Any member of the Board may provide for the discharge of his duties and the performance of his functions thereon, either for the duration of his membership or for any lesser period of time, by a deputy or assistant, if the laws of his state make specific provision therefor. The federal government may be represented without vote if provision is made by federal law for such representation.

(b) Each party state shall be entitled to one vote on the Board, to be determined by majority vote of each member or member's representative from the party state present and voting on any question. No action of the Board shall be binding unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of all party states are represented and unless a majority of the total number of votes on the Board are cast in favor thereof.

(c) The Board shall have a seal.

(d) The Board shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a treasurer. The Board shall appoint an Executive Director who shall serve at its pleasure and who shall also act as secretary, and who, together with the treasurer, shall be bonded in such amounts as the Board may require.

(e) The Executive Director, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint and remove or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the Board's functions irrespective of the civil service, personnel or other merit system laws of any of the party states.

(f) The Board may establish and maintain, independently or in conjunction with any one or more of the party states, a suitable retirement system for its full-time employees. Employees of the Board shall be eligible for social security coverage in respect of old age and survivors insurance provided that the Board takes such steps as may be necessary pursuant to federal law to participate in such program of insurance as a governmental agency or unit. The Board may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as may be appropriate.

(g) The Board may borrow, accept or contract for the services of personnel from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, from any interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation.

(h) The Board may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services (conditional or otherwise) from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, or interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation, and may receive, utilize, and dispose of the same.

(i) The Board may establish and maintain such facilities as may be necessary for the transaction of its business. The Board may acquire, hold, and convey real and personal property and any interest therein.

(j) The Board shall adopt bylaws, rules and regulations for the conduct of its business, and shall have the power to amend and rescind these bylaws, rules, and regulations. The Board shall publish its bylaws, rules, and regulations in convenient form and shall file a copy thereof, and shall also file a copy of any amendment thereto, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

(k) The Board annually shall make to the Governor of each party state, a report covering the activities of the Board for the preceding year, and embodying such recommendations as may have been adopted by the Board, which report shall be transmitted to the legislature of said state. The Board may issue such additional reports as it may deem desirable.

ARTICLE III. Finances. (a) The Board shall submit to the executive head or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that jurisdiction for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the Board's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amount or amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. One-half of the total amount of each budget of estimated expenditures shall be apportioned among the party states in equal shares; one quarter of each such budget shall be apportioned among the party states in accordance with the ratio of their populations to the total population of the entire group of party states based on the last decennial federal census; and one quarter of each such budget shall be apportioned among the party states on the basis of the relative average per capita income of the inhabitants in each of the party states based on the latest computations published by the federal census-taking agency. Subject to appropriations by their respective legislatures, the Board shall be provided with such funds by each of the party states as are necessary to provide the means of establishing and maintaining facilities, a staff of personnel, and such activities as may be necessary to fulfill the powers and duties imposed upon and entrusted to the Board.

(c) The Board may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Article II(h) of this Compact, provided that the Board takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to the incurring of any obligation to be met in whole or in part in this manner. Except where the Board makes use of funds available to it under Article II(h) hereof, the Board shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party jurisdictions adequate to meet the same.

(d) The Board shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the Board shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. However, all receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the Board shall be audited yearly by a qualified public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become a part of the annual report of the Board.

(e) The accounts of the Board shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection.

ARTICLE IV. Advisory Committees. The Board may establish such advisory and technical committees as it may deem necessary, membership on which to include but not be limited to private citizens, expert and lay personnel, representatives of industry, labor, commerce, agriculture, civic associations, medicine, education, voluntary health agencies, and officials of local, state and federal government, and may cooperate with and use the services of any such committees and the organizations which they represent in furthering any of its activities under this Compact.

ARTICLE V. Powers. The Board shall have the power to:

(1) Ascertain and analyze on a continuing basis the position of the South with respect to energy, energy-related industries, and environmental concerns.

(2) Encourage the development, conservation and responsible use of energy and energy-related facilities, installations, and products as part of a balanced economy and healthy environment.

(3) Collect, correlate, and disseminate information relating to civilian uses of energy and energy-related materials and products.

(4) Conduct, or cooperate in conducting, programs of training for state and local personnel engaged in any aspect of:

a. Energy, environment, and application of energy, environmental, and related concerns to industry, medicine, or education or the promotion or regulation thereof.

b. The formulation or administration of measures designed to promote safety in any matter related to the development, use or disposal of energy and energy-related materials, products, installations, or wastes.

(5) Organize and conduct, or assist and cooperate in organizing and conducting, demonstrations of energy product, material, or equipment use and disposal and of proper techniques or processes for the application of energy resources to the civilian economy or general welfare.

(6) Undertake such nonregulatory functions with respect to sources of radiation as may promote the economic development and general welfare of the region.

(7) Study industrial, health, safety, and other standards, laws, codes, rules, regulations, and administrative practices in or related to energy and environmental fields.

(8) Recommend such changes in, or amendments or additions to, the laws, codes, rules, regulations, administrative procedures and practices or ordinances of the party states in any of the fields of its interest and competence as in its judgment may be appropriate. Any such recommendation shall be made through the appropriate state agency with due consideration of the desirability of uniformity but shall also give appropriate weight to any special circumstances which may justify variations to meet local conditions.

(9) Prepare, publish and distribute, with or without charge, such reports, bulletins, newsletters or other material as it deems appropriate.

(10) Cooperate with the United States Department of Energy or any agency successor thereto, any other officer or agency of the United States, and any other governmental unit or agency or officer thereof, and with any private persons or agencies in any of the fields of its interests.

(11) Act as licensee of the United States Government or any party state with respect to the conduct of any research activity requiring such license and operate such research facility or undertake any program pursuant thereto.

(12) a. Ascertain from time to time such methods, practices, circumstances, and conditions as may bring about the prevention and control of energy and environmental incidents in the area comprising the party states, to coordinate the environmental and other energy-related incident prevention and control plans and the work relating thereto of the appropriate agencies of the party states and to facilitate the rendering of aid by the party states to each other in coping with energy and environmental incidents.

b. The Board may formulate and, in accordance with need from time to time, revise a regional plan or regional plans for coping with energy and environmental incidents within the territory of the party states as a whole or within any subregion or subregions of the geographic area covered by this Compact.

ARTICLE VI. Supplementary Agreements. (a) To the extent that the Board has not undertaken an activity or project which would be within its power under the provisions of Article V of this Compact, any two or more of the party states (acting by their duly constituted administrative officials) may enter into supplementary agreements for the undertaking and continuance of such an activity or project. Any such agreement shall specify its purpose or purposes; its duration and the procedure for termination thereof or withdrawal therefrom; the method of financing and allocating the costs of the activity or project; and such other matters as may be necessary or appropriate. No such supplementary agreement entered into pursuant to this Article shall become effective prior to its submission to and approval by the Board. The Board shall give such approval unless it finds that the supplementary agreement or the activity or project contemplated thereby is inconsistent with the provisions of this Compact or a program or activity conducted by or participated in by the Board.

(b) Unless all of the party states participate in a supplementary agreement, any cost or costs thereof shall be borne separately by the states party thereto. However, the Board may administer or otherwise assist in the operation of any supplementary agreement.

(c) No party to a supplementary agreement entered into pursuant to this Article shall be relieved thereby of any obligation or duty assumed by said party state under or pursuant to this Compact, except that timely and proper performance of such obligation or duty by means of the supplementary agreement may be offered as performance pursuant to the Compact.

ARTICLE VII. Other Laws and Relationships. Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to:

(1) Permit or require any person or other entity to avoid or refuse compliance with any law, rule, regulation, order or ordinance of a party state or subdivision thereof now or hereafter made, enacted or in force.

(2) Limit, diminish or otherwise impair jurisdiction exercised by the United States Department of Energy, any agency successor thereto, or any other federal department, agency or officer pursuant to and in conformity with any valid and operative act of Congress.

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT DAY-CARE FACILITIES OPERATED BY CHURCHES, SYNAGOGUES, OR SCHOOLS OF RELIGIOUS CHARTER SHALL NOT BE REQUIRED TO OBTAIN LICENSES BUT SHALL BE SUBJECT TO DAY-CARE STANDARDS FOR HEALTH AND SAFETY.

In conformity with the Constitutions of the United States and of North Carolina, it is the public policy of the State not to interfere in the ministry of a church child day-care ministry, except to use the power delegated to the Child Day-Care Licensing Commission by the General Assembly to enforce minimum standards for facilities.

Whereas, the legislative intent and purpose of this act is to protect the children placed in day-care facilities; and

Whereas, day-care facilities operated by churches, synagogues or schools of religious charter are desirous of providing such protection to children cared for in their facilities, but object to State licensure on religious grounds; and

Whereas, these facilities are willing to report to the Commission that they have complied with the minimum standards for facilities; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. The term "church day-care facility" as used herein shall include any day-care facility operated by a church, synagogue or school of religious charter.

Sec. 2. Reporting procedure of church day-care facilities. (a) Church day-care facilities shall file with the Child Day-Care Licensing Commission a notice of intent to operate a day-care facility and the date it will begin operation. Within 30 days after the beginning of operation, the church day-care facility shall have filed with the Commission reports and supporting data that will show the day-care facility to be in compliance with all minimum standards provided in G.S. 110-90.1 and G.S. 110-91 for day-care facilities.

(b) Each church day-care facility shall annually file with the Commission a report indicating that it meets the minimum standards for facilities as provided in G.S. 110-90.1 and G.S. 110-91. The report shall be in such form as is required by the Commission. Each church day-care facility shall be responsible for accompanying its report with the necessary supporting data to show conformity with those minimum standards, including reports from the local and district health departments, local building inspectors, local firemen, volunteer firemen, and other, on forms which shall be provided by the Commission.

(c) It shall be the responsibility of the Commission to notify the facility if it fails to meet the minimum requirements. The Commission shall be responsible for carrying out the enforcement provisions provided by the General Assembly in Article 7 of Chapter 110 including inspection to insure compliance. After a hearing the Commission shall be empowered to issue an order requiring a church day-care facility which fails to meet the standards established pursuant to this Article to cease operating. A church day-care facility may request a hearing to determine if it is in compliance with the provisions of G.S. 110-90.1 and G.S. 110-91. If the Commission determines that it is not, it may order the facility to cease operation until it is in compliance.

(d) Church day-care facilities shall be exempt from the requirement that they obtain a license and that the license be displayed and shall be exempt from any subsequent rule or regulatory program not dealing specifically with the minimum standards as provided in G.S. 110-90.1 and G.S. 110-91. Nothing in this Article shall be interpreted to allow the State to regulate or otherwise interfere with the religious training offered as a part of any church day-care program. Nothing in this Article shall prohibit any church-operated, synagogue-operated, or religious affiliated facility from becoming licensed by the State if it so chooses.

(e) Church day-care facilities found to be in violation of G.S. 110-90.1 and 110-91 shall be subject to the injunctive provisions of G.S. 110-104, except that they may not be enjoined for operating without a license. The Secretary is empowered to seek an injunction against any such facility under the conditions specified in G.S. 110-104 with the above exception and when any such facility operates without submitting the required forms and following the procedures required by this Article.

(6) 'Facsimile signature' means the reproduction by engraving, imprinting, stamping, or other means of the manual signature.

(8) 'Issuer' means a public entity which issues an obligation.

b. with respect to an uncertificated registered public obligation, that (i) books maintained by or on behalf of the issuer for the purpose of registration of the transfer of a registered public obligation specify a person entitled to the registered public obligation and the rights evidenced thereby, and (ii) transfer of the uncertificated registered public obligation and the rights evidenced thereby be registered upon such books.

(15) 'Uncertificated registered public obligation' means a registered public obligation which is not represented by an instrument.

"§ 159E-3. Declaration of State interest; purposes.—(a) The Code provides that interest with respect to certain obligations may not be exempt from federal income taxation unless they are in registered form. It is therefore a matter of State concern that public entities be authorized to provide for the issuance of obligations in such form. It is a purpose of this Chapter to empower all public entities to establish and maintain a system pursuant to which obligations may be issued in registered form within the meaning of the applicable provisions of the Code.

(b) Obligations have traditionally been issued predominantly in bearer rather than in registered form, and a change from bearer to registered form may affect the relationships, rights and duties of issuers of and the persons that deal with obligations, and by such effect, the costs. Such effects will impact the various issuers and varieties of obligations differently depending on their legal and financial characteristics, their markets and their adaptability to recent and prospective technological and organizational developments. It is therefore a matter of State concern that public entities be provided flexibility in the development of such systems and control over system incidents, so as to accommodate such differing impacts. It is a purpose of this Chapter to empower the establishment and maintenance, and amendment from time to time, of differing systems of registration of obligations, including system incidents, so as to accommodate the differing impacts upon issuers and varieties of obligations. It is further a purpose of this Chapter to authorize systems that will facilitate the prompt and accurate transfer of registered public obligations and the development of practices with regard to the registration and transfer of registered public obligations in order to maintain market acceptance for obligations of public entities.

"§ 159E-4. Systems of registration.—(a) Each issuer, with the approval of the Commission, is authorized to establish and maintain a system of registration with respect to each obligation which it issues. The system may either be (i) a system pursuant to which only certificated registered public obligations are issued, or (ii) a system pursuant to which only uncertificated registered public obligations are issued, or (iii) a system pursuant to which both certificated and uncertificated registered public obligations are issued. The issuer may amend, discontinue and reinstitute any system, from time to time, subject to covenants.

(b) The system shall be established, amended, discontinued, or reinstituted, for the issuer by the official or official body.

(c) The system shall be described in the registered public obligation or in the official actions which provide for original issuance of the registered public obligation, and in subsequent official actions providing for amendments and other matters from time to time. Such description may be by reference to a program of the issuer which is established by the official or official body.

(d) The system shall define the method or methods by which transfer of the public obligations shall be effective with respect to the issuer, and by which payment of principal and any interest shall be made. The system may permit the issuance of registered public obligations in any denomination to represent several registered public obligations of smaller denominations. The system may also provide for the form of any certificated registered public obligation, or of any writing relating to an uncertificated registered public obligation, for identifying numbers or other designations, for a sufficient supply of certificates for subsequent transfers, for record and payment dates, for varying denominations, for communications to holders or owners of obligations, and for accounting, cancelled certificate destruction and other incidental matters. Unless the issuer otherwise provides, the record date for interest payable on the first or fifteenth day of a month shall be the fifteenth day or the last business day of the preceding month, respectively, and for interest payable on other than the first or fifteenth day of a month, shall be the fifteenth calendar day before the interest payment date.

(e) Under a system pursuant to which both certificated and uncertificated registered public obligations are issued, both types of registered public obligations may be regularly issued, or one type may be regularly issued and the other type issued only under described circumstances or to particular described categories of owners.

(f) The system may include covenants of the issuer as to amendments, discontinuances, and reinstitutions of the system and the effect of such on the exemption of interest from the income tax provided for by the Code.

(g) Whenever an issuer shall issue an uncertificated registered public obligation, the system of registration may provide that a true copy of the official actions of the issuer relating to such uncertificated registered public obligation be maintained by the issuer or by the person, if any, maintaining such system on behalf of the issuer, so long as the uncertificated registered public obligation remains outstanding and unpaid. A copy of such official actions, verified to be such by an authorized officer, shall be admissible before any court of record, administrative body or arbitration panel without further authentication.

(h) Nothing in this Chapter shall preclude a conversion from one of the forms of registered public obligations provided for by this Chapter to a form of obligation not provided for by this Chapter if interest on the obligation so converted will continue to be exempt from the income tax provided for by the Code.

(i) The rights provided by other laws with respect to obligations in forms not provided for by this Chapter shall, to the extent not inconsistent with this Chapter, apply with respect to registered public obligations issued in forms authorized by this Chapter. This includes Subchapter IV of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes and the 'State Debt' provisions of Chapter 142 of the General Statutes.

"§ 159E-5. Certificated registered public obligations; execution; authentication.—(a) A certificated registered public obligation shall be executed by the issuer by the manual or facsimile signature or signatures of authorized officers. Any signature of an authorized officer may be attested by the manual or facsimile signature of another authorized officer.

(b) In addition to the signatures referred to in (a) of this subsection any certificated registered public obligation or any writing relating to an uncertificated registered public obligation may include a certificate or certificates signed by the manual or facsimile signature of an authenticating agent, registrar, transfer agent or the like.

"§ 159E-6. Certificated registered public obligation; signatures.—(a) Any certificated registered public obligation signed by the authorized officers at the time of the signing thereof shall remain valid and binding, notwithstanding that before the issuance thereof any or all of such officers shall have ceased to fill their respective offices.

(b) Any authorized officer empowered to sign any certificated registered public obligation may adopt as and for the signature of such officer the signature of a predecessor in office in the event that such predecessor's signature appears on such certificated registered public obligation. An unauthorized officer incurs no liability by adoption of a predecessor's signature that would not be incurred by such authorized officer if the signature were that of such authorized officer.

"§ 159E-7. Certificated registered public obligation; seal.—When a seal is required or permitted in the execution of any certificated registered public obligation, an authorized officer may cause the seal to be printed, engraved, stamped, or otherwise placed in facsimile thereon. The facsimile seal has the same legal effect as the impression of the seal.

"§ 159E-8. Agents; depositories.—(a) An issuer, with the approval of the Commission, may appoint for such term as may be agreed, including for so long as a registered public obligation may be outstanding, corporate or other authenticating agents, transfer agents, registrars, paying or other agents and specify the terms of their appointment, including their rights, their compensation and duties, limits upon their liabilities and provision for their payment of liquidated damages in the event of breach of certain of the duties imposed, which liquidated damages may be made payable to the issuer, the owner or a financial intermediary. None of such agents need have an office or do business within this State.

(b) An issuer may agree with financial intermediaries in connection with the establishment and maintenance by others of a depository system for the transfer or pledge of registered public obligations or any interest therein. Any such financial intermediaries may, if qualified and acting as fiduciaries, also serve as authenticating agents, transfer agents, registrars, paying or other agents of the issuer with respect to the same issue of public obligations.

(c) Nothing in this Chapter shall preclude the issuer from itself performing, either alone or jointly with others, any transfer, registration, authentication, payment, depository or other function described in this section.

"§ 159E-9. Costs; collection.—(a) An issuer, prior to or at original issuance of registered public obligations, may provide as a part of a system of registration that the transferor or transferee of the registered public obligations pay all or a designated part of the costs of the system as a condition precedent to transfer, that costs be paid out of proceeds of the registered public obligations, or that both methods be used. The portion of the costs of the system not provided to be paid for by the transferor or transferee or out of proceeds shall be the responsibility of the issuer. Moneys for the discharge of this responsibility may be appropriated annually.

(b) The issuer may as a part of the system of registration provide for reimbursement or for satisfaction of its responsibility for costs by others. The issuer may enter into agreements with others respecting such reimbursement or satisfaction, may establish fees and charges pursuant to such agreements or otherwise, and may provide that the amount or estimated amount of such fees and charges shall be reimbursed or satisfied from the same sources and by means of the same collection and enforcement procedures and with the same priority and effect as with respect to the obligation.

"§ 159E-10. Security for deposits.—Obligations issued by public entities under the laws of one or more states, territories, or possessions of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the District of Columbia, which are in registered form, whether or not represented by an instrument, and which, except for their form, satisfy the requirements with regard to security for deposits of moneys of public agencies prescribed pursuant to any law of this State, shall be deemed to satisfy all such requirements even though they are in registered form if a security interest in such obligations is perfected under the laws of this State on behalf of the public agencies whose moneys are so deposited.

"§ 159E-11. Public records; locations.—(a) Records, with regard to the ownership of or security interests in registered public obligations, are not subject to inspection or copying under any law of this State relating to the right of the public to inspect or copy public records, notwithstanding any law to the contrary. This provision shall not exempt from public inspection records of ownership of a public entity's own holdings in this type of security.

(b) Registration records of the issuer may be maintained at such locations within or without this State as the issuer shall determine.

"§ 159E-12. Applicability; determination.—(a) Unless at any time prior to or at original issuance of a registered public obligation the official or official body of the issuer determines otherwise, this Chapter shall be applicable to such registered public obligation notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary. When this Chapter is applicable, no contrary provision shall apply.

(b) Nothing in this Chapter limits or prevents issuance of obligations in any other form or manner authorized by law.

(c) Unless determined otherwise pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the provisions of this Chapter shall be applicable with respect to obligations which have heretofore been approved by vote, referendum or hearing authorizing or permitting the authorization of obligations in bearer and registered form, or in bearer form only, and such obligations need not be resubmitted for a further vote, referendum or hearing for the purpose of authorizing or permitting the authorization of registered public obligations pursuant to this Chapter.

"§ 159E-13. Construction.—This Chapter shall be construed in conjunction with the Uniform Commercial Code and the principles of contract law relative to the registration and transfer of obligations.

"§ 159E-14. Amendment or repeal; effect.—The State hereby convenants with the owners of any registered public obligations that it will not amend or repeal this Chapter if the effect may be to impair the exemption from income taxation of interest on registered public obligations.

"§ 159E-15. Severability.—If any provision or the application of any provision of this Chapter shall be invalid, such shall not affect the validity of other provisions or other applications, it hereby being declared that the provisions or the applications of this Chapter are separable and this Chapter would have been enacted with the invalid provision omitted or without the invalid application in any event."

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Article 4 of Chapter 113 of the General Statutes is amended to add a new section to read as follows:

"§ 113-53.1. Forest laws defined.—The forest laws consist of:

(1) G.S. 14-136 to G.S. 14-140;

(2) Articles 2, 4, 4A, 4C, and 6A of this Chapter;

(3) G.S. 77-13 and G.S. 77-14;

(4) Other statutes enacted for the protection of forests and woodlands from fire, insects, or disease and concerning obstruction of streams and ditches in forests and woodlands; and

(5) Regulations and ordinances adopted under the authority of the above statutes."

Sec. 2. G.S. 113-54 as the same appears in Replacement Volume 1978 of Volume 3A, Part II of the General Statutes, is amended on lines 10 and 11 by deleting the words "for the purposes set out in Articles 4, 4A and 6A of this Chapter"; and is further amended on lines 28 and 34 by deleting the words "Articles 4, 4A and 6A" and substituting therefor the words "Articles 4, 4A, 4C and 6A".

Sec. 3. G.S. 113-55 is amended to add at the end of the caption: "; authority to issue citations and warning tickets", to designate the present text of the section as subsection (a), and to add a new subsection to read as follows:

"(b) Forest rangers are authorized to issue and serve citations under the terms of G.S. 15A-302 and warning tickets under the terms of G.S. 113-55.2 for offenses under the forest laws. This subsection may not be interpreted to confer the power of arrest on forest rangers, and does not make them criminal justice officers within the meaning of G.S. 17C-2."

Sec. 4. G.S. 15A-302(a) is amended to read as follows:

"(a) Definition. A citation is a directive, issued by a law enforcement officer or other person authorized by statute, that a person appear in court and answer criminal charges."

Issuance of the warning tickets shall be in accordance with criteria administratively promulgated by the Secretary within the requirements of this section. Such criteria are not rules as defined under Articles 2 and 5 of Chapter 150A of the General Statutes.

(b) No warning ticket may be issued unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The forest ranger or the forest law enforcement officer must be convinced that the offense was not committed intentionally.

(2) The offense is not one, or a type of offense, for which the Secretary has prohibited the issuance of warning tickets.

(3) At the time of the violation it was not reasonably foreseeable that the conduct of the offender could result in any significant destruction of forests or woodlands or constitute a hazard to the public.

(c) A warning ticket may not be issued if the offender has previously been charged with, or issued a warning ticket for, the same or a similar offense within the preceding three years. A list of persons who have been issued warning tickets under this section within the preceding three years shall be maintained and periodically updated by the Secretary.

(d) This section does not entitle any person who has committed an offense to the right to be issued a warning ticket, and the issuance of a warning ticket does not prohibit the later initiation of criminal prosecution for the same offense for which the warning ticket was issued."

Sec. 7. This act shall become effective July 1, 1983.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 18th day of May, 1983.

Sec. 3. G.S. 162A-69 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(13a) To adopt ordinances to regulate and control the discharge of sewage into any sewerage system owned or operated by the district. Prior to the adoption of any ordinance or any amendment to any ordinance the district shall first pass a declaration of intent to adopt such ordinance or amendment. The declaration of intent shall be submitted to each governing body for review and comment. Any person assessed a civil penalty by the district shall be notified of the assessment by registered or certified mail, and the notice shall specify the reasons for the assessment. If the person assessed fails to pay the amount of the assessment to the district within 30 days after receipt of notice, or such longer period, not to exceed 180 days, as the district may specify, the district may institute a civil action in the General Court of Justice of the county in which the violation occurred or, in the discretion of the district, in the General Court of Justice of the county in which the person assessed has his or its principal place of business, to recover the amount of the assessment. The validity of the district's action may be appealed directly to General Court of Justice in the county in which the violation occurred, or may be raised at any time in the action to recover the assessment. Neither failure to contest the district's action directly nor failure to raise the issue of validity in the action to recover an assessment precludes the other.

(c) An ordinance may provide that it may be enforced by an appropriate equitable remedy issuing from court of competent jurisdiction. In such case, the General Court of Justice shall have jurisdiction to issue such orders as may be appropriate and it shall not be a defense to the application of the district for equitable relief that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(d) Subject to the express terms of an ordinance, a district ordinance may be enforced by any one, all, or a combination of the remedies authorized and prescribed by this section.

(e) An ordinance may provide, when appropriate, that each day's continuing violation shall be a separate and distinct offense."

AN ACT TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF DURHAM, BY ADDING PROVISIONS RELATING TO FAIR HOUSING.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. The Charter of the City of Durham, being Chapter 671, Session Laws of 1975, as amended, is further amended by adding a new Chapter to read:

"Chapter VIII.

"Fair Housing.

"Sec. 121. Equal Housing. The City Council shall have the power to adopt ordinances, prohibiting discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, or national origin in real estate transactions. Such ordinances may regulate or prohibit any act, practice, activity or procedure related, directly or indirectly to the sale or rental of public or private housing, which affects or may tend to affect the availability or desirability of housing on an equal basis to all persons; may provide that violations constitute a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable under G.S. 14-4; may subject the offender to civil penalties; and may provide that the City may enforce the ordinances by application to the General Court of Justice, Superior Court Division, for appropriate legal and equitable remedies, including but not limited to, mandatory and prohibitory injunctions and orders of abatement, attorney's fees and not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) punitive damages, and the court shall have jurisdiction to grant such remedies.

"Sec. 122. Exemptions. Any ordinance enacted pursuant to this Chapter may provide for exemption from its coverage:

(1) the rental of a housing accommodation in a building containing accommodations for not more than four families living independently of each other if the lessor or a member of his family resides in one of those accommodations;

(2) the rental of a room or rooms in a housing accommodation by an individual if he or a member of his family resides there;

(3) with respect to discrimination based on sex, the rental or leasing of housing accommodations in single-sex dormitory property;

(4) with respect to discrimination based on religion to housing accommodations owned and operated for other than a commercial purpose by a religious organization, association, or society, or any nonprofit institution or organization operated, supervised, or controlled by or in conjunction with a religious organization, association, or society, the sale, rental or occupancy of such housing accommodation being limited or preference being given to persons of the same religion, unless membership in such religion is restricted because of race, color, national origin, or sex;

(5) any person, otherwise subject to its provisions, who adopts and carries out a plan to eliminate present effects of past discriminatory practices or to assure equal opportunity in real estate transactions, if the plan is part of a conciliation agreement entered into by that person under the provisions of the ordinance.

"Sec. 123. Enforcement. (a) The City Council may create or designate a committee or committees to assume the duty and responsibility of enforcing ordinances adopted pursuant to this Chapter. Such committee(s) may be granted the necessary authority by the City Council for the proper enforcement of any fair housing ordinance, including, but not limited to, the power to:

(1) promulgate rules for the receipt, initiation, investigation and conciliation of complaints of violations of the ordinance;

(2) require answers to interrogatories, the production of documents and things, and the entry upon land and premises in the possession of a party to a complaint alleging a violation of the ordinance; compel the attendance of witnesses at hearings; administer oaths; and examine witnesses under oath or affirmation;

(3) apply to the Superior Court Division of the General Court of Justice, upon the failure of any person to respond to or comply with a lawful interrogatory, request for production of documents and things, request to enter upon land and premises, or subpoena, for an order requiring such person to respond or comply;

(4) upon finding reasonable cause to believe that a violation of the ordinance has occurred, to petition the General Court of Justice, Superior Court Division, for appropriate civil relief on behalf of the aggrieved person or persons;

(5) sit as arbitrators in binding arbitration pursuant to the Uniform Arbitration Act, embodied in Article 45A of Chapter 1 of the North Carolina General Statutes, provided that the time within which a party may apply to the General Court of Justice to vacate, modify or correct an award may be limited to 60 days.

(b) Judicial Review of Committee Orders. Judicial review of Committee orders other than arbitration awards shall be in accordance with Article 4 of Chapter 150A of the North Carolina General Statutes provided, however, that the provisions of G.S. 150A-45 notwithstanding, petitions for judicial review shall be filed in the Superior Court of Durham County. The term "Agency," whenever used in Article 4 of the Chapter 150A of the North Carolina General Statutes, shall mean the Committee(s) as authorized or created by the City Council of the City of Durham under the authority of this act.

(c) Enforcement of Committee Orders;

(1) Decisions of a committee sitting as arbitrators shall be enforced as provided in Article 45A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes. Otherwise, if within 60 days after entry of an order of the Committee, a respondent has neither complied with nor sought review of such order, any aggrieved person or the Committee may apply to the Superior Court of Durham County for an order of the court enforcing the order of the Committee.

(2) Within 30 days after the court's receipt of the petition for enforcement of the agency's order or within such additional time as the court may allow, the Committee shall transmit to the court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceedings leading to the order. With the permission of the court, the record may be shortened and testimony submitted by tape recording by stipulation of all parties. Any party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for such additional cost as may be occasioned by the refusal. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record when deemed desirable.

(3) The hearing on the petition for enforcement of the Committee's order shall be conducted by the court without a jury. The court shall hear oral arguments and receive written briefs, but shall take no evidence not offered at the Committee's hearing; except that in cases of alleged irregularities in proceedings before the Committee not shown in the record, testimony thereon may be taken by the court; and except that where no record was made of the proceedings or the record is inadequate, the judge in his discretion, may hear all or part of the matter de novo; provided that if the order imposed includes punitive damages, then as to that portion of the order, the respondent shall have a right to a trial de novo on that issue.

(4) The court shall issue the order requiring compliance with the Committee's order unless it finds that enforcement of the Committee's order would prejudice substantial rights of the party against whom the order is sought to be enforced because the Committee's findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

a. in violation of constitutional provisions; or

b. in excess of the statutory authority of jurisdiction of the committee; or

c. made upon unlawful procedure; or

d. affected by other error of law; or

e. unsupported by substantial evidence in view of the entire record as submitted; or

f. arbitrary or capricious.

(5) If the court declines to enforce the Committee's order for one of the reasons specified in paragraph 4 of this section, it shall either:

a. dismiss the petition; or

b. modify the Committee's order and enforce it as modified; or

c. remand the case to the Committee for further proceedings.

(6) Any party to the hearing on the petition for enforcement of the Committee's order may appeal the court's decision to the appellate division under the rules of procedure applicable to other civil cases.

"Sec. 124. (a) Civil Action for Unlawful Housing Practice. An ordinance adopted pursuant to this act may permit any complainant dissatisfied with the Committee's final disposition of a matter to bring a civil action in the Superior Court Division of the General Court of Justice of Durham County against the person allegedly engaging in the unlawful practice. Such civil action for a housing practice may not be brought more than 60 days after the complainant's receipt of notification of the Committee's final disposition of the matter.

(b) Injunctions; Equitable Relief. If the court finds that the respondent has engaged in or is engaging in an unlawful housing practice charged in the compliant, the court may enjoin the respondent from engaging in such unlawful housing practice, award special damages, actual damages and award not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for additional punitive damages.

"Sec. 125. An ordinance adopted pursuant to this act may provide for an award of attorney's fees to the prevailing party in any action or proceedings under such ordinance other than the Committee in the discretion of the Committee or court.

"Sec. 126. Complaints and Other Records. The City Council may provide that neither complaints filed with any committee pursuant to the ordinance nor the discovery, or attempts at conciliation, in whatever form prepared and preserved, shall be subject to inspection, examination, of copying under the provisions of what is now Chapter 132 of the General Statutes.

"Sec. 127. Committee Meetings. The provisions relating to meetings of governmental bodies as set forth in Article 33C of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes shall apply to the activities of any committee authorized to enforce the ordinance. Provided, however, that the City Council may provide that said statutory provisions shall not apply to the activity of a committee to the extent that the committee is:

(1) receiving a complaint; or

(2) conducting an investigation, discovery, or conciliation pertaining to a complaint filed pursuant to the ordinance."

"Article 8.

"Post-Towing Procedures.

"§ 20-220. Definitions.—As used in this Article, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) 'tower' means the person who towed the vehicle;

(2) 'tow' in any of its forms includes to remove a vehicle by any means including towing and to store the vehicle;

(3) 'towing fee' means the fee charged for towing and storing.

"§ 20-221. Coverage of Article.—(a) This Article applies to each towing of a vehicle that is carried out pursuant to G.S. 115C-46(d) or G.S. 143-340(19), or pursuant to the direction of a law enforcement officer except:

(1) this Article applies to towings pursuant to G.S. 115D-21, 116-44.4, 116-226, 153A-132, and 160A-303 only insofar as specifically provided;

(2) this Article does not apply to a seizure of a vehicle under G.S. 14-86.1, 18B-504, 90-112, 113-137, or to any other seizure of a vehicle for evidence in a criminal proceeding or pursuant to any other statute providing for the forfeiture of a vehicle;

(3) this Article does not apply to a seizure of a vehicle pursuant to a levy under execution.

(b) A person who authorizes the towing of a vehicle covered by this Article, G.S. 115D-21, 116-44.4, 116-226, 153A-132, or 160A-303 is a legal possessor of the vehicle within the meaning of G.S. 44A-1(1).

"§ 20-222. Notice and probable cause hearing.—(a) Whenever a vehicle with a valid registration plate or registration is towed as provided in G.S. 20-221, the authorizing person shall immediately notify the last known registered owner of the vehicle of the following:

(1) a description of the vehicle;

(2) the place where the vehicle is stored;

(3) the violation with which the owner is charged, if any;

(4) the procedure the owner must follow to have the vehicle returned to him; and

(5) the procedure the owner must follow to request a probable cause hearing on the towing.

If the vehicle has a North Carolina registration plate or registration, notice shall be given to the owner within 24 hours; if the vehicle is not registered in this State, notice shall be given to the owner within 72 hours. This notice shall, if feasible, be given by telephone. Whether or not the owner is reached by telephone, notice shall be mailed to his last known address unless he or his agent waives this notice in writing.

(b) Whenever a vehicle with neither a valid registration plate nor registration is towed as provided in G.S. 20-221, the authorizing person shall make reasonable efforts, including checking the vehicle identification number, to determine the last known registered owner of the vehicle and to notify him of the information listed in subsection (a). Unless the owner has otherwise been given notice, it is presumed that the authorizing person has not made reasonable efforts, as required under this subsection, unless notice that the vehicle would be towed was posted on the windshield or some other conspicuous place at least seven days before the towing actually occurred; except, no pre-towing notice need be given if the vehicle impeded the flow of traffic or otherwise jeopardized the public welfare so that immediate towing was necessary.

(c) The owner or any other person entitled to claim possession of the vehicle may request in writing a hearing to determine if probable cause existed for the towing. The request shall be filed with the magistrate in the county where the vehicle was towed. If there is more than one magistrate's office in that county, the request may be filed with the magistrate in the warrant-issuing office in the county seat or in any other office designated to receive requests by the chief district court judge. The magistrate shall set the hearing within 72 hours of his receiving the request. The owner, the person who requested the hearing if someone other than the owner, the tower, and the person who authorized the towing shall be notified of the time and place of the hearing.

(d) The owner, the tower, the person who authorized the towing, and any other interested parties may present evidence at the hearing. The person authorizing the towing and the tower may submit an affidavit in lieu of appearing personally, but the affidavit does not preclude that person from also testifying.

(e) The only issue at this hearing is whether or not probable cause existed for the towing. If the magistrate finds that probable cause did exist, the tower's lien continues. If the magistrate finds that probable cause did not exist, the tower's lien is extinguished.

(f) Any aggrieved party may appeal the magistrate's decision to district court.

"§ 20-223. Option to pay or post bond.—At any stage in the proceedings, including before the probable cause hearing, the owner may obtain possession of his vehicle by:

(1) paying the towing fee, or

(2) posting a bond for double the amount of the towing fee.

"§ 20-224. Hearing on lien.—The tower may seek to enforce his lien or the owner may seek to contest the lien pursuant to Chapter 44A.

"§ 20-225. Payment to tower guaranteed.—Every agency whose law enforcement officers act pursuant to this Article, G.S. 115D-21, 116-44.4, 116-226, 153A-132, or 160A-303 shall by contract or rules provide compensation to the tower if a court finds no probable cause existed for the towing."

"(3b) Chemical Analyst. A person granted a permit by the Department of Human Resources under G.S. 20-139.1 to perform chemical analyses.

"(14a) Impairing Substance. Alcohol, controlled substance under Chapter 90 of the General Statutes, any other drug or psychoactive substance capable of impairing a person's physical or mental faculties, or any combination of these substances.

"(24a) Offense Involving Impaired Driving. Any of the following offenses:

a. Impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1.

b. Death by vehicle under G.S. 20-141.4 when conviction is based upon impaired driving or a substantially equivalent offense under previous law.

c. Involuntary manslaughter under G.S. 14-18 when conviction is based upon impaired driving or a substantially equivalent offense under previous law.

d. An offense committed in another jurisdiction substantially equivalent to the offenses in subparagraphs a through c.

e. A repealed or superseded offense substantially equivalent to impaired driving, including offenses under former G.S. 20-138 or G.S. 20-139.

"(32) Public Vehicular Area. Any area within the State of North Carolina that is generally open to and used by the public, including by way of illustration and not limitation any drive, driveway, road, roadway, street, alley, or parking lot upon the grounds and premises of:

a. Any public or private hospital, college, university, school, orphanage, church, or any of the institutions, parks or other facilities maintained and supported by the State of North Carolina or any of its subdivisions; or

b. Any service station, drive-in theater, supermarket, store, restaurant, or office building, or any other business, residential, or municipal establishment providing parking space for customers, patrons, or the public; or

c. Any property owned by the United States and subject to the jurisdiction of the State of North Carolina. (The inclusion of property owned by the United States in this definition shall not limit assimilation of North Carolina law when applicable under the provisions of Title 18, United States Code, Section 13.)

The term 'public vehicular area' shall also include any beach area used by the public for vehicular traffic as well as any road opened to vehicular traffic within or leading to a subdivision for use by subdivision residents, their guests, and members of the public, whether or not the subdivision roads have been offered for dedication to the public. The term 'public vehicular area' shall not be construed to mean any private property not generally open to and used by the public.

"(48a) Under the Influence of an Impairing Substance. The state of a person having his physical or mental faculties, or both, appreciably impaired by an impairing substance."

—IMPAIRED INSTRUCTION.

Sec. 9. G.S. 20-12.1 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-12.1. Impaired instruction.—(a) It is unlawful for any person to accompany another person driving a motor vehicle, in accordance with G.S. 20-11, or instruct another person driving a motor vehicle, in accordance with G.S. 20-7(l-1) and (m) or G.S. 20-12:

(1) While the person accompanying or instructing is under the influence of an impairing substance; or

(2) After having consumed sufficient alcohol that he has, at any relevant time after the driving, an alcohol concentration of 0.10 or more.

(b) An offense under this section is an implied-consent offense under G.S. 20-16.2."

—REVOCATION FOR IMPAIRED INSTRUCTION OR MILITARY REVOCATION.

Sec. 10. G.S. 20-16(a) is amended by deleting the period at the end of subdivision (8) and replacing it with ";" and by adding the following two subdivisions:

"(8a) Has been convicted of impaired instruction under G.S. 20-12.1;

"(8b) Has violated on a military installation a regulation of that installation prohibiting conduct substantially equivalent to conduct that constitutes impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1 and, as a result of that violation, has had his privilege to drive on that installation revoked or suspended after an administrative hearing authorized by the commanding officer of the installation and that commanding officer has general court martial jurisdiction;".

—IMPLIED CONSENT; REVOCATION FOR REFUSAL.

Sec. 11. G.S. 20-16.2 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-16.2. Implied consent to chemical analysis; mandator revocation of license in event of refusal; right of driver to request analysis.—(a) Basis for Charging Officer To Require Chemical Analysis; Notification of Rights. Any person who drives a vehicle on a highway or public vehicular area thereby gives consent to a chemical analysis if he is charged with an implied-consent offense. The charging officer must designate the type of chemical analysis to be administered, and it may be administered when he has reasonable grounds to believe that the person charged has committed the implied-consent offense. Except as provided in subsection (b), the person charged must be taken before a chemical analyst authorized to administer a test of a person's breath, who must inform the person orally and also give him a notice in writing that:

(1) He has a right to refuse to be tested.

(2) Refusal to take any required test or tests will result in an immediate revocation of his driving privilege for at least 10 days and an additional 12-month revocation by the Division of Motor Vehicles.

(3) The test results, or the fact of his refusal, will be admissible in evidence at trial on the offense charged.

(4) If any test reveals an alcohol concentration of 0.10 or more, his driving privilege will be revoked immediately for at least 10 days.

(5) He may have a qualified person of his own choosing administer a chemical test or tests in addition to any test administered at the direction of the charging officer.

(6) He has the right to call an attorney and select a witness to view for him the testing procedures, but the testing may not be delayed for these purposes longer than 30 minutes from the time he is notified of his rights.

(a1) Meaning of Terms. Under this section, an 'implied-consent offense' is an offense involving impaired driving or an alcohol-related offense made subject to the procedures of this section. A person is 'charged' with an offense if he is arrested for it or if criminal process for the offense has been issued. A 'charging officer' is a law enforcement officer who arrests the person charged, lodges the charge, or assists the officer who arrested the person or lodged the charge by assuming custody of the person to make the request required by subsection (c) and, if necessary, to present the person to a judical official for an initial appearance.

(b) Unconscious Person May be Tested. If a charging officer has reasonable grounds to believe that a person has committed an implied-consent offense, and the person is unconscious or otherwise in a condition that makes him incapable of refusal, the charging officer may direct the taking of a blood sample by a person qualified under G.S. 20-139.1 or may direct the administration of any other chemical analysis that may be effectively performed. In this instance the notification of rights set out in subsection (a) and the request required by subsection (c) are not necessary.

(c) Request To Submit to Chemical Analysis; Procedure upon Refusal. The charging officer, in the presence of the chemical analyst who has notified the person of his rights under subsection (a), must request the person charged to submit to the type of chemical analysis designated. If the person charged willfully refuses to submit to that chemical analysis, none may be given under the provisions of this section, but the refusal does not preclude testing under other applicable procedures of law. Then the charging officer and the chemical analyst must without unnecessary delay go before an official authorized to administer oaths and execute an affidavit stating that the person charged, after being advised of his rights under subsection (a), willfully refused to submit to a chemical analysis at the request of the charging officer. The charging officer must immediately mail the affidavit to the Division. If the person's refusal to submit to a chemical analysis occurs in a case involving death or critical injury to another person, the charging officer must include that fact in the affidavit mailed to the Division.

(d) Consequences of Refusal; Right to Hearing Before Division; Issues. Upon receipt of a properly executed affidavit required by subsection (c), the Division must expeditiously notify the person charged that his license to drive is revoked for 12 months, effective on the tenth calendar day after the mailing of the revocation order unless, before the effective date of the order, the person requests in writing a hearing before the Division. If the person properly requests a hearing, he retains his license, unless it is revoked under some other provision of law, until the hearing is held, the person withdraws his request, or he fails to appear at a scheduled hearing. The person may request the hearing officer to subpoena the charging officer, the chemical analyst, or both to appear at the hearing if he makes the request in writing at least three days before the hearing. The person may subpoena any other witness he deems necessary, and the provisions of G.S. 1A-1, Rule 45, apply to the issuance and service of all subpoenas issued under the authority of this section. The hearing must be conducted in the county where the charge was brought, under the provisions for hearings held under G.S. 20-16(d), except that the hearing is limited to consideration of whether:

(1) The person was charged with an implied-consent offense;

(2) The charging officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person had committed an implied-consent offense;

(3) The implied-consent offense charged involved death or critical injury to another person, if this allegation is in the affidavit;

(4) The person was notified of his rights as required by subsection (a); and

(5) The person willfully refused to submit to a chemical analysis upon the request of the charging officer.

If the Division finds that the conditions specified in this subsection are met, it must order the revocation sustained. If the Division finds that any of the conditions is not met, it must rescind the revocation. If the revocation is sustained, the person must surrender his license immediately upon notification by the Division.

(d1) Consequences of Refusal in Case Involving Death or Critical Injury. If the refusal occurred in a case involving death or critical injury to another person, no limited driving privilege may be issued. The 12-month revocation begins only after all other periods of revocation have terminated unless the person's license is revoked pursuant to G.S. 20-28, 20-28.1, 20-19(d), or 20-19(e). If the revocation is based on those sections, the revocation under this subsection begins at the time and in the manner specified in subsection (d) for revocations under this section. However, the person's eligibility for a hearing to determine if the revocation under those sections should be rescinded is postponed for one year from the date he would otherwise have been eligible for such a hearing. If the person's driver's license is again revoked while the 12-month revocation under this subsection is in effect, that revocation, whether imposed by a court or by the Division, may only take effect after the period of revocation under this subsection has terminated.

(e) Right to Hearing in Superior Court. If the revocation is sustained after the hearing, the person whose license has been revoked has the right to file a petition in the superior court for a hearing de novo upon the issues listed in subsection (d), in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided in G.S. 20-25 except that the de novo hearing is conducted in the judicial district where the charge was made.

(e1) Limited Driving Privilege after Six Months in Certain Instances. A person whose driver's license has been revoked under this section may apply for and a judge authorized to do so by this subsection may issue a limited driving privilege if:

(1) At the time of the refusal, the applicant held a valid driver's license;

(2) At the time of the refusal, he had not within the preceding 10 years been convicted of an offense involving impaired driving;

(3) At the time of the refusal, he had not in the preceding 10 years willfully refused to submit to a chemical analysis under this section;

(4) The implied-consent offense charged did not involve death or critical injury to another person;

(5) The underlying charge for which the defendant was requested to submit to a chemical analysis has been finally disposed of:

a. Other than by conviction; or

b. By a conviction of impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1, at a punishment level authorizing issuance of a limited driving privilege under G.S. 20-179.3(b), and he has complied with at least one of the mandatory conditions of probation listed for the punishment level under which he was sentenced;

(6) Subsequent to the refusal he has had no unresolved pending charges for or additional convictions of an offense involving impaired driving; and

(7) His license has been revoked for at least six months for the refusal.

Except as modified in this subsection, the provisions of G.S. 20-179.3 relating to the procedure for application and conduct of the hearing and the restrictions required or authorized to be included in the limited driving privilege apply to applications under this subsection. If the case was finally disposed of in the district court, the hearing must be conducted in the district in which the refusal occurred by a district court judge. If the case was finally disposed of in the superior court, the hearing must be conducted in the district in which the refusal occurred by a superior court judge. A limited driving privilege issued under this section authorizes a person to drive if his license is revoked solely under this section or solely under this section and G.S. 20-17(2). If the person's license is revoked for any other reason, the limited driving privilege is invalid.

(f) Notice to Other States as to Nonresidents. When it has been finally determined under the procedures of this section that a nonresident's privilege to drive a motor vehicle in this State has been revoked, the Division must give information in writing of the action taken to the motor vehicle administrator of the state of the person's residence and of any state in which he has a license.

(g) Repealed.

(h) Repealed.

(i) Right to Chemical Analysis Before Arrest or Charge. A person stopped or questioned by a law enforcement officer who is investigating whether the person may have committed an implied-consent offense may request the administration of a chemical analysis before any arrest or other charge is made for the offense. Upon this request, the officer must afford the person the opportunity to have a chemical analysis, if available, upon the procedures applicable had the person been charged. The request constitutes the person's consent to be transported by the law enforcement officer to the place where the chemical analysis is to be administered. Before the chemical analysis is made, the person must sign a form, to be supplied by the Division, confirming his request. The results of the chemical analysis are admissible in evidence in any proceeding in which they are relevant."

—PRELIMINARY ROADSIDE TESTING.

Sec. 12. G.S. 20-16.3 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-16.3. Alcohol screening tests required of certain drivers; approval of test devices and manner of use by Commission for Health Services; use of test results or refusal.—(a) When Alcohol Screening Test May Be Required; Not an Arrest. A law enforcement officer may require the driver of a vehicle to submit to an alcohol screening test within a relevant time after the driving if the officer has:

(1) Reasonable grounds to believe that the driver has consumed alcohol and has:

a. Committed a moving traffic violation; or

b. Been involved in an accident or collision; or

(2) An articulable and reasonable suspicion that the driver has committed an implied-consent offense under G.S. 20-16.2, and the driver has been lawfully stopped for a driver's license check or otherwise lawfully stopped or lawfully encountered by the officer in the course of the performance of the officer's duties.

Requiring a driver to submit to an alcohol screening test in accordance with this section does not in itself constitute an arrest.

(b) Approval of Screening Devices and Manner of Use. The Commission for Health Services is directed to examine and approve devices suitable for use by law enforcement officers in making on-the-scene tests of drivers for alcohol concentration. For each alcohol screening device or class of devices approved, the Commission must adopt regulations governing the manner of use of the device. For any alcohol screening device that tests the breath of a driver, the Commission is directed to specify in its regulations the shortest feasible minimum waiting period that does not produce an unacceptably high number of false positive test results.

(c) Tests Must Be Made with Approved Devices and in Approved Manner. No screening test for alcohol concentration is a valid one under this section unless the device used is one approved by the Commission for Health Services and the screening test is conducted in accordance with the applicable regulations of the Commission as to the manner of its use.

(d) Use of Screening Test Results or Refusal by Officer. The results of an alcohol screening test or a driver's refusal to submit may be used by a law enforcement officer, a court, or an administrative agency in determining if there are reasonable grounds for believing that the driver has committed an implied-consent offense under G.S. 20-16.2. Negative or low results on the alcohol screening test may be used in factually appropriate cases by the officer, a court, or an administrative agency in determining whether a person's alleged impairment is caused by an impairing substance other than alcohol. Except as provided in this subsection, the results of an alcohol screening test may not be admitted in evidence in any court or administrative proceeding."

—REVOCATION FOR FAILURE TO COMPLETE DUI SCHOOL.

Sec. 13. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new G.S. 20-16.4 to read as follows:

"§ 20-16.4. Revocation for failure to complete Alcohol and Drug Education Traffic School.—(a) Division Must Revoke upon Notice of Willful Failure. Upon receipt of notice from an Alcohol and Drug Education Traffic School that a person assigned to the school as a court-imposed condition of probation has willfully failed to complete the program of instruction at the school successfully, the Division must revoke the person's driver's license for 12 months. A limited driving privilege does not authorize a person to drive while his license is revoked pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(b) Right of Notification and Hearing. Upon receipt of a properly executed notice of failure from the school, the Division must expeditiously notify the person that his license is revoked for 12 months, effective on the tenth calendar day after the mailing of the revocation order unless, before the effective date of the order, the person requests in writing a hearing before the Division. If the person properly requests a hearing, he retains his license, unless it is revoked under some other provision of law, until the hearing is held, the person withdraws the request, or he fails to appear at a scheduled hearing. The person may request the hearing officer to subpoena the appropriate school personnel to appear in person at the hearing if he makes the request in writing at least three days before the hearing. The person may subpoena any other witness he deems necessary, and the provisions of G.S. 1A-1, Rule 45, apply to the issuance and service of all subpoenas issued under the authority of this section.

(c) Hearing Procedures; Issues. The hearing must be conducted in the county where the school is located, under the provisions for hearings held under G.S. 20-16(d), except that the hearing is limited to consideration of whether:

(1) The person was validly assigned to the school by a court;

(2) The person failed to complete the course of instruction successfully; and

(3) The failure was willful.

If the Division finds that the conditions specified in this subsection are met, it must order the revocation sustained. If the Division finds that any of the conditions is not met, it must rescind the revocation. If the revocation is sustained, the person must surrender his license immediately upon notification by the Division. The person may file a petition in superior court for a de novo review of the issues listed in this section, in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided in G.S. 20-25, except that the hearing must be held in the judicial district in which the school is located.

(d) When Failure Not Willful. A failure to complete the course of instruction successfully is not willful if it is based solely on a failure:

(1) To pay the prescribed fee and the person was unable to pay after making reasonable efforts to secure funds to pay it; or

(2) To attend classes and the person was unable to attend because of reasons over which he had no control other than alcoholism or drug abuse."

—TEN-DAY, IMMEDIATE PRETRIAL REVOCATION.

Sec. 14. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section, G.S. 20-16.5, to read as follows:

"§ 20-16.5. Immediate civil license revocation for certain persons charged with implied-consent offenses.—(a) Definitions. As used in this section the following words and phrases have the following meanings:

(1) Charging Officer. As described in G.S. 20-16.2(a1).

(2) Clerk. As defined in G.S. 15A-101(2).

(3) Judicial Official. As defined in G.S. 15A-101(5).

(4) Revocation Report. A sworn statement by a charging officer and a chemical analyst containing facts indicating that the conditions of subsection (b) have been met. When one chemical analyst analyzes a person's blood and another chemical analyst informs a person of his rights and responsibilities under G.S. 20-16.2, the report must include the statements of both analysts.

(5) Surrender of a Driver's License. The act of turning over to a court or a law enforcement officer the person's most recent, valid driver's license or learner's permit issued by the Division or by a similar agency in another jurisdiction, or a limited driving privilege issued by a North Carolina court.

(b) Revocations for Persons Who Refuse Chemical Analyses or Have Alcohol Concentrations of 0.10 or More. A person's driver's license is subject to revocation under this section if:

(1) A law enforcement officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the person has committed an offense subject to the implied-consent provisions of G.S. 20-16.2;

(2) The person is charged with that offense as provided in G.S. 20-16.2(a);

(3) The charging officer and the chemical analyst comply with the procedures of G.S. 20-16.2 and G.S. 20-139.1 in requiring the person's submission to or procuring a chemical analysis; and

(4) The person:

a. Willfully refuses to submit to the chemical analysis; or

b. Has an alcohol concentration of 0.10 or more within a relevant time after the driving.

(c) Duty of Charging Officers and Chemical Analysts to Report to Judicial Officials. If a person's driver's license is subject to revocation under this section, the charging officer and the chemical analyst must execute a revocation report. If the person has refused to submit to a chemical analysis, a copy of the report to be submitted to the Division under G.S. 20-16.2(c) may be substituted for the revocation report if it contains the information required by this section. It is the specific duty of the charging officer to make sure that the report is expeditiously filed with a judicial official as required by this section.

(d) Which Judicial Official Must Receive Report. The judicial official with whom the revocation report must be filed is:

(1) The judicial official conducting the initial appearance on the underlying criminal charge if:

a. No revocation report has previously been filed; and

b. At the time of the initial appearance the results of the chemical analysis, if administered, or the reports indicating a refusal, are available.

(2) A judicial official conducting any other proceeding relating to the underlying criminal charge at which the person is present, if no report has previously been filed.

(3) The clerk of superior court in the county in which the underlying criminal charge has been brought if subdivisions (1) and (2) are not applicable at the time the charging officer must file the report.

(e) Procedure if Report Filed with Judicial Official When Person Is Present. If a properly executed revocation report concerning a person is filed with a judicial official when the person is present before that official, the judicial official must, after completing any other proceedings involving the person, determine whether there is probable cause to believe that each of the conditions of subsection (b) has been met. If he determines that there is such probable cause, he must enter an order revoking the person's driver's license for the period required in this subsection. The judicial official must order the person to surrender his license and if necessary may order a law enforcement officer to seize the license. The judicial official must give the person a copy of the revocation order. In addition to setting it out in the order the judicial official must personally inform the person of his right to a hearing as specified in subsection (g), and that his license remains revoked pending the hearing. Unless the person is not currently licensed, the revocation under this subsection begins at the time the revocation order is issued and continues until the person's license has been surrendered for 10 days and the person has paid the applicable costs. If the person is not currently licensed, the revocation continues until 10 days from the date the revocation order is issued and the person has paid the applicable costs.

(f) Procedure if Report Filed with Clerk of Court When Person Not Present. When a clerk receives a properly executed report under subdivision (d)(3) and the person named in the revocation report is not present before the clerk, the clerk must determine whether there is probable cause to believe that each of the conditions of subsection (b) has been met. If he determines that there is such probable cause, he must mail to the person a revocation order by first class mail. The order must direct that the person on or before the effective date of the order either surrender his license to the clerk or appear before the clerk and demonstrate that he is not currently licensed, and the order must inform the person of the time and effective date of the revocation and of its duration, of his right to a hearing as specified in subsection (g), and that the revocation remains in effect pending the hearing. Revocation orders mailed under this subsection become effective on the fourth day after the order is deposited in the United States mail. If within five working days of the effective date of the order, the person does not surrender his license to the clerk or appear before the clerk to demonstrate that he is not currently licensed, the clerk must immediately issue a pick-up order. The pick-up order under this subsection may be issued by the clerk to any law enforcement officer to pick up the person's driver's license in accordance with G.S. 20-29 as if the pick-up order had been issued by the Division. A revocation under this subsection begins at the date specified in the order and continues until the person's license has been revoked for the period specified in this subsection and the person has paid the applicable costs. The period of revocation under this subsection is:

(1) Ten days from the time the person surrenders his license to the court, if the surrender occurs within five working days of the effective date of the order; or

(2) Ten days after the person appears before the clerk and demonstrates that he is not currently licensed to drive, if the appearance occurs within five working days of the effective date of the revocation order; or

(3) Thirty days from the time:

a. The person's driver's license is picked up by a law enforcement officer following service of a pick-up order; or

b. The person demonstrates to a law enforcement officer who has a pick-up order for his license that he is not currently licensed; or

c. The person's driver's license is surrendered to the court if the surrender occurs more than five working days after the effective date of the revocation order; or

d. The person appears before the clerk to demonstrate that he is not currently licensed, if he appears more than five working days after the effective date of the revocation order.

When a pick-up order is issued, it must inform the person of his right to a hearing as specified in subsection (g), and that the revocation remains in effect pending the hearing. An officer serving a pick-up order under this subsection must return the order to the court indicating the date it was served or that he was unable to serve the order. If the license was surrendered, the officer serving the order must deposit it with the clerk within three days of the surrender.

(g) Hearing Before Magistrate or Judge if Person Contests Validity of Revocation. A person whose license is revoked under this section may request in writing a hearing to contest the validity of the revocation. The request may be made at the time of the person's initial appearance, or at any later time to the clerk or a magistrate designated by the clerk, and may specifically request that the hearing be conducted by a district court judge. The Administrative Office of the Courts must develop a hearing request form for any person requesting a hearing. Unless a district court judge is requested, the hearing must be conducted within the county by a magistrate assigned by the chief district judge to conduct such hearings. If the person requests that a district court judge hold the hearing, the hearing must be conducted within the judicial district by a district court judge assigned to conduct such hearings. The revocation remains in effect pending the hearing, but the hearing must be held within three working days following the request if the hearing is before a magistrate or within five working days if the hearing is before a district court judge. The request for the hearing must specify the grounds upon which the validity of the revocation is challenged. A witness may submit his evidence by affidavit unless he is subpoenaed to appear. Any person who appears and testifies is subject to questioning by the judicial official conducting the hearing, and the judicial official may adjourn the hearing to seek additional evidence if he is not satisfied with the accuracy or completeness of evidence. The person contesting the validity of the revocation may, but is not required to, testify in his own behalf. Unless contested by the person requesting the hearing, the judicial official may accept as true any matter stated in the revocation report. If any relevant condition under subsection (b) is contested, the judicial official must find by the greater weight of the evidence that the condition was met in order to sustain the revocation. At the conclusion of the hearing the judicial official must enter an order sustaining or rescinding the revocation. The judicial official's findings are without prejudice to the person contesting the revocation and to any other potential party as to any other proceedings, civil or criminal, that may involve facts bearing upon the conditions in subsection (b) considered by the judicial official. The decision of the judicial official is final and may not be appealed in the General Court of Justice. If the hearing is not held and completed within three working days of the written request for a hearing before a magistrate or within five working days of the written request for a hearing before a district court judge, the judicial official must enter an order rescinding the revocation, unless the person contesting the revocation contributed to the delay in completing the hearing.

(h) Return of License. After the applicable period of revocation under this section, or if the magistrate or judge orders the revocation rescinded, the person whose license was revoked may apply to the clerk for return of his surrendered license. Unless the clerk finds that the person is not eligible to use the surrendered license, he must return it if:

(1) The applicable period of revocation has passed and the person has tendered payment for the costs under subsection (j); or

(2) The magistrate or judge has ordered the revocation rescinded.

If the license has expired, he may return it to the person with a caution that it is no longer valid. Otherwise, if the person is not eligible to use the license and the license was issued by the Division or in another state, the clerk must mail it to the Division. If the person has surrendered his copy of a limited driving privilege and he is no longer eligible to use it, the clerk must make a record that he has withheld the limited driving privilege and forward that record to the clerk in the county in which the limited driving privilege was issued for filing in the case file.

(i) Effect of Revocations. A revocation under this section revokes a person's privilege to drive in North Carolina whatever the source of his authorization to drive. Revocations under this section are independent of and run concurrently with any other revocations. No court imposing a period of revocation following conviction of an offense involving impaired driving may give credit for any period of revocation imposed under this section. A person is not eligible for a limited driving privilege under any statute while his license is revoked under this section.

(j) Costs. Unless the magistrate or judge orders the revocation rescinded, a person whose license is revoked under this section must pay a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) as costs for the action before his license may be returned under subsection (h). The costs collected under this section go to the State.

(k) Report to Division. Except as provided below, the clerk must mail a report to the Division within 10 working days of the return of a license under this section or of the termination of a revocation of the driving privilege of a person not currently licensed. The report must identify the person whose license has been revoked and specify the dates on which his license was revoked. No report need be made to the Division, however, if there was a surrender of the driver's license issued by the Division, a ten-day minimum revocation was imposed, and the license was properly returned to the person under subsection (h) within five working days after the ten-day period had elapsed.

(l) Restoration Fee for Unlicensed Persons. If a person whose license is revoked under this section has no valid license, he must pay the restoration fee required by G.S. 20-7 before he may apply for a license from the Division.

(m) Modification of Revocation Order. Any judicial official presiding over a proceeding under this section may issue a modified order if he determines that an inappropriate order has been issued.

(n) Exception for Revoked Licenses. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, if the judicial official required to issue a revocation order under this section determines that the person whose license is subject to revocation under subsection (b):

(1) Has a currently revoked driver's license;

(2) Has no limited driving privilege; and

(3) Will not become eligible for restoration of his license or for a limited driving privilege during the period of revocation required by this section, the judicial official need not issue a revocation order under this section. In this event the judicial official must file in the records of the civil proceeding a copy of any documentary evidence and set out in writing all other evidence on which he relies in making his determination.

(o) Designation of Proceedings. Proceedings under this section are civil actions, and must be identified by the caption 'In the Matter of ____' and filed as directed by the Administrative Office of the Courts."

—REVOCATION FOR IMPAIRED DRIVING CONVICTION.

Sec. 15. G.S. 20-17(2) is rewritten to read as follows:

"(2) Impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1."

—DMV PROCEDURE AFTER COURT-ORDERED REVOCATIONS.

Sec. 16. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended to add a new G.S. 20-17.2 to read as follows:

"§ 20-17.2. Court-ordered revocations for offenses involving impaired driving; procedure for notice.—When a person convicted of an offense involving impaired driving is ordered by a court not to operate a motor vehicle for a specified period of time as a condition of probation, the Division, upon receiving a copy of the judgment, must revoke the person's driver's license for the period and dates specified in the order of the court. The entry of the probationary judgment by the court is notice to the person that his license is revoked, and the Division need not notify the person of his revocation. In judgment forms for use in impaired driving cases under G.S. 20-138.1 the Administrative Office of the Courts must provide for inclusion of a notice provision, when applicable, of the terms of this section."

—LENGTHS OF REVOCATIONS FOR IMPAIRED DRIVING.

Sec. 17. G.S. 20-19 is amended by repealing subsection (h), adding a new subsection (i), and rewriting subsections (c1), (d), and (e) to read as follows:

"(c1) When a license is revoked under subdivision (2) of G.S. 20-17, and the period of revocation is not determined by subsection (d) or (e) of this section, the period of revocation is one year.

(d) When a person's license is revoked under subdivision (2) of G.S. 20-17 and the person has another conviction of an offense involving impaired driving, occurring within the three years immediately preceding the date of the offense for which his license is being revoked, the period of revocation is four years, and this period may be reduced only as provided in this section. The Division may conditionally restore the person's license after it has been revoked for at least two years under this subsection if he provides the Division with satisfactory proof that:

(1) He has not in the period of revocation been convicted in North Carolina or any other state or federal jurisdiction of a motor vehicle offense, an alcoholic beverage control law offense, a drug law offense, or any other criminal offense involving the possession or consumption of alcohol or drugs; and

(2) He is not currently an excessive user of alcohol or drugs.

If the Division restores the person's license, it may place reasonable conditions or restrictions on the person for the duration of the original revocation period.

(e) When a person's license is revoked under subdivision (2) of G.S. 20-17 and the person has two or more previous convictions of an offense involving impaired driving, and the most recent conviction occurred within the five years immediately preceding the date of the offense for which his license is being revoked, the revocation is permanent. The Division may, however, conditionally restore the person's license after it has been revoked for at least three years under this subsection if he provides the Division with satisfactory proof that:

(1) In the three years immediately preceding the person's application for a restored license, he has not been convicted in North Carolina or in any other state or federal court of a motor vehicle offense, an alcohol beverage control law offense, a drug law offense, or any criminal offense involving the consumption of alcohol or drugs; and

(2) He is not currently an excessive user of alcohol or drugs.

If the Division restores the person's license, it may place reasonable conditions or restrictions on the person for any period up to three years from the date of restoration.

(i) When a person's license is revoked under subdivision (1) or (9) of G.S. 20-17 and the offense is one involving impaired driving, the revocation is permanent. The Division may, however, conditionally restore the person's license after it has been revoked for at least three years in accordance with the procedure in subsection (e) of this section."

—REVOCATION FOR FEDERAL COURT CONVICTIONS.

Sec. 18. G.S. 20-23.2 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-23.2. Suspension of license for conviction of offense involving impaired driving in federal court.—Upon receipt of notice of conviction in any court of the federal government of an offense involving impaired driving, the Division is authorized to revoke the driving privilege of the person convicted in the same manner as if the conviction had occurred in a court of this State."

—CONVICTION DEFINED.

Sec. 19. G.S. 20-24, as it appears in the 1981 Cumulative Supplement to the 1978 Replacement Volume 1C of the General Statutes, is amended in subdivision (c)(1) by inserting "with a magistrate's order or" between "served" and "with" on line 7 of the subsection, and is further amended by adding a new subsection to read as follows:

"(e) When a court sends a report of a conviction of manslaughter to the Division, it must indicate on that report whether the manslaughter conviction is one involving impaired driving."

—CERTIFIED RECORDS BY P.I.N.

Sec. 20. G.S. 20-26(b) is amended by deleting the second sentence and inserting in its place the following sentences: "A certified copy of a driver's records kept pursuant to subsection (a) may be sent by the Police Information Network. In addition to the uses authorized by G.S. 8-35.1, a copy certified under the authority of this section is admissible as prima facie evidence of the status of the person's license."

—FORFEITURE OF VEHICLE.

Section 21. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new G.S. 20-28.2 to read:

"§ 20-28.2. Forfeiture of motor vehicle for impaired driving after impaired driving license revocation.—(a) Meaning of 'Impaired Driving License Revocation'. The revocation of a person's driver's license is an impaired driving license revocation if the revocation is pursuant to:

(1) G.S. 20-13.2, 20-16(a)(8b), 20-16.2, 20-16.4, 20-16.5, 20-17(2), or 20-17.2; or

(2) G.S. 20-16(7), 20-17(1), or 20-17(9), if the offense involves impaired driving.

(b) When Motor Vehicle Becomes Property Subject to Forfeiture. If at a sentencing hearing conducted pursuant to G.S. 20-179 the judge determines that the grossly aggravating factor described in G.S. 20-179(c)(2) applies, the motor vehicle that was driven by the defendant at the time he committed the offense of impaired driving becomes property subject to forfeiture.

(c) Duty of Prosecutor To Notify Possible Innocent Parties. In any case in which a prosecutor determines that a motor vehicle driven by a defendant may be subject to forfeiture under this section, the prosecutor must determine the identity of the vehicle owner as shown on the certificate of title for the vehicle and he must also determine if there are any security interests noted on the vehicle's certificate of title. The State must notify the holder of each security interest that the vehicle may be subject to forfeiture and that he may intervene to protect his interest. If the defendant is not the owner, a similar notice must be served on the owner. The notice may be served by any means reasonably likely to provide actual notice, and must be served at least fourteen days before the forfeiture hearing.

(d) Duty of Judge. The judge at sentencing must hold a hearing to determine if the vehicle should be forfeited. At the hearing the judge may order the forfeiture if he finds that:

(1) The vehicle is subject to forfeiture;

(2) The vehicle is not primarily used by a member of the defendant's family or household for a business purpose or for driving to and from work or school;

(3) All potential innocent parties have been notified as required in subsection (c); and

(4) No party has shown that he is an innocent party as described in subsection (f).

If the owner or the holder of a security interest has not been notified, the judge may continue the hearing to allow the State to serve the notice or he may decline to order forfeiture. In any case in which a judge does not order the forfeiture of a vehicle subject to forfeiture, he must enter into the record detailed, written reasons for his decision.

(e) Sale of Forfeited Vehicle Required. If the judge orders forfeiture of the vehicle pursuant to this section, he must order the sale of the vehicle. Proceeds of the sale must be paid to the school fund of the county in which the property was seized.

(f) Innocent Party May Intervene. At any time before the forfeiture is ordered, the property owner or holder of a security interest, other than the defendant, may apply to protect his interest in the motor vehicle. The application may be made to a judge who has jurisdiction to try the impaired driving offense with which the motor vehicle is associated. The judge must order the vehicle returned to the owner if he finds that either the owner or the holder of a security interest is an innocent party. An owner or holder of a security interest is an innocent party if he:

(1) Did not know and had no reason to know that the defendant's driver's license was revoked; or

(2) Knew that the defendant's driver's license was revoked, but the defendant drove the vehicle without his consent.

If an innocent party applies after the forfeited motor vehicle has been sold and the judge finds no laches in the innocent party's delay, the judge may order a payment to the innocent party from the net proceeds of the sale equal to his equity or security interest in the vehicle."

—IMPAIRED DRIVING CHECKS.

Sec. 22. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new G.S. 20-16.3A to read as follows:

"§ 20-16.3A. Impaired driving checks.—A law enforcement agency may make impaired driving checks of drivers of vehicles on highways and public vehicular areas if the agency:

(1) Develops a systematic plan in advance that takes into account the likelihood of detecting impaired drivers, traffic conditions, number of vehicles to be stopped, and the convenience of the motoring public.

(2) Designates in advance the pattern both for stopping vehicles and for requesting drivers that are stopped to submit to alcohol screening tests. The plan may include contingency provisions for altering either pattern if actual traffic conditions are different from those anticipated, but no individual officer may be given discretion as to which vehicle is stopped or, of the vehicles stopped, which driver is requested to submit to an alcohol screening test.

(3) Marks the area in which checks are conducted to advise the public that an authorized impaired driving check is being made.

This section does not prevent an officer from using the authority of G.S. 20-16.3 to request a screening test if, in the course of dealing with a driver under the authority of this section, he develops grounds for requesting such a test under G.S. 20-16.3. Alcohol screening tests and the results from them are subject to the provisions of subsections (b), (c), and (d) of G.S. 20-16.3. This section does not limit the authority of a law enforcement officer or agency to conduct a license check independently or in conjunction with the impaired driving check, to administer psychophysical tests to screen for impairment, or to utilize roadblocks or other types of vehicle checks or checkpoints that are consistent with the laws of this State and the Constitution of North Carolina and of the United States."

—REPEAL OF PRESENT OFFENSES.

Sec. 23. G.S. 20-138, 20-139, 20-140(c), and 20-140(e) are repealed.

—IMPAIRED DRIVING OFFENSE DEFINED.

Sec. 24. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by noting that G.S. 20-138.2 is reserved for future codification purposes and by adding a new G.S. 20-138.1 to read as follows:

"§ 20-138.1. Impaired driving.—(a) Offense. A person commits the offense of impaired driving if he drives any vehicle upon any highway, any street, or any public vehicular area within this State:

(1) While under the influence of an impairing substance; or

(2) After having consumed sufficient alcohol that he has, at any relevant time after the driving, an alcohol concentration of 0.10 or more.

(b) Defense Precluded. The fact that a person charged with violating this section is or has been legally entitled to use alcohol or a drug is not a defense to a charge under this section.

(c) Pleading. In any prosecution for impaired driving, the pleading is sufficient if it states the time and place of the alleged offense in the usual form and charges that the defendant drove a vehicle on a highway or public vehicular area while subject to an impairing substance.

(d) Sentencing Hearing and Punishment. Impaired driving as defined in this section is a misdemeanor. Upon conviction of a defendant of impaired driving, the presiding judge must hold a sentencing hearing and impose punishment in accordance with G.S. 20-179."

—PROSECUTOR DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS.

Sec. 25. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section, G.S. 20-138.4, to read as follows:

"§ 20-138.4. Requirement that prosecutor explain reduction or dismissal of charge involving impaired driving.—Any prosecutor must enter detailed facts in the record of any case involving impaired driving explaining the reasons for his action if he:

(1) Enters a voluntary dismissal; or

(2) Accepts a plea of guilty or no contest to a lesser included offense; or

(3) Substitutes another charge, by statement of charges or otherwise, if the substitute charge carries a lesser mandatory minimum punishment or is not an offense involving impaired driving; or

(4) Otherwise takes a discretionary action that effectively dismisses or reduces the original charge in the case involving impaired driving.

General explanations such as 'interests of justice' or 'insufficient evidence' are not sufficiently detailed to meet the requirements of this section."

—CHEMICAL TESTING PROCEDURES.

Sec. 26. G.S. 20-139.1 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-139.1. Procedures governing chemical analyses; admissibility; evidentiary provisions; controlled-drinking programs.—(a) Chemical Analysis Admissible. In any implied-consent offense under G.S. 20-16.2, a person's alcohol concentration as shown by a chemical analysis is admissible in evidence. This section does not limit the introduction of other competent evidence as to a defendant's alcohol concentration, including other chemical tests.

(b) Approval of Valid Test Methods; Licensing Chemical Analysts. A chemical analysis, to be valid, must be performed in accordance with the provisions of this section. The chemical analysis must be performed according to methods approved by the Commission for Health Services by an individual possessing a current permit issued by the Department of Human Resources for that type of chemical analysis. The Commission for Health Services is authorized to adopt regulations approving satisfactory methods or techniques for performing chemical analyses, and the Department of Human Resources is authorized to ascertain the qualifications and competence of individuals to conduct particular chemical analyses. The Department may issue permits to conduct chemical analyses to individuals it finds qualified subject to periodic renewal, termination, and revocation of the permit in the Department's discretion.

(b1) Arresting or Charging Officer May Not Perform Chemical Analysis. A chemical analysis is not valid in any case in which it is performed by an arresting officer or by a charging officer under the terms of G.S. 20-16.2.

(b2) Breath Analysis Results Inadmissible if Preventive Maintenance Not Performed. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b), the results of a chemical analysis of a person's breath performed in accordance with this section are not admissible in evidence if:

(1) The defendant objects to the introduction into evidence of the results of the chemical analysis of his breath; and

(2) The defendant demonstrates that, with respect to the instrument used to analyse his breath, preventive maintenance procedures required by the regulations of the Commission for Health Services had not been performed within the time limits prescribed by those regulations.

(b3) Sequential Breath Tests Required. By January 1, 1985, the regulations of the Commission for Health Services governing the administration of chemical analyses of the breath must require the testing of at least duplicate sequential breath samples. Those regulations must provide:

(1) A specification as to the minimum observation period before collection of the first breath sample and the time requirements as to collection of second and subsequent samples.

(2) That the test results may only be used to prove a person's particular alcohol concentration if:

a. The pair of readings employed are from consecutively administered tests; and

b. The readings do not differ from each other by an alcohol concentration greater than 0.02.

(3) That when a pair of analyses meets the requirements of subdivision (2), only the lower of the two readings may be used by the State as proof of a person's alcohol concentration in any court or administrative proceeding.

A person's willful refusal to give the sequential breath samples necessary to constitute a valid chemical analysis is a willful refusal under G.S. 20-16.2(c).

(c) Withdrawal of Blood for Chemical Analysis. When a blood test is specified as the type of chemical analysis by the charging officer, only a physician, registered nurse, or other qualified person may withdraw the blood sample. If the person withdrawing the blood requests written confirmation of the charging officer's request for the withdrawal of blood, the officer must furnish it before blood is withdrawn. When blood is withdrawn pursuant to a charging officer's request, neither the person withdrawing the blood nor any hospital, laboratory, or other institution, person, firm, or corporation employing him, or contracting for the service of withdrawing blood, may be held criminally or civilly liable by reason of withdrawing that blood, except that there is no immunity from liability for negligent acts or omissions.

(d) Right to Additional Test. A person who submits to a chemical analysis may have a qualified person of his own choosing administer an additional chemical test or tests, or have a qualified person withdraw a blood sample for later chemical testing by a qualified person of his own choosing. Any law enforcement officer having in his charge any person who has submitted to a chemical analysis must assist the person in contacting someone to administer the additional testing or to withdraw blood, and must allow access to the person for that purpose. The failure or inability of the person who submitted to a chemical analysis to obtain any additional test or to withdraw blood does not preclude the admission of evidence relating to the chemical analysis.

(e) Recording Results of Chemical Analysis of Breath. The chemical analyst who administers a test of a person's breath must record the following information after making any chemical analysis:

(1) The alcohol concentration or concentrations revealed by the chemical analysis.

(2) The time of the collection of the breath sample or samples used in the chemical analysis.

A copy of the record of this information must be furnished to the person submitting to the chemical analysis, or to his attorney, before any trial or proceeding in which the results of the chemical analysis may be used.

(e1) Use of Chemical Analyst's Affidavit in District Court. An affidavit by a chemical analyst sworn to and properly executed before an official authorized to administer oaths is admissible in evidence without further authentication in any hearing or trial in the District Court Division of the General Court of Justice with respect to the following matters:

(1) The alcohol concentration or concentrations of a person given a chemical analysis and who is involved in the hearing or trial.

(2) The time of the collection of the blood or breath sample or samples for the chemical analysis.

(3) The type of chemical analysis administered and the procedures followed.

(4) The type and status of any permit issued by the Department of Human Resources that he held on the date he performed the chemical analysis in question.

(5) If the chemical analysis is performed on a breath-testing instrument for which regulations adopted pursuant to subsection (b) require preventive maintenance, the date the most recent preventive maintenance procedures were performed on the breath-testing instrument used, as shown on the maintenance records for that instrument.

The Department of Human Resources must develop a form for use by chemical analysts in making this affidavit. If any person who submitted to a chemical analysis desires that a chemical analyst personally testify in the hearing or trial in the District Court Division, he may subpoena the chemical analyst and examine him as if he were an adverse witness.

(f) Evidence of Refusal Admissible. If any person charged with an implied-consent offense refuses to submit to a chemical analysis, evidence of that refusal is admissible in any criminal action against him for an implied-consent offense under G.S. 20-16.2.

(g) Controlled-Drinking Programs. The Department of Human Resources is empowered to make regulations concerning the ingestion of controlled amounts of alcohol by individuals submitting to chemical testing as a part of scientific, experimental, educational, or demonstration programs. These regulations must prescribe procedures consistent with controlling federal law governing the acquisition, transportation, possession, storage, administration, and disposition of alcohol intended for use in the programs. Any person in charge of a controlled-drinking program who acquires alcohol under these regulations must keep records accounting for the disposition of all alcohol acquired, and the records must at all reasonable times be available for inspection upon the request of any federal, State, or local law enforcement officer with jurisdiction over the laws relating to control of alcohol. A controlled-drinking program exclusively using lawfully purchased alcoholic beverages in places in which they may be lawfully possessed, however, need not comply with the record-keeping requirements of the regulations authorized by this subsection. All acts pursuant to the regulations reasonably done in furtherance of bona fide objectives of a controlled-drinking program authorized by the regulations are lawful notwithstanding the provisions of any other general or local statute, regulation, or ordinance controlling alcohol."

—FELONY AND MISDEMEANOR DEATH BY VEHICLE.

Sec. 27. G.S. 20-141.4 is rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-141.4. Felony and misdemeanor death by vehicle.—(a). (Repealed.)

(a1) Felony Death by Vehicle. A person commits the offense of felony death by vehicle if he unintentionally causes the death of another person while engaged in the offense of impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1 and commission of that offense is the proximate cause of the death.

(a2) Misdemeanor Death by Vehicle. A person commits the offense of misdemeanor death by vehicle if he unintentionally causes the death of another person while engaged in the violation of any State law or local ordinance applying to the operation or use of a vehicle or to the regulation of traffic, other than impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1, and commission of that violation is the proximate cause of the death.

(b) Punishments. Felony death by vehicle is a Class I felony. Misdemeanor death by vehicle is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(c) No Double Prosecutions. No person who has been placed in jeopardy upon a charge of death by vehicle may be prosecuted for the offense of mansalughter arising out of the same death; and no person who has been placed in jeopardy upon a charge of manslaughter may be prosecuted for death by vehicle arising out of the same death."

—IMPAIRED DRIVING APPLICABLE TO ROAD CONSTRUCTION VEHICLES.

Sec. 28. The numbered subdivisions of G.S. 20-168(b) are rewritten to read as follows:

"(1) G.S. 20-138.1. Impaired driving.

(2) (Repealed.)

(3) G.S. 20-139.1. Procedures governing chemical analyses; admissibility; evidentiary provisions; controlled-drinking programs.

(4) G.S. 20-140. Reckless driving.

(5) (Repealed.)

(6) G.S. 20-141. Speed restrictions.

(7) G.S. 20-141.3. Unlawful racing on streets and highways.

(8) G.S. 20-141.4. Felony and misdemeanor death by vehicle."

—SENTENCING PROCEDURES AND PUNISHMENT FOR IMPAIRED DRIVING OFFENSES.

Sec. 29. G.S. 20-179 and G.S. 20-179.1 are rewritten to read as follows:

"§ 20-179. Sentencing hearing after conviction for impaired driving; determination of grossly aggravating and aggravating and mitigating factors; punishments.—(a) Sentencing Hearing Required. After a conviction for impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1, the judge must hold a sentencing hearing to determine whether there are aggravating or mitigating factors that affect the sentence to be imposed. Before the hearing the prosecutor must make all feasible efforts to secure the defendant's full record of traffic convictions, and must present to the judge that record for consideration in the hearing. Upon request of the defendant, the prosecutor must furnish the defendant or his attorney a copy of the defendant's record of traffic convictions at a reasonable time prior to the introduction of the record into evidence. In addition, the prosecutor must present all other appropriate grossly aggravating and aggravating factors of which he is aware, and the defendant or his attorney may present all appropriate mitigating factors. In every instance in which a valid chemical analysis is made of the defendant, the prosecutor must present evidence of the resulting alcohol concentration.

(b) (Repealed.)

(c) Determining Existence of Grossly Aggravating Factors. At the sentencing hearing, based upon the evidence presented at trial and in the hearing, the judge must first determine whether there are any grossly aggravating factors in the case. If the defendant has been convicted of two or more prior offenses involving impaired driving, if the convictions occurred within seven years of the date of the offense for which he is being sentenced, the judge must impose the Level One punishment under subsection (g). The judge must also impose the Level One punishment if he determines that two or more of the following grossly aggravating factors apply:

(1) A single conviction for an offense involving impaired driving, if the conviction occurred within seven years of the date of the offense for which the defendant is being sentenced.

(2) Driving by the defendant while his driver's license was revoked under G.S. 20-28, and the revocation was an impaired driving revocation under G.S. 20-28.2(a).

(3) Serious injury to another person caused by the defendant's impaired driving.

If the judge determines that only one of the above grossly aggravating factors applies, he must impose the Level Two punishment under subsection (h). In imposing a Level One or Two punishment, the judge may consider the aggravating and mitigating factors in subsections (d) and (e) in determining the appropriate sentence. If there are no grossly aggravating factors in the case, the judge must weigh all aggravating and mitigating factors and impose punishment as required by subsection (f).

(d) Aggravating Factors To Be Weighed. The judge must determine before sentencing under subsection (f) whether any of the aggravating factors listed below apply to the defendant. The judge must weigh the seriousness of each aggravating factor in the light of the particular circumstances of the case. The factors are:

(1) Gross impairment of the defendant's faculties while driving or an alcohol concentration of 0.20 or more within a relevant time after the driving.

(2) Especially reckless or dangerous driving.

(3) Negligent driving that led to an accident causing property damage in excess of five hundred dollars ($500.00) or personal injury.

(4) Driving by the defendant while his driver's license was revoked.

(5) Two or more prior convictions of a motor vehicle offense not involving impaired driving for which at least three points are assigned under G.S. 20-16 or for which the convicted person's license is subject to revocation, if the convictions occurred within five years of the date of the offense for which the defendant is being sentenced, or one or more prior convictions of an offense involving impaired driving that occurred more than seven years before the date of the offense for which the defendant is being sentenced.

(6) Conviction under G.S. 20-141(j) of speeding by the defendant while fleeing or attempting to elude apprehension, if the offense occurred during the same act or transaction as the impaired driving offense.

(7) Conviction under G.S. 20-141 of speeding by the defendant by at least 30 miles per hour over the legal limit, if the offense occurred during the same act or transaction as the impaired driving offense.

(8) Passing a stopped school bus in violation of G.S. 20-217.

(9) Any other factor that aggravates the seriousness of the offense.

(e) Mitigating Factors To Be Weighed. The judge must also determine before sentencing under subsection (f) whether any of the mitigating factors listed below apply to the defendant. The judge must weigh the degree of mitigation of each factor in light of the particular circumstances of the case. The factors are:

(1) Slight impairment of the defendant's faculties resulting solely from alcohol, and an alcohol concentration that did not exceed 0.11 at any relevant time after the driving.

(2) Slight impairment of the defendant's faculties, resulting solely from alcohol, with no chemical analysis having been available to the defendant.

(3) Driving at the time of the offense that was safe and lawful except for the impairment of the defendant's faculties.

(4) A safe driving record, with the defendant's having no conviction for any serious traffic violation within five years of the date of the offense for which the defendant is being sentenced.

(5) Impairment of the defendant's faculties caused primarily by a lawfully prescribed drug for an existing medical condition, and the amount of the drug taken was within the prescribed dosage.

(6) The defendant's voluntary submission to a mental health facility for assessment after he was charged with impaired driving, and, if recommended by the facility, his voluntary participation in the recommended treatment.

(7) Any other factor that mitigates the seriousness of the offense.

(f) Weighing the Aggravating and Mitigating Factors. If the judge in the sentencing hearing determines that there are no grossly aggravating factors, he must weigh all aggravating and mitigating factors listed in subsections (d) and (e). If the judge determines that:

(1) The aggravating factors substantially outweigh any mitigating factors, he must note in the judgment the factors found and his finding that the defendant is subject to the Level Three punishment and impose a punishment within the limits defined in subsection (i).

(2) There are no aggravating and mitigating factors, or that aggravating factors are substantially counterbalanced by mitigating factors, he must note in the judgment any factors found and his finding that the defendant is subject to the Level Four punishment and impose a punishment within the limits defined in subsection (j).

(3) The mitigating factors substantially outweigh any aggravating factors, he must note in the judgment the factors found and his finding that the defendant is subject to the Level Five punishment and impose a punishment within the limits defined in subsection (k).

It is not a mitigating factor that the driver of the vehicle was suffering from alcoholism, drug addiction, diminished capacity, or mental disease or defect.

Evidence of these matters may be received in the sentencing hearing, however, for use by the judge in formulating terms and conditions of sentence after determining which punishment level must be imposed.

(g) Level One Punishment. A defendant subject to Level One punishment may be fined up to two thousand dollars ($2,000) and must be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of not less than 14 days and not more than 24 months. The term of imprisonment may be suspended only if a condition of special probation is imposed to require the defendant to serve a term of imprisonment of at least 14 days. If the defendant is placed on probation, the judge must, if required by subsections (l) or (m), impose the conditions relating to treatment and education described in those subsections. The judge may impose any other lawful condition of probation. If the judge does not place on probation a defendant who is otherwise subject to the mandatory assessment and treatment provisions of subsection (m), he must include in the record of the case his reasons for not doing so.

(h) Level Two Punishment. A defendant subject to Level Two punishment may be fined up to one thousand dollars ($1,000) and must be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of not less than seven days and not more than 12 months. The term of imprisonment may be suspended only if a condition of special probation is imposed to require the defendant to serve a term of imprisonment of at least seven days. If the defendant is placed on probation, the judge must, if required by subsections (l) or (m), impose the conditions relating to treatment and education described in those subsections. The judge may impose any other lawful condition of probation. If the judge does not place on probation a defendant who is otherwise subject to the mandatory assessment and treatment provisions of subsection (m), he must include in the record of the case his reasons for not doing so.

(i) Level Three Punishment. A defendant subject to Level Three punishment may be fined up to five hundred dollars ($500.00) and must be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of not less than 72 hours and not more than six months. The term of imprisonment must be suspended, on the condition that the defendant:

(1) Be imprisoned for a term of at least 72 hours as a condition of special probation; or

(2) Perform community service for a term of at least 72 hours; or

(3) Not operate a motor vehicle for a term of at least 90 days; or

(4) Any combination of these conditions.

The judge in his discretion may impose any other lawful condition of probation and, if required by subsections (l) or (m), must impose the conditions relating to treatment and education described in those subsections. This subsection does not affect the right of a defendant to elect to serve the suspended sentence of imprisonment as provided in G.S. 15A-1341(c).

(j) Level Four Punishment. A defendant subject to Level Four punishment may be fined up to two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) and must be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of not less than 48 hours and not more than 120 days. The term of imprisonment must be suspended, on the condition that the defendant:

(1) Be imprisoned for a term of 48 hours as a condition of special probation; or

(2) Perform community service for a term of 48 hours; or

(3) Not operate a motor vehicle for a term of 60 days; or

(4) Any combination of these conditions.

The judge in his discretion may impose any other lawful condition of probation and, if required by subsections (l) or (m), must impose the conditions relating to treatment and education described in those subsections. This subsection does not affect the right of a defendant to elect to serve the suspended sentence of imprisonment as provided in G.S. 15A-1341(c).

(k) Level Five Punishment. A defendant subject to Level Five punishment may be fined up to one hundred dollars ($100.00) and must be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of not less than 24 hours and not more than 60 days. The term of imprisonment must be suspended, on the condition that the defendant:

(1) Be imprisoned for a term of 24 hours as a condition of special probation; or

(2) Perform community service for a term of 24 hours; or

(3) Not operate a motor vehicle for a term of 30 days; or

(4) Any combination of these conditions.

The judge may in his discretion impose any other lawful condition of probation and, if required subsections (l) or (m), must impose the conditions relating to treatment and education described in those subsections. This subsection does not affect the right of a defendant to elect to serve the suspended sentence of imprisonment as provided in G.S. 15A-1341(c).

(l) Education Required in Certain Cases. If a defendant being sentenced under this section is placed on probation, he must be required as a condition of that probation to complete the course of instruction sucessfully at an Alcohol and Drug Education Traffic School established pursuant to G.S. 20-179.2 within 90 days of the date of conviction unless:

(1) He has previously been assigned to an Alcohol and Drug Education Traffic School and has successfully completed the course of instruction; or

(2) The judge finds that the defendant will not benefit from the course of instruction because of specific, extenuating circumstances.

(m) Assessment and Treatment Required in Certain Cases. If a defendant being sentenced under this section is placed on probation, he must be required as a condition of that probation to obtain a substance abuse assessment if:

(1) He had an alcohol concentration of 0.20 or more as indicated by a chemical analysis taken when he was charged; or

(2) He has a prior conviction for an offense involving impaired driving within the five years preceding the date of the offense for which he is being sentenced and, when he was charged with the current offense, he either:

a. Had an alcohol concentration of 0.10 or more; or

b. Willfully refused to submit to a chemical analysis.

The judge must require the defendant to obtain the assessment from an area mental health agency, its designated agent, or a private facility licensed by the State for the treatment of alcoholism and substance abuse. In addition, he must require the defendant to participate in a treatment program if recommended by the assessing agency, and he must require the defendant to execute a Release of Information authorizing the treatment agency to report his progress to the court or the Division of Adult Probation and Parole. The judge may order the defendant to participate in an appropriate treatment program at the time he is ordered to obtain an assessment, or he may order him to reappear in court when the assessment is completed to determine if a condition of probation requiring participation in treatment should be imposed. The judge must require the defendant to pay twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the services of the assessment facility and the treatment fees that may be charged by the treatment facility. If the defendant is treated by an area mental health facility, G.S. 122-35.47 applies. Any determinations with regard to the defendant's ability to pay the assessment fee must be made by the judge. In those cases in which no substance abuse handicap is identified, that finding must be forwarded in writing to the court. When treatment is required, the treatment agency's progress reports must be filed with the court or the Division of Adult Probation and Parole at intervals of no greater than six months until the termination of probation or the treatment agency determines and reports that no further treatment is appropriate.

(n) Time Limits for Performance of Community Service. If the judgment requires the defendant to perform a specified number of hours of community service as provided in subsections (i), (j), or (k), the community service must be completed:

(1) Within 90 days, if the amount of community service required is 72 hours or more; or

(2) Within 60 days, if the amount of community service required is 48 hours; or

(3) Within 30 days, if the amount of community service required is 24 hours.

The court may extend these time limits upon motion of the defendant if it finds that the defendant has made a good faith effort to comply with the time limits specified in this subsection. Failure to complete the community service requirement within the applicable time limits is a violation of the defendant's probation and, in addition, is a ground for revocation of any limited driving privilege held by the defendant for the impaired driving offense.

(o) Evidentiary Standards; Proof of Prior Convictions. In the sentencing hearing, the State must prove any grossly aggravating or aggravating factor by the greater weight of the evidence, and the defendant must prove any mitigating factor by the greater weight of the evidence. Evidence adduced by either party at trial may be utilized in the sentencing hearing. Except as modified by this section, the procedure in G.S. 15A-1334(b) governs. The judge may accept any evidence as to the presence or absence of previous convictions that he finds reliable but he must give prima facie effect to convictions recorded by the Division or any other agency of the State of North Carolina. A copy of such conviction records transmitted by the police information network in general accordance with the procedure authorized by G.S. 20-26(b) is admissible in evidence without further authentication. If the judge decides to impose an active sentence of imprisonment that would not have been imposed but for a prior conviction of an offense, the judge must afford the defendant an opportunity to introduce evidence that the prior conviction had been obtained in a case in which he was indigent, had no counsel, and had not waived his right to counsel. If the defendant proves by the preponderance of the evidence all three above facts concerning the prior case, that conviction may not be used as the basis for imposing an active sentence of imprisonment.

(p) Limit on Ameliorations of Punishment. With respect to the period of any minimum active term of imprisonment or minimum or specific term of imprisonment as a condition of special probation under this section:

(1) The judge may not give credit to the defendant for the first 24 hours of time spent in incarceration pending trial.

(2) No good time or gain time may be credited to reduce the minimum or specified term of imprisonment.

(3) The defendant may not be released on parole.

(q) Meaning of 'Conviction'. For the purposes of this Article, 'conviction' includes a guilty verdict, guilty plea, plea of no contest, or anything that would be treated as a conviction under G.S. 20-24(c).

"§ 20-179.1. Presentence investigation of persons convicted of offense involving impaired driving.—When a person has been convicted of an offense involving impaired driving, the trial judge may request a presentence investigation to determine whether the person convicted would benefit from treatment for habitual use of alcohol or drugs. If the person convicted objects, no presentence investigation may be ordered, but the judge retains his power to order suitable treatment as a condition of probation, and must do so when required by statute."

—ALCOHOL AND DRUG EDUCATION TRAFFIC SCHOOLS.

Sec. 30. G.S. 20-179.2 is amended by repealing subsection (b) and by designating the present subdivisions (a)(1), (a)(2), (a)(3), and (a)(4) as subsections (c), (d), (e), and (f), respectively. That section is further amended by deleting the fourth sentence of the present subdivision (a)(1) (redesignated as subsection (c)) and inserting in its place the following sentence:

"The fee must be paid in full within two weeks from the date school attendance is ordered as a condition of probation, unless the court, upon a showing of hardship by the person, allows the person additional time to pay the fee."

—LIMITED DRIVING PRIVILEGE.

Sec. 31. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new G.S. 20-179.3 to read as follows:

"§ 20-179.3. Limited driving privilege.—(a) Definition of Limited Driving Privilege. A limited driving privilege is a judgment issued in the discretion of a court for good cause shown authorizing a person with a revoked driver's license to drive for essential purposes related to any of the following:

(1) His employment.

(2) The maintenance of his household.

(3) His education.

(4) His court-ordered treatment or assessment.

(5) Community service ordered as a condition of the person's probation.

(6) Emergency medical care.

(b) Eligibility. A person convicted of the offense of impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1 is eligible for a limited driving privilege if:

(1) At the time of the offense he held a valid driver's license;

(2) At the time of the offense he had not within the preceding 10 years been convicted of an offense involving impaired driving;

(3) Punishment Level Three, Four, or Five was imposed for the offense of impaired driving; and

(4) Subsequent to the offense he has not been convicted of, or had an unresolved charge lodged against him for, an offense involving impaired driving.

A person whose North Carolina driver's license is revoked because of a conviction in another jurisdiction substantially equivalent to impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1 is eligible for a limited driving privilege if he would be eligible for it had the conviction occurred in North Carolina. Eligibility for a limited driving privilege following a revocation under G.S. 20-16.2(d) is governed by G.S. 20-16.2(e1).

(c) Privilege Not Effective Until After Compliance With Court-Ordered Revocation. A person convicted of an impaired driving offense may apply for a limited driving privilege at the time the judgment is entered. If the judgment does not require the person to complete a period of nonoperation pursuant to G.S. 20-179, the privilege may be issued at the time the judgment is issued. If the judgment requires the person to complete a period of nonoperation pursuant to G.S. 20-179, the limited driving privilege may not be effective until the person successfully completes that period of nonoperation. A person whose license is revoked because of a conviction in another jurisdiction substantially equivalent to impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1 may apply for a limited driving privilege only after having completed at least 60 days of a court-imposed term of nonoperation of a motor vehicle, if the court in the other jurisdiction imposed such a term of nonoperation.

(d) Application for and Scheduling of Subsequent Hearing. The application for a limited driving privilege made subsequent to sentencing must be filed with the clerk in duplicate, and no hearing scheduled may be held until a reasonable time after the clerk files a copy of the application with the district attorney's office. The hearing must be scheduled before:

(1) The presiding judge at the applicant's trial if that judge is assigned to a court in the judicial district in which the conviction for impaired driving was imposed.

(2) The senior regular resident superior court judge of the district in which the conviction for impaired driving was imposed, if the presiding judge is not available within the district and the conviction was imposed in superior court.

(3) The chief district court judge of the district in which the conviction for impaired driving was imposed, if the presiding judge is not available within the district and the conviction was imposed in district court.

If the applicant was convicted of an offense in another jurisdiction, the hearing must be scheduled before the chief district court judge of the district in which he resides. G.S. 20-16.2(e1) governs the judge before whom a hearing is scheduled if the revocation was under G.S. 20-16.2(d). The hearing may be scheduled in any county within the judicial district.

(e) Limited Basis for and Effect of Privilege. A limited driving privilege issued under this section authorizes a person to drive if his license is revoked solely under G.S. 20-17(2) or as a result of a conviction in another jurisdiction substantially equivalent to impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1; if the person's license is revoked under any other statute, the limited driving privilege is invalid.

(f) Overall Restriction on Use of Privilege. In addition to specific restrictions that must be imposed under subsection (g), a limited driving privilege must restrict the applicant to essential driving related to the purposes listed in subsection (a). Driving related to emergency medical care is authorized at any time, but any other driving is unlawful unless it is for a purpose listed in subsection (a) and is within the times and at a place authorized under the subsection (g).

(g) Specific Restrictions on Driving Required to Be Stated. Under this section, 'standard working hours' are 6:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Monday through Friday. If the applicant is not required to drive for essential work-related purposes except during standard working hours, the judge in the limited driving privilege:

(1) Must prohibit driving during nonstandard working hours except for essential driving related to emergency medical care and specified essential driving for the applicant's education or court-ordered assessment, treatment, or community service; and

(2) May state other information and restrictions applicable to work-related driving during standard working hours.

The judge in the limited driving privilege may not allow the applicant to drive for maintenance of his household except during standard working hours, and the judge may impose any additional restrictions on such driving. If the applicant is required to drive for essential work-related purposes during nonstandard working hours, he must present documentation of that fact to the court before the judge may authorize him to drive during nonstandard working hours. If this authorization is granted, the limited driving privilege must contain the exact times and routes in which the holder will be driving to work or as a condition of employment, and restrict driving to those times and routes. The judge may also impose other restrictions, including a specification as to the vehicle to be driven. The judge must give the name and location of the place of work and may include any other information as to residence and essential driving needs that may assist law enforcement officers inspecting the limited driving privilege. If the applicant seeks permission to drive to and from court-ordered assessment, treatment, or community service or an educational program, including an Alcohol and Drug Education Traffic School, the judge must find that the applicant has no reasonable alternative to his driving. If the judge makes such a finding, he may authorize driving for that purpose, but if the driving will occur during nonstandard working hours, the judge must state the same information and restrictions applicable to work-related driving during those hours.

(h) Other Mandatory and Permissive Conditions or Restrictions. In all limited driving privileges the judge must also include a restriction that the applicant not consume alcohol while driving or drive at any time while he has remaining in his body any alcohol or in his blood a controlled substance previously consumed, unless the controlled substance was lawfully obtained and taken in therapeutically appropriate amounts. The judge may impose any other reasonable restrictions or conditions necessary to achieve the purposes of this section.

(i) Modification or Revocation of Privilege. A judge who issues a limited driving privilege is authorized to modify or revoke the limited driving privilege upon a showing that the circumstances have changed sufficiently to justify modification or revocation. If the judge who issued the limited driving privilege is not available, a judge authorized to issue a limited driving privilege under subsection (d) may modify or revoke a limited driving privilege in accordance with this subsection. The judge must indicate in the order of modification or revocation the reasons for the order, or he must make specific findings indicating the reason for the order and those findings must be entered in the record of the case.

(j) Effect of Violation of Restriction. A holder of a limited driving privilege who violates any of its restrictions commits the offense of driving while his license is revoked under G.S. 20-28(a) and is subject to punishment and license revocation as provided in that section. If a law enforcement officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the holder of a limited driving privilege has consumed alcohol while driving or has driven while he has remaining in his body any alcohol previously consumed, the suspected offense of driving while license is revoked is an alcohol-related offense subject to the implied-consent provisions of G.S. 20-16.2. If a holder of a limited driving privilege is charged with violating a restriction contained in his limited driving privilege, and a judicial official determines that there is probable cause for the charge, the limited driving privilege is suspended pending the resolution of the case, and the judicial official must require the holder to surrender the limited driving privilege. The judicial official must also notify the holder that he is not entitled to drive until his case is resolved.

(k) Copy of Limited Driving Privilege to Division; Action Taken if Privilege Invalid. The clerk of court must send a copy of any limited driving privilege issued in the county to the Division. A limited driving privilege that is not authorized by this section, G.S. 20-16.2(e1), or G.S. 20-16.1, or that does not contain the limitations required by law, is invalid. If the limited driving privilege is invalid on its face, the Division must immediately notify the court and the holder of the privilege that it considers the privilege void and that the Division records will not indicate that the holder has a limited driving privilege."

PART II. PROTECTION OF YOUTHFUL DRIVERS.

—RAISING BEER PURCHASE AGE.

Sec. 32. G.S. 18B-300(a), 18B-302(a)(1), 18B-900(a)(1), and 18B-900(d) are amended by deleting the number "18" wherever it appears in those subsections and inserting in its place the number "19".

—GROUNDS FOR REVOKING PROVISIONAL LICENSE.

Sec. 33. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended to add a new G.S. 20-13.2 to read as follows:

"§ 20-13.2. Grounds for revoking provisional license.—(a) The Division must revoke the license of a person convicted of violating the provisions of G.S. 20-138.3 upon receipt of a record of the licensee's conviction.

(b) If a person is convicted of an offense involving impaired driving and the offense occurs while he is a provisional licensee, his license must be revoked under this section in addition to any other revocation required or authorized by law.

(c) If a person willfully refuses to submit to a chemical analysis pursuant to G.S. 20-16.2 while he is a provisional licensee, his license must be revoked under this section, in addition to any other revocation required or authorized by law. A revocation order entered under authority of this subsection becomes effective at the same time as a revocation order issued under G.S. 20-16.2 for the same willful refusal.

(d) A revocation under this section continues until the provisional licensee reaches 18 years of age or 45 days have elapsed, whichever occurs last. Revocations under this section run concurrently with any other revocations, but a limited driving privilege issued pursuant to law does not authorize a provisional licensee to drive if his license is revoked under this section."

—DRIVING BY PROVISIONAL LICENSEE AFTER DRINKING.

Sec. 34. Chapter 20 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section, G.S. 20-138.3, to read as follows:

"§ 20-138.3. Driving by provisional licensee after consuming alcohol or drugs.—(a) Offense. It is unlawful for a provisional licensee to drive a motor vehicle on a highway or public vehicular area while consuming alcohol or at any time while he has remaining in his body any alcohol or in his blood a controlled substance previously consumed, but a provisional licensee does not violate this section if he drives with a controlled substance in his blood which was lawfully obtained and taken in therapeutically appropriate amounts.

(b) Subject to Implied-Consent Law. An offense under this section is an alcohol-related offense subject to the implied-consent provisions of G.S. 20-16.2.

(c) Punishment; Effect When Impaired Driving Offense Also Charged. The offense in this section is punishable under G.S. 20-176(b). It is not, in any circumstances, a lesser included offense of impaired driving under G.S. 20-138.1, but if a person is convicted under this section and of an offense involving impaired driving arising out of the same transaction, the aggregate punishment imposed by the court may not exceed the maximum applicable to the offense involving impaired driving, and any minimum punishment applicable must be imposed."

—FRAUDULENT USE OF ID; AIDER AND ABETTOR PUNISHMENT.

Sec. 35. G.S. 18B-302 is amended by rewriting subsections (b), (c), (e), and (f), and adding subsection (g) to read as follows:

"(b) Purchase or Possession. It shall be unlawful for:

(1) A person less than 19 years old to purchase, to attempt to purchase, or to possess malt beverages or unfortified wine; or

(2) A person less than 21 years old to purchase, to attempt to purchase, or to possess fortified wine, spirituous liquor, or mixed beverages.

(c) Aider and Abettor.

(1) By underage person. Any person who is under the lawful age to purchase and who aids or abets another in violation of subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to five hundred dollars ($500.00) or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(2) By person over lawful age. Any person who is over the lawful age to purchase and who aids or abets another in violation of subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to two thousand dollars ($2,000) or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(e) Fraudulent Use of Identification. It shall be unlawful for any person to obtain or attempt to obtain alcoholic beverages in violation of subsection (b) of this section by using or attempting to use:

(1) A fraudulent or altered driver's license; or

(2) A fraudulent or altered identification document other than a driver's license; or

(3) A driver's license issued to another person; or

(4) An identification document other than a driver's license issued to another person.

(f) Allowing Use of Identification. It shall be unlawful for any person to permit the use of his driver's license or any other identification document of any kind by any person who violates or attempts to violate subsection (b) of this section.

(g) Conviction Report Sent to Division of Motor Vehicles. The court shall file a conviction report with the Division of Motor Vehicles indicating the name of the person convicted and any other information requested by the Division if the person is convicted of:

(1) A violation of subsection (e) or (f) of this section; or

(2) A violation of subdivision (c)(1) of this section; or

(3) A violation of subsection (b) of this section, if the violation occurred while the person was purchasing or attempting to purchase an alcoholic beverage.

Upon receipt of a conviction report, the Division shall revoke the person's license as required by G.S. 20-17.3."

—REVOCATION FOR UNDERAGE PURCHASERS OF ALCOHOL.

Sec. 36. General Statutes Chapter 20 is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 20-17.3. Revocation for underage purchasers of alcohol.—The Division shall revoke for one year the driver's license of any person who has been convicted of violating any of the following:

(1) G.S. 18B-302(c)(1), (e), or (f); or

(2) G.S. 18B-302(b), if the violation occurred while the person was purchasing or attempting to purchase an alcoholic beverage.

If the person's license is currently suspended or revoked, then the revocation under this section shall begin at the termination of that revocation."

PART III. DRAM SHOP OWNER LIABILITY.

—DRAM SHOP OWNER LIABILITY; BURDEN OF PROOF.

Sec. 37. Chapter 18B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Article 1A to read:

"Article 1A.

"Compensation for Injury Caused by Sales to Underage Persons.

"§ 18B-120. Definitions.—As used in this Article:

(1) 'Aggrieved Party' means a person who sustains an injury as a consequence of the actions of the underage person, but does not include the underage person or a person who aided or abetted in the sale or furnishing to the underage person.

(2) 'Injury' includes, but is not limited to, personal injury, property loss, loss of means of support, or death. Damages for death shall be determined under the provisions of G.S. 28A-18-2(b). Nothing in G.S. 28A-18-2(a) or subdivision (1) of this section shall be interpreted to preclude recovery under this Article for loss of support or death on account of injury to or death of the underage person or a person who aided or abetted in the sale or furnishing to the underage person.

(3) 'Underage person' means a person who is less than the age legally required for purchase of the alcoholic beverage in question.

(4) 'Vehicle' shall have the same meaning as prescribed by G.S. 20-4.01(49).

"§ 18B-121. Claim for relief created for sale to underage person.—An aggrieved party has a claim for relief for damages against a permittee or local Alcoholic Beverage Control Board if:

(1) The permittee or his agent or employee or the local board or its agent or employee negligently sold or furnished an alcoholic beverage to an underage person; and

(2) The consumption of the alcoholic beverage that was sold or furnished to an underage person caused or contributed to, in whole or in part, an underage driver's being subject to an impairing substance within the meaning of G.S. 20-138.1 at the time of the injury; and

(3) The injury that resulted was proximately caused by the underage driver's negligent operation of a vehicle while so impaired.

"§ 18B-122. Burden of proof and admissibility of evidence.—The plaintiff shall have the burden of proving that the sale or furnishing of the alcoholic beverage to the underage person, as defined, was, under the circumstances, negligent. Proof of the sale or furnishing of the alcoholic beverage to an underage person, as defined, without request for identification shall be admissible as evidence of negligence. Proof of good practices (including but not limited to, instruction of employees as to laws regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages, training of employees, enforcement techniques, admonishment to patrons concerning laws regarding the purchase or furnishing of alcoholic beverages, or detention of a person's identification documents in accordance with G.S. 18B-129 and inquiry about the age or degree of intoxication of the person), evidence that an underage person misrepresented his age, or that the sale or furnishing was made under duress is admissible as evidence that the permittee was not negligent.

"§ 18B-123. Limitation on damages.—The total amount of damages that may be awarded to all aggrieved parties pursuant to any claims for relief under this Article is limited to no more than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) per occurrence. When all claims arising out of an occurrence exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), each claim shall abate in the proportion it bears to the total of all claims.

"§ 18B-124. Joint and several liability.—The liability of the negligent driver or owner of the vehicle that caused the injury and the permittee or ABC Board which sold or furnished the alcoholic beverage shall be joint and several, with right of contribution but not indemnification.

"§ 18B-125. Exceptions.—This Article does not create a claim for relief against the following:

(1) One who holds only a brown bagging permit, a special occasions permit, or a limited special occasions permit;

(2) One who holds only a special one-time permit under G.S. 18B-1002;

(3) One who holds only permits listed in G.S. 18B-1100;

(4) One who holds any combination of the permits listed in this section.

"§ 18B-126. Statute of limitations.—The statute of limitations is as provided in G.S. 1-54.

"§ 18B-127. Duty of clerk of superior court.—When execution on a judgment on a cause of action under G.S. 18B-121 is returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the clerk of superior court to whom such return is made shall transmit to the Commission certified copies of the judgment, the execution and return and any other proceedings upon the judgment.

"§ 18B-128. Common law rights not abridged.—The creation of any claim for relief by this Article may not be interpreted to abrogate or abridge any claims for relief under the common law, but this Article does not authorize double recovery for the same injury.

"§ 18B-129. No liability for refusal to sell or for holding documents.—(a) No permittee or his agent or employee may be held liable for damages resulting from the refusal to sell or furnish an alcoholic beverage to a person who fails to show proper identification as described in G.S. 18B-302(d), or who appears to be an underage person.

(b) No permittee or his agent or employee may be held civilly liable if the permittee or his agent or employee holds a customer's identification documents for a reasonable length of time in a good faith attempt to determine whether the customer is of legal age to purchase an alcoholic beverage, provided the permittee or his agent or employee informs the customer of the reason for his actions."

—STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS.

Sec. 38. G.S. 1-54 is amended by adding a new subdivision (7) to read:

"(7) For recovery of damages under Article 1A of General Statutes Chapter 18B."

—ABC PERMITTEE'S REQUIREMENTS.

Sec. 39. G.S. 18B-900(a) is amended by adding a new subdivision (7) to read as follows:

"(7) Not have, whether as an individual or as an officer, director, shareholder or manager of a corporate permittee, an unsatisfied outstanding final judgment that was entered against him in an action under Article 1A of this Chapter."

—REVOCATION OF PERMIT FOR NONPAYMENT OF JUDGMENT.

Sec. 40. G.S. 18B-1003 is amended by adding thereto a new subsection (d) to read as follows:

"(d) Financial Responsibility. A permittee shall pay all judgments rendered against him under the provisions of Article 1A of this Chapter. When the Commission is informed, under the provisions of G.S. 18B-127 that there is an outstanding unsatisfied judgment against a permittee, the Commission shall suspend all of the permittee's permits. Notice and hearing are not required for a suspension under this subsection, and the suspension shall become effective immediately upon the Commission's receipt of the report. The suspension shall remain in effect until the permittee demonstrates that he has satisfied the judgment by payment in full. Nothing in this section relieves the permittee of the obligation to pay any applicable fees as a precondition of the reinstatement of his permit."

—LOCAL BOARD NOT COUNTY OR CITY AGENCY.

Sec. 41. G.S. 18B-101(8) is amended by adding thereto the following:

"A local board is an independent local political subdivision of the State. Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed as constituting a local board the agency of a city or county or of the Commission."

—NO LEGISLATIVE INTENT AS TO CIVIL LIABILITY FOR SALES TO INTOXICATED PERSONS.

Sec. 41.1. The original inclusion and ultimate deletion in the course of passing this act of statutory liability for certain persons who sell or furnish alcoholic beverages to intoxicated persons does not reflect any legislative intent one way or the other with respect to the issue of civil liability for negligence by persons who sell or furnish those beverages to such persons.

PART IV. EFFECTIVE DATE AND TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS.

—SAVING CLAUSE FOR PROSECUTIONS AND REVOCATIONS.

Sec. 42. Prosecutions for offenses occurring before the effective date of this act and administrative actions affecting drivers' licenses based on these offenses are not abated or affected by the repeal or amendment in this act of statutes creating or punishing the offense or authorizing administrative action concerning a driver's license, and the statutes that would be applicable but for the amendments and repealers in this act remain applicable to those prosecutions and administrative actions.

—APPLICABILITY OF DRAM SHOP PROVISIONS.

Sec. 43. Sections 37, 38, 39 and 40 of this act apply only to acts and omissions occurring on or after the effective date of this act.

—CAPTIONS NOT LIMIT TEXT/ONLY FOR REFERENCE.

Sec. 44. The series of captions used in this act (the descriptive phrases in all capital letters identified by parts numbered with Roman numerals or preceded by hyphens) are inserted for convenience and reference only; and in no way define, limit, or prescribe the scope or application of the text of this act.

—SEVERABILITY.

Sec. 45. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, the invalidity will not affect other provisions or applications that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application; and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

—RESERVE FUND FOR IMPLEMENTATION.

Sec. 45.1. The funds collected pursuant to Section 14 of this act shall be paid into a Reserve Fund. Funds from this Reserve Fund may be transferred by the Director of the Budget, with the advice of the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations, for the sole purpose of implementing the Safe Roads Act of 1983, including reimbursement to counties for increased jail expenses incurred as a result of this act. H. B. 848 CHAPTER 440

AN ACT TO CONVERT TO FEE SIMPLE CERTAIN NINETY-NINE YEAR LEASES OF THE TOWN OF SMITHVILLE OR THE CITY OF SOUTHPORT.

Whereas, Chapter 114, Laws of 1812, provided that as to all waterskirts and beachskirts leased from the commissioners of the Town of Smithville, and such persons who may thereafter receive leases for such frontskirts, they may be vested and confirmed with permanent and lawful rights of inheritance, and that all other leased lots were declared to be absolute to the "leaser" and held by "leases" in fee simple; and

Whereas, Chapter 54, Private Laws of 1813, states that the 1812 law indicated that proprietors of leases may be thereafter vested with permanent right of inheritance, but did not absolutely vest the same, and then proceeds to state that "all the leased lots in front of, adjoining to and around the Town of Smithville shall be and they are hereby vested in the lessees, their heirs and assigns, forever"; and

Whereas, the commissioners of the Town of Smithville and the City of Southport continued to make 99-year leases until about the year 1900; and

Whereas, the name of the Town of Smithville was changed to the City of Southport by Chapter 76, Private Laws of 1887; and

Whereas, the town made numerous 99-year leases in the nineteenth century subsequent to the 1812 and 1813 laws, and apparently assumed the 1812 law converted them into fee simple; and

Whereas, many of these leases have expired or are soon about to expire; and

Whereas, the City of Southport does not desire to lay any claim to the underlying fee simple; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. All leases for a term of 99 years made by the Town of Smithville or the City of Southport on or before December 31, 1899, and recorded on or before that date, are declared to have been made as deeds in fee simple.

(1) the employer will pay special contributions for minimum periods of 24 consecutive months, but may cease such contributions within said 24 months upon written notice to the Board of Trustees; and who shall hereinafter be referred to as participants.

(b) Benefits. The Board of Trustees shall promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary to establish benefits under the plan, within the availability of funds, to provide:

(1) a death benefit payable in a lump-sum to the designated beneficiary of a participant; and

(2) an accident and sickness disability insurance benefit.

(c) Coverage Limits. Benefits payable hereunder shall be payable on account of participants in the plan who have been enrolled as a participant for six or more months or, if an actively employed officer, at any time after enrollment if death or disability resulted from an accident. If the amounts in the fund are not sufficient at any time to enable the Board of Trustees to pay benefits due participants in full, then an equitably graded percentage of such payments shall be made to participants.

(d) Administration. The Board of Trustees shall provide for benefits under the plan by either creating or participating in a separate trust fund qualified under Section 501(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended. The provisions of the Retirement System pertaining to administration and management of funds under G.S. 143-166 are hereby made applicable to this plan."

The officers' contributions picked up by the State or other employer shall be designated for all purposes of the Retirement System as member contributions, except for the determination of tax upon a distribution from the System. These contributions shall be credited to the Regular Contributions Account and accumulated within the account in a member's account which shall be separately established for the purpose of accounting for picked-up contributions.

Members' contributions picked up by the State or other employer shall be payable from the same source of funds used for the payment of compensation of a member. A deduction shall be made from a member's compensation equal to the amount of his contributions picked up by the State or other employer. This deduction, however, shall not reduce his compensation. Picked-up contributions shall be transmitted to the System monthly for the preceding month by means of a warrant drawn by the State or other employer and payable to the Law Enforcement Officers' Retirement System and shall be accompanied by a schedule of the picked-up contributions on such forms as may be prescribed."

Registers of Deeds may require a one and one-half inch border on one side for binding. Where size of land areas, or suitable scale to assure legibility require, plats may be placed on two or more sheets with appropriate match lines. Counties may specify a specific size within the limits of these requirements: Provided, that all Registers of Deeds where a specific size is specified shall be required to submit said size specifications to the North Carolina Association of Registers of Deeds for inclusion on a master list of all such counties. The list shall be posted in each Register of Deeds Office. All counties currently operating under statutes or other laws setting forth regulatory size will be allowed to continue to use such sizes as are currently in use until January 1, 1984, on or before which time they shall modify their size to conform to those shown above.

(b) Plats to be Reproducible. Each plat presented for recording shall be a reproducible plat in linen, film, mylar or other similar, transparent and permanent material and submitted in this form. In any case the process must be such that the public may obtain legible copies. A direct or photographic copy of each recorded plat shall be placed in the plat book or plat file maintained for that purpose and properly indexed for use. All filing officers are authorized to make permanent master copies of plats that have been recorded and filed before January 1, 1984, and may return the originals to the person offering them for recordation.

(c) Information Contained in Title of Plat. The title of each plat shall contain the following information: property designation, name of owner, location to include township, county and state, the date or dates the survey was made; scale in feet per inch or scale ratio in words or figures and bar graph; name and address of surveyor or firm preparing the plat.

(d) Certificate; Form. There shall appear on each plat a certificate by the person under whose supervision such survey or such plat was made, stating the origin of the information shown on the plat, including recorded deed and plat references shown thereon. The ratio of precision as calculated by latitudes and departures before any adjustments must be shown. Any lines on the plat that were not actually surveyed must be clearly indicated and a statement included revealing the source of information. The execution of such certificate shall be acknowledged before any officer authorized to take acknowledgments by the registered land surveyor preparing the plat. All plats to be recorded shall be probated as required by law for the registration of deeds. Where a plat consists of more than one sheet, only the first sheet must contain the certification and all subsequent sheets must be signed and sealed.

The certificate required above shall include the source of information for the survey and data indicating the accuracy of closure of the plat before adjustments and shall be in substantially the following form:

'I, _____, certify that this plat was drawn under my supervision from (an actual survey made under my supervision) (deed description recorded in Book ____, page ___, etc.)(other); that the boundaries not surveyed are shown as broken lines plotted from information found in Book ____, page ___; that this plat was prepared in accordance with G.S. 47-30 as amended. Witness my original signature, registration number and seal this ____ day of ____, A.D., 19__.

My commission expires _____.'

(e) Method of Computation. An accurate method of computation shall be used to determine the acreage and ratio of precision shown on the plat. Area by estimation is not acceptable nor is area by planimeter, area by scale, or area copies from another source, except in the case of tracts containing inaccessible sections or areas. In such case the surveyor may make use of aerial photographs or other appropriate aids to determine the acreage of such inaccessible areas when such areas are bounded by natural and visible monuments. The methods used must be fully stated and explained on the face of the plat and all accessible areas of the tract shall remain subject to all applicable standards of this section.

(f) Plat to Contain Specific Information. Every plat shall contain the following specific information:

(1) An accurately positioned north arrow coordinated with any bearings shown on the plat. Indication shall be made as to whether the north index is true, magnetic, North Carolina grid, or is referenced to old deed or plat bearings. If the north index is magnetic or referenced to old deed or plat bearings, the date and the source (if known) such index was originally determined shall be clearly indicated.

(2) The azimuth or courses and distances as surveyed of every line shall be shown. Distances shall be in feet or meters and decimals thereof. The number of decimal places shall be appropriate to the class of survey required.

(3) All plat lines shall be horizontal (level) measurements. All information shown on the plat shall be correctly plotted to the scale shown. Enlargement of portions of a plat are acceptable in the interest of clarity, where shown as inserts on the same sheet. Where the North Carolina grid system is used the grid factor shall be shown on the face of the plat and a designation as to whether horizontal ground distances or grid distances were used.

(4) Where a boundary is formed by a curved line, the following data must be given: actual survey data from the point of curvature to the point of tangency shall be shown as standard curve data, or as a traverse of bearings and distances around the curve. If standard curve data is used the bearing and distance of the long chord (from point of curvature to point of tangency) must be shown on the face of the plat.

(5) Where a subdivision of land is set out on the plat, all streets and lots shall be carefully plotted with dimension lines indicating widths and all other information pertinent to reestablishing all lines in the field. This shall include bearings and distances sufficient to form a continuous closure of the entire perimeter.

(6) Where control corners have been established in compliance with G.S. 39-32.1, 39-32.2, 39-32.3, and 39-32.4, as amended, the location and pertinent information as required in the reference statute shall be plotted on the plat. All other corners which are marked by monument or natural object shall be so identified on all plats, and all corners of adjacent owners in the boundary lines of the subject tract which are marked by monument or natural object must be shown with a distance from one or more of the subject tract's corners.

(7) The names of adjacent landowners along with lot, block or parcel identifier and subdivision designations or other legal reference where applicable, shall be shown where they could be determined by the surveyor.

(8) All visible and apparent rights-of-way, watercourses, utilities, roadways, and other such improvements shall be accurately located where crossing or forming any boundary line of the property shown.

(9) Where the plat is the result of a survey, one or more corners shall, by a system of azimuths or courses and distances, be accurately tied to and coordinated with a monument of some United States or State Agency survey system, such as the National Geodetic Survey (formerly U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey) system, where such monument is within 2,000 feet of said corner. Where the North Carolina Grid System coordinates of said monument are on file in the North Carolina Department of Natural Resources and Community Development, the coordinates of the referenced corner shall be computed and shown in X (easting) and Y (northing) ordinates on the map. In the absence of Grid Control, other appropriate natural monuments or landmarks shall be used.

(10) A vicinity map shall appear on the face of the plat.

(g) Recording of Plat. A plat, when proven and probated as provided herein for deeds and other conveyances, when presented for recording, shall be recorded in the plat book or plat file and when so recorded shall be duly indexed. Reference in any instrument hereafter executed to the record of any plat herein authorized shall have the same effect as if the description of the lands as indicated on the record of the plat were set out in the instrument.

(h) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent the filing of any plat prepared by a Registered Land Surveyor but not recorded prior to the death of the Registered Land Surveyor. For preservation these plats may be filed without notary acknowledgement or probate, in a special plat file.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to invalidate any instrument or the title thereby conveyed making reference to any recorded plat.

(j) The provisions of this section shall not apply to boundary plats of areas annexed by municipalities nor to plats of municipal boundaries, whether or not required by law to be recorded.

(k) The provisions of this section shall apply to all 100 counties in North Carolina. Where local law is in conflict with this section, the provisions in this section shall apply. Failure of a plat to conform in all requirements of this statute shall be sufficient grounds for the Register of Deeds to refuse to accept the plat for recordation.

(l) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the registration of highway right-of-way plans provided for in G.S. 136-19.4."

(b) This marketable title shall be held by such person and shall be taken by his successors in interest free and clear. of any and all fee simple oil, gas or mineral interests in the area of land founded upon any reservation or exception contained in an instrument conveying the surface estate in fee simple that was executed or recorded at least 30 years or more prior to September 1, 1983, and such oil, gas or mineral interests are hereby declared to be null and void and of no effect whatever at law or in equity. mineral claims hereby extinguished shall include those of persons whether within or without the State, and whether natural or corporate, but shall exclude governmental claims, State or federal, and all such claims by reason of unexpired oil, gas or mineral releases.

(d) Within two years from September 1, 1983, all oil, gas or mineral interests in lands severed or separated from the surface fee simple ownership and forfeitable under the terms of G.S. 1-42.9(b) must be listed for ad valorem taxes, and notice of this interest must be filed in writing in the manner provided by G.S. 1-42.9(b) and recorded in the local registry in the book provided by G.S. 1-42 to be effective against the surface fee simple owner or creditors, purchasers, heirs or assigns of such owner. Within 10 days of receipt of the complaint the Director of the Council shall furnish a copy of the complaint to the person or persons who allegedly committed or are about to commit the unlawful discriminatory housing practice. Within 30 days after receiving a complaint the Council shall investigate the complaint to determine whether the matters complained of are within its jurisdiction, and shall, if jurisdiction is so found, give notice to the aggrieved person whether it intends to resolve it.

If the Council finds reasonable grounds to believe that an unlawful discriminatory housing practice has occurred it shall proceed to try to eliminate or correct such discriminatory housing practice by informal methods of conference, conciliation, and persuasion. Nothing said or done in the course of such informal endeavors may be made public by any employee of the Council, or used as evidence in a subsequent proceeding under this act without the written consent of the persons concerned. If the Council finds no reasonable ground to believe that an unlawful discriminatory housing practice has occurred or is about to occur it shall dismiss the complaint, and issue to the complaining party a right-to-sue letter which will enable him to bring a civil action in superior court.

(b) A complaint under subsection (a) shall be filed within 180 days after the alleged unlawful discriminatory housing practice occurred. The Council shall, within 30 days, notify the agency or unit of government of the apparent unlawful discriminatory housing practice, and request that the complaint be investigated in accordance with such authority.

(d)(i) If within 180 days after a complaint has been filed the Council has failed to take final action, the complainant may commence a civil action in superior court against the respondent to enforce the rights granted or protected by this act, insofar as such rights relate to the subject of the complaint. The commencement of an action by the complainant shall divest the Council of jurisdiction over the complaint. Within 10 days of the filing of the action the complainant shall mail a copy of the original complaint to the Council.

(d)(ii) If the Council, within the 180-day period in subsection (d)(i) is unable to resolve the alleged unlawful discriminatory housing practice, by the methods allowed by this section, the Council may commence a civil action in superior court against the respondent for such preventive relief as it deems necessary to insure the full enjoyment of the rights granted by this act. "§ 41A-8. Investigation; subpoenas.—(a) In conducting an investigation, the Council shall have access at all reasonable times to premises, records, documents, individuals, and other evidence or possible sources of evidence and may examine, record, and copy such materials and take and record the testimony or statements of such persons as are reasonably necessary for the furtherance of the investigation: Provided, however, that the Council first complies with the provisions of the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution relating to unreasonable searches and seizures.

(b) The Council may issue subpoenas to compel access to or the production of such materials, or the appearance of such persons, and may issue interrogatories to a respondent, to the same extent and subject to the same limitations as would apply if the subpoenas or interrogatories were issued or served in aid of a civil action in the general court of justice.

(c) Upon written application to the Council, a respondent shall be entitled to the issuance of a reasonable number of subpoenas subject to the same limitations as subpoenas issued by the Council. Subpoenas issued at the request of a respondent shall show on their face the name and address of such respondent and shall state that they were issued at his request.

(d) In case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpoena, the Council or the respondent may petition for its enforcement in the superior court for the district in which the person to whom the subpoena was addressed resides, was served, or transacts business.

"§ 41A-9. Statute of limitation.—Any civil action brought pursuant to this Chapter, shall be commenced within 180 days from the date of issuance of the right-to-sue letter, or the expiration of 180 days from the filing of a complaint with the Council whichever occurs first.

The Commission may prescribe the form of the application.

(b) Before he accepts the application, the secretary may require (i) in the case of the State, the State Treasurer or (ii) in the case of a municipality, the governing board or its representatives to attend a preliminary conference at which time the secretary and his deputies may informally discuss the proposed issue and the timing of the steps taken in issuing the bonds.

(c) After an application in proper form and order has been filed, and after a preliminary conference if one is required, the secretary shall notify the State Treasurer or the municipality, as the case may be, in writing that the application has been filed and accepted for submission to the Commission. The secretary's statement shall be conclusive evidence that the State or the municipality, as the case may be, has complied with this section."

"(4) That the State's or the municipality's, as the case may be, debt management procedures and policies are good, or that reasonable assurances have been given that its debt will henceforth be managed in strict compliance with law.

(5) That the proposed revenue bonds can be marketed at reasonable interest cost to the State or the municipality, as the case may be."

Sec. 9. G.S. 159-88 is rewritten to read:

"§ 159-88. Adoption of revenue bond order.—(a) At any time after the Commission approves an application for the issuance of revenue bonds, (i) in the case of the State, the Council of State and (ii) in the case of a municipality, the governing board of the municipality may adopt a revenue bond order pursuant to this Article.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of any city charter, general law, or local act, a revenue bond order may be introduced at any regular or special meeting of the governing board of a municipality and adopted at such a meeting by a simple majority of those present and voting, a quorum being present, and need not be published or subjected to any procedural requirements governing the adoption of ordinances or resolutions by the governing board other than the procedures set out in this Article. Revenue bond orders are not subject to the provisions of any city charter or legal act concerning initiative or referendum.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article, no bond order authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds of the State shall be adopted by the Council of State until such time as the General Assembly shall have enacted legislation authorizing the undertaking of the revenue bond project to be financed and fixing the maximum aggregate principal amount of revenue bonds that shall be issued for such purpose, and such legislation shall have taken effect."

Sec. 10. G.S. 159-89(9) is rewritten to read:

"The preparation and maintenance of a budget with respect to the expenses of the State or a municipality, as the case may be, for the operation and maintenance of revenue bond projects."

Sec. 11. G.S. 159-90 is rewritten to read:

(1) The maturity dates may not exceed the maximum maturity periods prescribed by the Commission for general obligation bonds pursuant to G.S. 159-122.

(2) Any bond may be made subject to redemption prior to maturity, including redemption on demand of the holder, with or without premium, on such notice and at such time or times and with such redemption provisions as may be stated. When any such bond shall have been validly called for redemption and provision shall have been made for the payment of the principal thereof, any redemption premium, and the interest thereon accrued to the date of redemption, interest thereon shall cease.

(3) The bonds may bear interest at such rate or rates, payable semiannually or otherwise, may be in such denominations, and may be payable in such kind of money and in such place or places within or without the State of North Carolina, as the State Treasurer or the issuing municipality, as the case may be, may determine."

Sec. 12. G.S. 159-91 is rewritten to read:

"§ 159-91. Lien of revenue bonds.—(a) All revenue bonds issued under this Article shall be equally and ratably secured by a pledge, charge, and lien upon revenues provided for in the bond order, without priority by reason of number, or of dates of bonds, execution or delivery, in accordance with the provisions of this Article and of the bond order; except that the State or a municipality may provide in a revenue bond order that revenue bonds issued pursuant thereto shall to the extent and in the manner prescribed in the order or agreement be subordinated and junior in standing, with respect to the payment of principal and interest and the security thereof, to any other revenue bonds.

(b) Any pledge made by the State or a municipality pursuant to this Article shall be valid and binding from the date of final passage of the bond order upon the issuance of any bonds or bond anticipation notes thereunder. The revenues, securities, and other moneys so pledged and then held or thereafter received by the State or a municipality, as the case may be, or any fiduciary shall immediately be subject to the lien of the pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and the lien of the pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the State or a municipality, as the case may be, without regard to whether such parties have notice thereof. The bond order by which a pledge is created need not be filed or recorded in any manner other than as provided in this Chapter."

Sec. 13. G.S. 159-93 is rewritten to read:

"§ 159-93. Agreement of the State.—The State of North Carolina does pledge to and agree with the holders of any revenue bonds or revenue bond anticipation notes heretofore or hereafter issued by the State or any municipality in this State that so long as any such bonds or notes are outstanding and unpaid the State will not limit or alter the rights vested in the State or the municipality at the time of issuance of the bonds or notes to establish, maintain, revise, charge, and collect such rates, fees, rentals, tolls, and other charges for the use, services, facilities, and commodities of or furnished by the revenue bond project in connection with which the bonds or notes, or bonds or notes refunded by the bonds or notes, were issued as shall produce revenues at least sufficient with other available funds to meet the expense of maintenance and operation of and renewal and replacements to such project, including reserves therefor, to pay when due the principal, interest, and redemption premiums (if any) of the bonds or notes, and to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the bondholders or noteholders, nor will the State in any way impair the rights and remedies of the bondholders or noteholders until the bonds or notes and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders or noteholders, are fully paid, met, and discharged."

Sec. 14. G.S. 159-94 is rewritten to read:

The principal of and interest on revenue bonds shall not be payable from the general funds of the State or the municipality, as the case may be, nor shall they constitute a legal or equitable pledge, charge, lien, or encumbrance upon any of its property or upon any of its income, receipts, or revenues, except the funds which are pledged under the bond order authorizing the bonds. Neither the credit nor the taxing power of the State or the municipality, as the case may be, are pledged for the payment of the principal or interest of revenue bonds, and no holder of revenue bonds has the right to compel the exercise of the taxing power by the State or the municipality, as the case may be, or the forfeiture of any of its property in connection with any default thereon. Every revenue bond shall recite in substance that the principal of and interest on the bond is payable solely from the revenues pledged to its payment and that the State or the municipality, as the case may be, is not obligated to pay the principal or interest except from such revenues."

Sec. 15. G.S. 159-95 is rewritten to read:

"§ 159-95. Approval of State agencies.—The general design and plan of any revenue bond project undertaken for water systems or facilities or sewage disposal systems or facilities shall be subject to the approval of the Commission for Health Services or the State Enviornmental Management Commission to the same extent that such projects would be if they were not financed by revenue bonds, and the provisions of the revenue bond order shall be consistent with any requirements imposed on the project by the Commission for Health Services or the State Environmental Management Commission. No revenue bond project for the acquisition or construction of systems or facilities for the generation, production, or transmission of gas or electric power may be undertaken by the State or a municipality unless the State or municipality, as the case may be, shall first obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity from the North Carolina Utilities Commission."

Sec. 16. G.S. 159-96 is amended by adding a new paragraph at the end to read:

"A revenue bond project financed wholly or partially by revenue bonds of the State may be located either within or without the State and, when operated primarily for the State's own use and for users within the State, may be operated incidentally for users outside the State."

Sec. 17. G.S. 159-120 is rewritten to read:

"§ 159-120. Definitions.—As used in this Article, unless the context clearly requires another meaning, the words 'unit' or 'issuing unit' mean 'unit of local government' as defined in G.S. 159-44, 'municipality' as defined in G.S. 159-81, and the State of North Carolina, and the words 'governing body', when used with respect to the State of North Carolina, mean the Council of State."

Sec. 18. Article 7 of Chapter 159 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 159-141. Terms and conditions of sale.—Notwithstanding the foregoing, any bond of the State may be sold upon such terms and conditions, at such interest rate or rates, for such price and in such manner, either public or private, as the State Treasurer shall determine."

Sec. 19. G.S. 159-160 is rewritten to read:

"§ 159-160. Definitions.—As used in this Part, the words 'unit' or 'issuing unit' means 'unit of local government' as defined in G.S. 159-44, 'municipality' as defined in G.S. 159-81, and the State of North Carolina."

Sec. 20. G.S. 159-165(a) is rewritten to read:

"(a) Bond anticipation notes of a municipality shall be sold by the Commission at public or private sale according to such procedures as the Commission may prescribe. Bond Anticipation Notes of the State shall be sold by the State Treasurer at public or private sale, upon such terms and conditions, and according to such procedures as the State Treasurer may prescribe."

Sec. 21. The foregoing sections of this act shall be deemed to provide an additional and alternative method for the doing of the things authorized thereby and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws, and shall not be regarded as in derogation of any powers not existing; provided, however, that the issuance of bonds and notes under the provisions of this act need not comply with the requirements of any other law applicable to the issuance of bonds or notes.

Sec. 22. This act, being necessary for the health and welfare of the people of the State shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes thereof.

Sec. 23. Insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special laws, or parts thereof, the provisions of this act shall be controlling.

Sec. 24. Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair the obligation of any bond, note or coupon outstanding on the effective date of this act.

Sec. 25. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.

Sec. 26. This act is effective upon ratification.

H. B. 456 CHAPTER 556

AN ACT TO REINSTATE PORTIONS OF THE PREVIOUS PROVISIONS OF LAW REGARDING THE TREATMENT OF REEMPLOYED RETIREES IN THE LOCAL GOVERNMENTAL EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM AND THE TEACHERS' AND STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 128-24(5)c. and G.S. 135-3(8)c. are rewritten to read:

"c. Should a beneficiary who retired on an early or service retirement allowance be restored to service for a period of time exceeding six calendar months, his retirement allowance shall cease, he shall again become a member of the Retirement System and he shall contribute thereafter at the uniform contribution rate payable by all members. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the beneficiary may irrevocably elect to commence membership immediately upon being restored to service, with cessation of his retirement allowance; and, the acceptance of the first monthly retirement allowance after being restored to service shall be an election to delay membership for the aforementioned six calendar months. Upon his subsequent retirement, he shall be entitled to the greater of the two allowances described in 1 and 2 below.

1. The allowance to which he would be entitled had he not been restored to service with cessation of retirement allowance, plus the allowance to which he would be entitled on account of his service after restoration to service and membership; provided, for the sole purpose of determining retirement eligibility on account of his service after restoration, that his creditable service shall be taken as the sum of his creditable service prior to and subsequent to his restoration to service; or
2. The allowance to which he would be entitled if his retirement were commencing for the first time, calculated on the basis of his total creditable service represented by the sum of his creditable service prior to and subsequent to his restoration to service, reduced by the actuarial equivalent of the retirement allowance he previously received; provided, in no event may he alter his Election of Optional Allowance as previously made."

Sec. 2. G.S. 128-24(5) and G.S. 135-3(8) are amended by the addition of a new subdivision designated as "d." to read:

"d. Should a beneficiary who retired on an early or service retirement allowance be employed by an employer participating in the Retirement System as an employee meeting less than the definition of service as used in this Chapter or on a contractual or fee basis for a period of time exceeding six calendar months, and if the beneficiary earns compensation for the employment in any calendar year which exceeds an amount equal to sixty percent (60%) of his gross compensation earned as an employee during the 12 consecutive months in the final 48 months of service prior to retirement producing the highest gross compensation excluding any compensation on account of termination, with the amount indexed as hereinafter provided, then the retirement allowance of the beneficiary shall be reduced by the amount of his earned compensation which exceeds the sixty percent (60%) of gross compensation prior to retirement; provided, in no event shall the retirement allowance of a beneficiary be less than the amount of his annuity as defined in this Chapter. The amount a beneficiary may earn before reduction shall be increased on January 1 each year by the ratio of the Consumer Price Index to the Index one year earlier, calculated to the nearest tenth of a percent (1/10 of 1%)."

Sec. 3. Any beneficiary in the Local Governmental Employees' Retirement System or the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System who was excluded from membership upon return to service on account of the former G.S. 128-24(5)c. or G.S. 135-3(8)c. may elect to repay all retirement allowances received while so excluded plus an amount equal to the member contributions which would otherwise have been made, to the appropriate Retirement System, and thereby establish retroactive membership service. The election and payment of these amounts must be made by December 31, 1983. The employer of the member shall, coincident with the payment by the member, pay to the appropriate Retirement System an amount equal to the employer contributions which would otherwise have been made while the member was so excluded from membership.

Sec. 4. This act is effective upon ratification.

H. B. 832 CHAPTER 557

AN ACT TO ACCELERATE THE PAROLE OF CERTAIN INMATES WHEN NECESSARY FOR EFFECTIVE PRISON MANAGEMENT.

Whereas, the present prison population of the State of North Carolina is in excess of 16,750; and

Whereas, in its proposed budget, the Department of Correction requests additional funding for the 1983-85 biennium sufficient to accommodate 18,700 inmates; and

Whereas, it is incumbent on the General Assembly to act in a fiscally responsible manner to control the costs of the Department of Correction; and

Whereas, there are almost 8,000 inmates in the custody of the Department of Correction who are presently eligible for parole; and

Whereas, no specific legislative authority exists for early release of inmates when necessary for the effective management and administration of the State's prison system; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 148 of the General Statutes is amended by adding the following new section:

"§ 148-4.1. Release of inmates.—(a) Whenever the Secretary of Correction determines from data compiled by the Department of Correction that it is necessary to reduce the prison population to a more manageable level, he shall direct the Parole Commission to release on parole over a reasonable period of time a number of prisoners sufficient to that purpose.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c), only inmates who are otherwise eligible for parole pursuant to Article 85 of Chapter 15A or pursuant to Article 3B of this Chapter may be released under this section.

(c) Persons eligible for parole under Article 85A of Chapter 15A shall be eligible for early parole under this section six months prior to the discharge date otherwise applicable, and three months prior to the date of automatic 90-day parole authorized by G.S. 15A-1380.2."

Sec. 2. G.S. 15A-1380.2(c) is amended by adding a new sentence at the end thereof to read as follows:

"In the case of an inmate eligible for parole under G.S. 148-4.1 of the North Carolina General Statutes, the Parole Commission is authorized to simultaneously parole and terminate supervision of a prisoner when such prisoner has less than 180 days remaining on this maximum sentence, and when the Commission finds that such action will not be incompatible with the public interest."

Sec. 3. G.S. 15A-1380.2(d) is further amended by adding a new sentence at the end to read as follows:

"Provided, that where the Commission feels that supervision is appropriate for a person eligible for parole under the terms of G.S. 148-4.1 of the North Carolina General Statutes, the conditions applicable to such early parole shall be those provided for by G.S. 15A-1374(b) as specified by the Parole Commission."

Sec. 4. This act shall become effective July 1, 1983.

S. B. 513 CHAPTER 558

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH UNIQUE AND RELEVANT EDUCATION AND TRAINING STANDARDS FOR SHERIFFS, THEIR DEPUTIES, AND OTHER PERSONNEL.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. There is hereby enacted a new Chapter 17E of the General Statutes to read as follows:

"Chapter 17E.

"North Carolina Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Commission.

"§ 17E-1. Findings and policy.—The General Assembly finds and declares that the office of sheriff, the office of deputy sheriff and the other officers and employees of the sheriff of a county are unique among all of the law enforcement offices of North Carolina. The administration of criminal justice has been declared by Chapter 17C of the General Statutes to be of statewide concern to the people of the State. The sheriff is the only officer of local government required by the Constitution. The sheriff, in addition to his criminal justice responsibilities, is the only officer who is also responsible for the courts of the State, and acting as their bailiff and marshall. The sheriff administers and executes criminal and civil justice and acts as the ex officio jailer.

The deputy sheriff has been held by the Supreme Court of this State to hold an office of special trust and confidence, acting in the name of and with powers coterminous with his principal, the elected sheriff.

The offices of sheriff and deputy sheriff are therefore of special concern to the public health, safety, welfare and morals of the people of the State. The training and educational needs of such officers therefore require particularized and differential treatment from those of the criminal justice officers certified under Chapter 17C of the General Statutes.

"§ 17E-2. Definitions.—Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following definitions apply to this Chapter:

(a) 'Commission' means the North Carolina Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Commission.

(b) 'Office' or 'department' means the sheriff of a county, elected by the people as required by the Constitution, his deputies, his employees and such equipment, space, provisions and quarters as are supplied for their use.

(c) 'Justice officer' or 'law enforcement officer' means a person who, through the special trust and confidence of the elected sheriff of the county, has taken the oath of office prescribed by Chapter 11 of these statutes as a peace officer in the office of a sheriff. The term includes 'deputy sheriffs' and 'special deputy sheriffs' but does not include clerical and support personnel not required to take an oath. The term 'special deputy' means a person who, through appointment by the sheriff, becomes an unpaid criminal justice officer to perform a specific act directed to him by the sheriff.

"§ 17E-3. North Carolina Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Commission established; members; terms; vacancies.—(a) There is hereby established the North Carolina Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Commission. The Commission shall be composed of 16 members as follows:

(1) Sheriffs. Eleven sheriffs representing each of the Congressional districts appointed by the North Carolina Sheriffs' Association, in such manner as shall be prescribed by the Constitution or bylaws of such Association.

(2) Appointees of the General Assembly. One person appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives pursuant to Article 16, G.S. 120-121, and one person appointed by the Lieutenant Governor pursuant to Article 16, G.S. 120-121.

(3) County Commissioners. One county commissioner appointed by the Governor as recommended from three nominees from the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners.

(4) Others. The President of the Department of Community Colleges or his designee and the Director of the Institute of Government or his designee shall be ex officio, nonvoting members of the Commission.

(b) Terms. Sheriffs representing Congressional Districts 1, 4, 7, and 10 shall be appointed to a term of one year; sheriffs representing Congressional Districts 2, 5, 8, and 11 shall be appointed to a term of two years; sheriffs representing Congressional Districts 3, 6, and 9 shall be appointed to a term of three years. The appointee of the House of Representatives shall serve a term of two years. The appointee of the Senate shall serve a term of two years. The county commissioner appointed by the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners shall serve a term of two years. After the initial terms established herein have expired, all sheriffs appointed to the Commission shall be appointed to terms of three years.

If an individual ceases to be a sheriff then his seat on the Commission becomes vacated upon his ceasing to be qualified to hold that seat. Any individual appointed or designated to serve on this Commission shall serve until his successor is appointed and qualified.

(c) Vacancies. If any vacancy occurs in the membership of the Commission, the appointing authority shall appoint another person to fill the unexpired term of the vacating member.

(d) Compensation. None of the members of the Commission shall receive compensation for serving on the Commission. However, if the North Carolina Department of Justice has funds available, then members of the Commission who are State officers or employees may be reimbursed for their expenses in accordance with G.S. 138-6; members of the Commission who are full-time salaried public officers or employees other than State officers or employees may be reimbursed for their expenses in accordance with G.S. 138-5(b). All other members of the Commission may receive compensation and reimbursement for expenses in accordance with G.S. 138-5.

(e) Officers. The chairman shall be elected from among the membership. The Commission shall select its other officers from among the membership as it deems necessary. All officers serve for one year, or until successors are qualified.

(f) Removal. The Commission may remove a member for misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance or neglect of duty.

(g) The Commission has power to adopt its own rules of procedure. The Commission shall meet no less than four times a year. It shall also meet on the call of the chairman or vice-chairman, or any four members of the Commission.

(h) The Commission may appoint any resident of the State to an adjunct or special committee created or appointed by it to study or make recommendations or reports on any subject matter related to its duties or the office of sheriff.

"§ 17E-4. Powers and duties of the Commission.—(a) The Commission shall have the following powers, duties, and responsibilities, which are enforceable through its rules and regulations, certification procedures, or the provisions of G.S. 17E-8 and G.S. 17E-9:

(1) Promulgate rules and regulations for the administration of this Chapter, which rules may require (i) the submission by any agency of information with respect to the employment, education, and training of its law enforcement officers, and (ii) the submission by any training school of information with respect to its programs that are required by this Chapter;

(2) Establish minimum educational and training standards that may be met in order to qualify for entry level employment as an officer in temporary or probationary status or in a permanent position;

(7) Certify, pursuant to the standards that it has established for the purpose, teachers who participate in programs or courses of instruction that are required by this Chapter;
(8) Make such evaluations as may be necessary to determine if agencies are complying with the provision of this Chapter;
(9) Adopt and amend bylaws, consistent with law, for its internal management and control;
(10) Enter into contracts incident to the administration of its authority pursuant to this Chapter.

The Commission may certify, and no additional certification shall be required from it, programs, courses and teachers certified by the North Carolina Criminal Justice Education and Training Standards Commission. Where the Commission determines that a program, course, instructor or teacher is required for an area which is unique to the office of sheriff, the Commission may certify such program, course, instructor, or teacher under such standards and procedures as it may establish.

(b) The Commission shall have the following powers, which shall be advisory in nature and for which the Commission is not authorized to undertake any enforcement actions:
(1) Certify, pursuant to the standards that it has established for the purpose, law enforcement officers for those law enforcement agencies that elect to comply with the minimum education, training, and experience standards established by the Commission for positions for which advanced or specialized training, education, and experience are appropriate;
(2) Consult and cooperate with counties, agencies of this State, other governmental agencies, and with universities, colleges, junior colleges, and other institutions, public or private, concerning the development of training schools and programs or courses of instruction;
(3) Study and make reports and recommendations concerning justice education and training in North Carolina;
(4) Conduct and stimulate research by public and private agencies which shall be designed to improve education and training in the administration of justice;
(5) Study, obtain data, statistics, and information and make reports concerning the recruitment, selection, education and training of persons serving justice agencies in this State; to make recommendations for improvement in methods of recruitment, selection, education and training of persons serving sheriffs' departments;

the officers and employees of agencies consistent with its rules and regulations;

(11) Maintain liaison among municipal, State and federal agencies with respect to education and training;

(12) Promote the planning and development of a systematic career development program for sheriffs' department personnel.

"§ 17E-5. Functions of the Department of Justice.—(a) The Attorney General shall provide such staff assistance as the Commission shall require and direct in the performance of its duties.

(b) The Attorney General shall have legal custody of all books, papers, documents, or other records and property of the Commission.

"§ 17E-6. Justice Officers' Standards Division established; appointment of director; duties.—(a) There is hereby established, within the Department of Justice, the Justice Officers' Standards Division hereinafter called 'the Division,' which shall be organized and staffed in accordance with applicable laws and regulations and within the limits of authorized appropriations.

(b) The Attorney General shall appoint a director for the Division chosen from a list of nominees submitted to him by the Commission who shall be responsible to and serve at the pleasure of the Attorney General and the Commission.

(c) The Division shall administer such programs as are assigned to it by the Commission. Administrative duties and responsibilities shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Administering any and all programs assigned to the Division by the Commission and reporting any violations of or deviations from the rules and regulations of the Commission as the Commission may require;

(4) Monitoring and evaluating programs of the Commission;

(5) Providing technical assistance to agencies of the justice system to aid them in the discharge of program participation and responsibilities;

(6) Disseminating information on Commission programs to concerned agencies or individuals;

(7) Taking such other actions as may be deemed necessary or appropriate to carry out its assigned duties and responsibilities;

(8) The director may divulge any information in the Division's personnel file of a law enforcement officer or applicant for certification to the head of the department employing the officer or considering the applicant for employment when the director deems it necessary and essential to the retention or employment of said officer or applicant. The information may be divulged whether or not such information was contained in a personnel file maintained by a State or by a local government agency.

"§ 17E-7. Required standards.—(a) Officers shall not be required to meet any requirements of subsections (b) and (c) of this section as a condition of continued employment, nor shall failure of any such justice officer to fulfill such requirements make him ineligible for any promotional examination for which he is otherwise eligible if the officer held an appointment prior to July 1, 1983, and is a sworn law enforcement officer with power of arrest. The legislature finds, and it is hereby declared to be the policy of this Chapter, that such officers have satisfied such requirements by their experience. It is the intent of the Chapter that all law enforcement officers employed at the entry level after the Commission has adopted the required standards shall meet the requirements of this Chapter.

(b) The Commission shall provide, by regulation, that no person may be appointed as a law enforcement officer at entry level, except on a temporary or probationary basis, unless such person has satisfactorily completed an initial preparatory program of training at a school certified by the Commission or has been exempted from that requirement by the Commission pursuant to this Chapter. Upon separation of a law enforcement officer from a sheriff's department within the temporary or probationary period of appointment, the probationary certification shall be terminated by the Commission. Upon the reappointment to the same department or appointment to another department of an officer who has separated from a department within the probationary period, the officer shall be charged with the amount of time served during his initial appointment and allowed the remainder of the probationary period to complete the basic training requirement. The Commission shall enforce the provisions of the subsection by the entry of appropriate orders.

"§ 17E-10. Donations to the Commission; grants and appropriation.—(a) The Commission may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this Chapter any and all donations, both real and personal, and grants of money from any governmental unit or public agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation, and may receive, utilize and dispose of same. S. B. 280 CHAPTER 559

AN ACT TO AMEND AND CLARIFY THE PROVISIONS OF LAW RELATIVE TO THE NORTH CAROLINA PUBLIC EMPLOYEE DEFERRED COMPENSATION PLAN.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Article 9 of Chapter 143B of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new Part to read:

"Part 23.

"Board of Trustees of the North Carolina Public Employee Deferred Compensation Plan.

"§ 143B-426.31. Board of Trustees of the North Carolina Public Employee Deferred Compensation Plan.—(a) The Governor may, by Executive Order, establish a Board of Trustees of the North Carolina Public Employee Deferred Compensation Plan, which when established shall be constituted an agency of the State of North Carolina within the Department of Administration. The Board shall create, establish, implement, coordinate and administer a Deferred Compensation Plan for State employees. Until so established, the Board heretofore established pursuant to Executive Order XII dated 12 November 1974 shall continue in effect. Likewise, the Plan heretofore established shall continue until a new plan is established.

(b) The Board shall consist of seven voting members, as follows:

(1) Three persons shall be appointed by the Governor who shall have experience with taxation, finance and investments, and one of whom shall be a State employee;

(2) One member shall be appointed by the General Assembly upon recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives under G.S. 120-121;

(3) One member shall be appointed by the General Assembly upon recommendation of the President of the Senate under G.S. 120-121;

(4) The State Treasurer, ex officio; and

(5) The Secretary of Administration, ex officio, chairman.

(c) General Assembly appointments shall serve two year terms. A member shall continue to serve until his successor is duly appointed but a holdover under this provision does not affect the expiration date of the succeeding term. No member of the Board may serve more than three consecutive two year terms.

(d) In case of a vacancy on the Board before the expiration of a member's term, a successor shall be appointed within 30 days of the vacancy for the remainder of the unexpired term by the appropriate official pursuant to subsection (b). Vacancies in legislative appointments shall be filled under G.S. 120-122.

(e) Other than ex officio members, members appointed by the Governor shall serve at his pleasure.

(f) Any ex officio member may designate in writing, filed with the Board, any employee of his department to act at any meeting of the Board from which the member is absent, to the same extent that the member could act if present in person at such meeting.

(g) It shall be the duty of the Board when established to review all contracts, agreements or arrangements then in force relating to G.S. 147-9.2 and Executive Order XII to include, but not be limited to, such contracts, agreements or arrangements pertaining to the administrative services and the investment of deferred funds under the Plan for the purpose of recommending continuation of or changes to such contracts, agreements or arrangements.

(h) It shall be the duty of the Board to devise a uniform Deferred Compensation Plan for State employees, which shall include a reasonable number of options to the employee, for the investment of deferred funds, among which may be life insurance, fixed or variable annuities and retirement income contracts, regulated investment trusts, pooled investment funds managed by the Board or its designee, or other forms of investment approved by the Board, always in such form as will assure the desired tax treatment of such funds. The Board may alter, revise and modify the Plan from time to time to improve the Plan or to conform to and comply with requirements of State and federal laws and regulations relating to the deferral of compensation of public employees generally.

(i) The Board is authorized to delegate the performance of such of its administrative duties as it deems appropriate including coordination, administration, and marketing of the Plan to employees. Prior to entering into any contract with respect to such administrative duties, it shall seek bids, hold public hearings and in general take such steps as are calculated by the Board to obtain competent, efficient and worthy services for the performance of such administrative duties.

(j) The Board may acquire investment vehicles from any company duly authorized to conduct such business in this State or may establish, alter, amend and modify, to the extent it deems necessary or desirable, a trust for the purpose of facilitating the administration, investment and maintenance of assets acquired by the investment of deferred funds. Any assets of such investment vehicles or trusts shall remain solely the property and rights of the State subject only to the claims of the State's general creditors.

(k) Members of the Board, who are not officers or employees of the State, shall receive per diem and necessary travel and subsistence in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 138-5, funded as provided in subsection (m) hereof.

(l) All clerical and other services and personnel required by the Board shall be supplied by the Secretary of Administration, funded as provided in subsection (m) hereof.

(m) Investment of deferred funds shall not be unreasonably delayed, and in no case shall the investment of deferred funds be delayed more than 30 days. The Board may accumulate such funds pending investment, and the interest earned on such funds pending investment shall be available to and may be spent in the discretion of the Board only for the reasonable and necessary expenses of the Board. The Secretary of Administration is authorized to prescribe guidelines for the expenditure of such funds by the Board. From time to time as the Board may direct, funds not required for such expenses may be used to defray administrative expenses and fees which would otherwise be required to be borne by employees who are then participating in the Plan.

(n) A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(o) It is intended that the provisions of this Part shall be liberally construed to accomplish the purposes provided for herein."

(3) inserting a new paragraph to read:

"(4) 'Plan' shall mean the North Carolina Public Employee Deferred Compensation Plan."

Sec. 3. G.S. 147-9.4 is rewritten to read:

"§ 147-9.4. Deferred Compensation Plan.—Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 147-62, and notwithstanding any provision of law relating to salaries or salary schedules of State employees, the chief executive officer of an employer, on behalf of the employer, may from time to time enter into a contract with an employee under which the employee irrevocably elects to defer receipt of a portion of his scheduled salary in the future, but only if, as a result of such contract, the income so deferred is deferred pursuant to the Plan provided for in G.S. 143B-426.31 or pursuant to some other plan established before 1 January 1983, and is not constructively received by the employee in the year in which it was earned, for State and federal income tax purposes. In addition, the income so deferred shall be invested in the manner provided in the applicable Plan; however, the employee may revoke his election to participate and may amend the amount of compensation to be deferred by signing and filing with the Board a written revocation or amendment on a form and in the manner approved by the Board. Any such revocation or amendment shall be effective prospectively only and shall cause no change in the allocation of amounts invested prior to the filing date of such revocation or amendment.

An employee who has agreed to the deferral of income pursuant to the Plan shall have the right to receive the income so deferred only in accordance with the provisions of the Plan. Funds so deferred shall not be in lieu of any amount earned by the employee before his election to defer compensation became effective. The agreement to defer income referred to herein shall be effective under such necessary regulations and procedures as are adopted by the Board, and on forms prepared or approved by it. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the amount by which the salary of an employee is deferred pursuant to the Plan shall not be excluded, but shall be included, in computing and making payroll deductions for social security and retirement system purposes, if any, and in computing and providing matching funds for retirement system purposes, if any."

Sec. 4. G.S. 120-123 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

AN ACT TO CLARIFY STATUTORY PROVISIONS REGARDING GOOD CONDUCT TIME CREDITS IN REDUCTION OF PRISON SENTENCES.

Whereas, Chapters 15A and 148 of the General Statutes contain ambiguous provisions regarding eligibility of criminal offenders sentenced to a period of imprisonment as an incident or condition of special probation to receive good conduct and gain time credits under the provisions of G.S. 15A-1340.7(b), 15A-1355(c), and 148-13; and

Whereas, a provision of the General Statutes was enacted on June 4, 1979, as Section 8 of Chapter 749 of the 1979 Session Laws, which specified that the aforementioned criminal offenders were to serve their periods of imprisonment on a "day-for-day" basis, and then on June 4, 1979, the General Assembly ratified legislation that prospectively repealed the foregoing enactment in Section 4 of Chapter 760 of the 1979 Session Laws, the effective date of which repeal was July 1, 1981; and

Whereas, periods of imprisonment imposed as a condition of special probation cannot exceed six months, the manner in which the imprisonment is to be served resting within the discretion of the court; and

Whereas, the court may impose noncontinuous periods of imprisonment as a condition of special probation; and

Whereas, the court has the authority under G.S. 15A-1344(e) and G.S. 15A-1351(a) to revoke a sentence of special probation and impose the sentence to imprisonment suspended in lieu of the term of special probation, which authority may be exercised as a sanction for violations of prison and detention facility rules to provide for the maintenance of order and discipline; and

Whereas, the repeal of the statutory requirement that criminal offenders sentenced to a term of special probation and a period of imprisonment as a condition thereof serve their sentences on a "day-for-day" basis was inadvertent and that amendments to the provisions of Chapters 15A and 148 of the North Carolina General Statutes are necessary to clarify this statutory requirement; and

Whereas, it is the policy and intent of the General Assembly that these criminal offenders serve their sentences on a "day-for-day" basis without good conduct or gain time credits in reduction of the periods of imprisonment imposed by the court; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 15A-1355(c) is amended by rewriting the second sentence to read:

"The provisions of this subsection do not apply to persons convicted of Class A or Class B felonies nor to persons sentenced to a term of special probation under G.S. 15A-1344(e) or G.S. 15A-1351(a)."

Sec. 2. G.S. 15A-1340.7(a) is amended by adding the following new sentence at the end:

"Defendants sentenced to a term of special probation under G.S. 15A-1344(e) or G.S. 15A-1351(a) are not subject to subsection (b) or to G.S. 148-13(b) for the purposes of good time or gain time deductions."

Sec. 3. G.S. 148-13 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(f) The provisions of this section do not apply to persons sentenced to a term of special probation under G.S. 15A-1344(e) or G.S. 15A-1351(a)."

Sec. 4. This act is effective upon ratification.

H. B. 455 CHAPTER 561

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH UNIFORM REGULAR AND SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF PROBATION.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 15A-1343(b) is rewritten to read as follows:

"(b) Regular Conditions. As regular conditions of probation, a defendant must:

(1) Commit no criminal offense in any jurisdiction.

(2) Remain within the jurisdiction of the court unless granted written permission to leave by the court or his probation officer.

(3) Report as directed by the court or his probation officer to the officer at reasonable times and places and in a reasonable manner, permit the officer to visit him at reasonable times, answer all reasonable inquiries by the officer and obtain prior approval from the officer for, and notify the officer of, any change in address or employment.

(4) Support his dependents.

(5) Possess no firearm, explosive device or other deadly weapon listed in G.S. 14-269 without the written permission of the court.

(6) Pay ten dollars ($10.00) per month for probation supervision to the clerk of superior court. The clerk of superior court must transmit this money to the State of North Carolina to be deposited in the General Fund. No person placed on supervised probation may be required to pay more than one supervision fee per month.

(7) Remain gainfully and suitably employed or faithfully pursue a course of study or of vocational training that will equip him for suitable employment.

(8) Notify the probation officer if he fails to obtain or retain satisfactory employment.

(9) Pay the costs of court, any fine ordered by the court, and make restitution or reparation as provided in subsection (d).

(10) Pay the State of North Carolina for the costs of appointed counsel or public defender to represent him in the case(s) for which he was placed on probation.

(11) At a time to be designated by his probation officer, visit with his probation officer a facility maintained by the Division of Prisons.

In addition to these regular conditions of probation, a defendant required to serve an active term of imprisonment as a condition of special probation pursuant to G.S. 15A-1344(e) or G.S. 15A-1351(a) shall, as additional regular conditions of probation, obey the rules and regulations of the Department of Correction governing the conduct of inmates while imprisoned and report to a probation officer in the State of North Carolina within 72 hours of his discharge from the active term of imprisonment.

Regular conditions of probation apply to each defendant placed on supervised probation unless the presiding judge specifically exempts the defendant from one or more of the conditions in open court and in the judgment of the court. It is not necessary for the presiding judge to state each regular condition of probation in open court, but the conditions must be set forth in the judgment of the court.

Defendants placed on unsupervised probation are subject to the provisions of this subsection, except that defendants placed on unsupervised probation are not subject to the regular conditions contained in subdivisions (2), (3), (6), (8), and (11)."

Sec. 2. G.S. 15A-1343 is amended by adding a new subsection (b1) to read as follows:

"(b1) Special Conditions. In addition to the regular conditions of probation specified in subsection (b), the court may, as a condition of probation, require that during the probation the defendant comply with one or more of the following special conditions:

(1) Undergo available medical or psychiatric treatment and remain in a specified institution if required for that purpose.

(2) Attend or reside in a facility providing rehabilitation, instruction, recreation, or residence for persons on probation.

(3) Submit to imprisonment required for special probation under G.S. 15A-1351(a) or G.S. 15A-1344(e).

(4) Surrender his driver's license to the clerk of superior court, and not operate a motor vehicle for a period specified by the court.

(5) Compensate the Department of Natural Resources and Community Development or the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, as the case may be, for the replacement costs of any marine and estaurine resources or any wildlife resources which were taken, injured, removed, harmfully altered, damaged or destroyed as a result of a criminal offense of which the defendant was convicted. If any investigation is required by officers or agents of the Department of Natural Resources and Community Development or the Wildlife Resources Commission in determining the extent of the destruction of resources involved, the court may include compensation of the agency for investigative costs as a condition of probation. This subdivision does not apply in any case governed by G.S. 143-215.3(a)(7).

(6) Perform community or reparation service and pay any fee required by law or ordered by the court for participation in the community or reparation service program.

(7) Submit at reasonable times to warrantless searches by a probation officer of his person and of his vehicle and premises while he is present, for purposes specified by the court and reasonably related to his probation supervision, but the probationer may not be required to submit to any other search that would otherwise be unlawful.

(8) Not use, possess, or control any illegal drug or controlled substance unless it has been prescribed for him by a licensed physician and is in the original container with the prescription number affixed on it; not knowingly associate with any known or previously convicted users, possessors or sellers of any such illegal drugs or controlled substances; and not knowingly be present at or frequent any place where such illegal drugs or controlled substances are sold, kept, or used.

(9) Satisfy any other conditions determined by the court to be reasonably related to his rehabilitation."

Sec. 3. G.S. 15A-1343(d) is amended by deleting the fourth sentence of that subsection.

Sec. 4. G.S. 15A-1343(e), as amended by Chapter 135 of the 1983 Session Laws, is rewritten to read as follows:

"(e) Direct Repayment of Appointed Counsel. With the consent of counsel appointed by the court to represent the defendant, the court may order that money received pursuant to subdivision (b)(10) for the payment of the counsel's fee be paid to the clerk on behalf of the counsel. The clerk must promptly pay to the appointed counsel any money received on his behalf."

Sec. 5. G.S. 15A-1343(f) is repealed.

Sec. 6. G.S. 15A-1343 is amended by adding a new subsection (g) to read as follows:

"(g) Probation Officer May Determine Payment Schedules. If a person placed on supervised probation is required as a condition of that probation to pay any monies to the clerk of superior court, the court may delegate to a probation officer the responsibility to determine the payment schedule. The court may also authorize the probation officer to transfer the person to unsupervised probation after all the monies are paid to the clerk. If the probation officer transfers a person to unsupervised probation, he must notify the clerk of that action."

Sec. 7. Subsection (g) of G.S. 15A-1342 is rewritten as follows:

"(g) Invalid Conditions; Timing of Objection. The regular conditions of probation imposed pursuant to G.S. 15A-1343(b) are in every circumstance valid conditions of probation. A court may not revoke probation for violation of an invalid condition imposed pursuant to G.S. 15A-1343(b1). The failure of a defendant to object to a condition of probation imposed pursuant to G.S. 15A-1343(b1) at the time such a condition is imposed does not constitute a waiver of the right to object at a later time to the condition."

Sec. 8. This act shall become effective October 1, 1983, and shall apply to persons placed on probation on or after that date. Section 4 of this act shall expire on July 1, 1985.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 20th day of June, 1983.

The Commission may exempt a parolee from this condition of parole only if it finds that requiring him to pay the fee will constitute an undue economic burden. The fee must be paid to the clerk of superior court designated by the Commission. (b) The commissioner and such officers and inspectors of the Division of Motor Vehicles as he has designated may take and possess any motor vehicle or component part if its engine number, vehicle identification number, or manufacturer's serial number has been altered, changed, or obliterated or if such officer has probable cause to believe that the driver or person in charge of the motor vehicle or component part has violated subsection (a) above. Any officer who so takes possession of a motor vehicle or component part shall immediately notify the Division of Motor Vehicles and the rightful owner, if known. The notification shall contain a description of the motor vehicle or component part and any other facts that may assist in locating or establishing the rightful ownership thereof or in prosecuting any person for a violation of the provisions of this Article.

(c) Within 15 days after seizure of a motor vehicle or component part pursuant to this section, the Division shall send notice by certified mail to the person from whom the property was seized and to all claimants to the property whose interest or title is in the registration records in the Division of Motor Vehicles that the Division has taken custody of the motor vehicle or component part. (4) A copy statement of the text contained in this section.

(d) Whenever a motor vehicle or component part comes into the custody of an officer, the Division of Motor Vehicles may commence a civil action in the District Court in the county in which the motor vehicle or component part was seized to determine whether the motor vehicle or component part should be destroyed, sold, converted to the use of the Division or otherwise disposed of by an order of the court. If ownership cannot be established, nothing in this section shall preclude the return of said motor vehicle or component part to a good faith purchaser following the presentation of satisfactory evidence of ownership thereof and, if necessary, upon the good faith purchaser's obtaining an assigned number from the Division of Motor Vehicles and posting a reasonable bond for a period of three years. The amount of the bond shall be set by the court.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 159B of the General Statutes is divided into four Articles: Article 1, to be entitled "Short Title, Legislative Findings and Definitions", shall consist of G.S. 159B-1 through G.S. 159B-3; Article 2, to be entitled, "Joint Agencies; Municipalities", shall consist of G.S. 159B-4 through G.S. 159B-35; Article 3, to be entitled, "Joint Municipal Assistance Agencies", shall consist of G.S. 159B-36.1 through G.S. 159B-40 as enacted by this act; and Article 4, to be entitled "Construction" shall consist of G.S. 159B-36 as recodified as G.S. 159-41.

"In addition to the authority granted municipalities to jointly plan, finance, develop, own and operate electric generation and transmission facilities by Article 2 of this Chapter and the other powers granted in said Article 2, and in addition and supplemental to powers otherwise conferred on municipalities by the laws of this State for interlocal cooperation, it is desirable for the State of North Carolina to authorize municipalities to form joint municipal assistance agencies which shall be empowered to provide aid and assistance to municipalities in the construction, ownership, maintenance, expansion and operation of their electric systems and in such other ways as hereinafter provided. In order to provide maximum economies and efficiencies to municipalities and the consuming public in the generation and transmission of electric power and energy contemplated by Article 2 of this Chapter, it is also desirable that the joint municipal assistance agencies authorized herein be empowered to act as provided in Article 3 of this Chapter and that such agency or agencies be empowered to act for and on behalf of any one or more municipalities, as requested, with respect to the construction, ownership, maintenance, expansion and operation of their electric systems."

Sec. 3. G.S. 159B-3(3) is rewritten to read:

Sec. 6. G.S. 159B-3 is amended by adding a new subdivision to read:

"(9) 'Electric system' shall mean any electric power generation, transmission or distribution system."

Sec. 7. A new Article 3 of Chapter 159B is enacted to read:

"Joint Municipal Assistance Agencies.

"§ 159B-36.1. Joint municipal assistance agencies.—The purpose of this Article is to authorize municipalities to form one or more joint municipal assistance agencies which shall be empowered to provide aid and assistance to municipalities in the construction, ownership, maintenance, expansion and operation of their electric systems, to do such other acts and things as hereinafter provided and to carry out the powers and responsibilities hereinafter granted in this Chapter. It shall also be the purpose of a joint municipal assistance agency to provide aid and assistance to any joint agency in the exercise of its respective powers and functions. The term 'provide aid and assistance' shall be liberally construed.

"§ 159B-37. Joint municipal assistance agencies authorized.—(a) Any two or more municipalities may organize a joint municipal assistance agency, which shall be a public body and body corporate and politic. Any municipality is hereby authorized to become a member of any such joint municipal assistance agency upon a determination, by resolution or ordinance of its governing board, that economies, efficiencies and other benefits might be achieved from participation in such an agency.

The resolution or ordinance determining it desirable for a municipality to become a member of a joint municipal assistance agency (which need not prescribe in detail the basis for the determination) shall set forth the names of the municipalities which are proposed to be initial members of the joint municipal assistance agency. The governing board of the municipality shall thereupon by ordinance or resolution appoint one commissioner and one alternate commissioner of the joint municipal assistance agency who may, at the discretion of the governing board, be an officer or employee of the municipality.

Any two or more commissioners so named may file with the Secretary of State an application signed by them setting forth (i) the names of all the proposed member municipalities; (ii) the name and official residence of each of the commissioners so far as known to them; (iii) a certified copy of the appointment evidencing their right to office; (iv) a statement that each governing board of each respective municipality appointing a commissioner has made the aforesaid determination; (v) the desire that a joint municipal assistance agency be organized as a public body and a body corporate and politic under this Chapter; and (vi) the name which is proposed for the joint municipal assistance agency.

The application shall be subscribed and sworn to by such commissioners before an officer or officers authorized by the laws of the State to administer and certify oaths.

The Secretary of State shall examine the application and, if he finds that the name proposed for the joint municiapl assistance agency is not identical with that of any other corporation of this State or of any agency or instrumentality thereof, or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty, he shall receive and file it and shall record it in an appropriate book of record in his office.

When the application has been made, filed and recorded as herein provided, the joint municipal assistance agency shall constitute a public body and a body corporate and politic under the name proposed in the application. The Secretary of State shall make and issue to the commissioners executing the application a certificate of incorporation pursuant to this Chapter under the seal of the State, and shall record the same with the application. The certificate shall set forth the names of the member municipalities.

In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of, or relating to, any contract of the joint municipal assistance agency, the joint municipal assistance agency, in the absence of establishing fraud in the premises, shall be conclusively deemed to have been established in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter upon proof of the issuance of the aforesaid certificate by the Secretary of State. A copy of such certificate or of any new or supplemental certificate hereinafter provided for, duly certified by the Secretary of State, shall be admissible in evidence in any suit, action or proceeding, and shall be conclusive proof of the filing and contents thereof.

Notice of the issuance of such certificate shall be given to all of the proposed member municipalities by the Secretary of State. If a commissioner of any such municipality has not signed the application to the Secretary of State and such municipality does not notify the Secretary of State of the appointment of a commissioner within 60 days after receipt of such notice, such municipality shall be deemed to have elected not to be a member of the joint municipal assistance agency. As soon as practicable after the expiration of such 60-day period, the Secretary of State shall issue a new certificate of incorporation, if necessary, setting forth the names of those municipalities which have elected to become members of the joint municipal assistance agency. The failure of any proposed member to become a member shall not affect the validity of the corporate existence of the joint municipal assistance agency.

(b) After the creation of a joint municipal assistance agency, any other municipality may become a member thereof upon application to such joint municipal assistance agency after the adoption of a resolution or ordinance by the governing board of the municipality setting forth the determination and finding prescribed above for the original members and authorizing said municipality to become a member and appointing a commissioner, and with the consent of a majority of the board of commissioners of the joint municipal assistance agency. Any municipality may withdraw from a joint municipal assistance agency, provided, however, that all obligations incurred by a municipality while it was a member shall remain in full force and effect. Notice that a municipality has been added to or withdrawn from membership in the joint municipal assistance agency shall be filed with the Secretary of State, and the Secretary of State shall thereupon issue a new or supplemental certificate of incorporation setting forth the names of all members of the joint municipal assistance agency. Additions of new members or withdrawal of members shall not affect the validity of the corporate existence of the joint municipal assistance agency.

(c) The joint municipal assistance agency shall be governed by a board of commissioners appointed as provided in subsection (a) above by the respective governing boards of the municipalities which are members of the joint municipal assistance agency. It shall not be necessary to notify the Secretary of State of the appointment of any commissioners following the notifications referred to in subsections (a) and (b) above. Each commissioner shall have one vote and shall serve at the pleasure of the governing board by which he was appointed. Each appointed commissioner before entering upon his duties shall take and subscribe to an oath before some person authorized by law to administer oaths to execute the duties of his office faithfully and impartially, and a record of each such oath shall be filed with the governing board of the appointing municipality and spread upon its minutes. The governing boards of the municipalities may appoint one alternate commissioner to act in lieu of its appointed commissioner when the appointed commissioner is unable for any reason to attend meetings of the board of commissioners or any committee thereof. Each alternate commissioner shall serve at the pleasure of the governing board by which he is appointed and shall take, subscribe to and file an oath in the same manner as prescribed for regularly appointed commissioners. Such alternate commissioner when acting in lieu of the regularly appointed commissioner shall be deemed to be the commissioner representing such municipality, and shall have the rights, powers and authority of the regularly appointed commissioner, other than such commissioner's position as an officer, director or member of the executive committee. All powers, functions, rights and privileges of the joint municipal assistance agency shall be exercised or delegated by the board of commissioners.

(d) The board of commissioners of the joint municipal assistance agency shall annually elect one of the commissioners as president, another as vice president, and another person or persons, who may but need not be commissioners, as treasurer, secretary, and, if desired, assistant secretary or secretaries and assistant treasurer. The office of treasurer or assistant treasurer may be held by the secretary or any assistant secretary. The board of commissioners may also appoint and prescribe the duties of such additional officers as it deems necessary. The secretary or any assistant secretary of the joint municipal assistance agency shall keep a record of the proceedings of the joint municipal assistance agency, and the secretary shall be the custodian of all records, books, documents and papers filed with the joint municipal assistance agency, the minute book or journal of the joint municipal assistance agency and its official seal. Either the secretary or any assistant secretary of the joint municipal assistance agency may cause copies to be made of all minutes and other records and documents of the joint municipal assistance agency and may give certificates under the official seal of the joint municipal assistance agency to the effect that such copies are true copies, and all persons dealing with the joint municipal assistance agency may rely upon such certificates.

(e) Fifty-one percent (51%) of the commissioners of a joint municipal assistance agency then in office shall constitute a quorum, and the commissioners may by written consent executed before or after any meeting waive notice and all other formalities incident to the calling or conduct of the same. Meetings of the commissioners may be held at any place within the State or any state contiguous to the State. A vacancy in the board of commissioners of the joint municipal assistance agency shall not impair the right of a quorum to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the joint municipal assistance agency. Any action taken by the joint municipal assistance agency under the provisions of this Chapter may be authorized by resolution at any regular or special meeting, and each such resolution shall take effect immediately and need not be published or posted. Except as specifically provided by the bylaws, a majority of the votes of the commissioners present shall be necessary and sufficient to take any action or to pass any resolution.

(f) The board of commissioners of the joint municipal assistance agency may, in its bylaws, provide for a board of directors of the joint municipal assistance agency to be selected from the commissioners and alternate commissioners. The board of directors shall have and exercise such of the powers and authority of the board of commissioners during the intervals between the board of commissioners' meetings as shall be prescribed in the bylaws, rules, motions and resolutions of the board of commissioners. The terms of office of the members of the board of directors and the method of filling vacancies therein shall be fixed by the bylaws of the board of commissioners of the joint municipal assistance agency. The bylaws of the joint municipal assistance agency shall provide that the officers of the board of commissioners elected pursuant to subsection (d) of this section must also serve on the board of directors and hold the same offices thereon.

(g) The board of commissioners may also provide, in its bylaws or otherwise, that the board of directors shall create an executive committee of the board of directors composed of the officers of the board of directors, together with such other members of the board of directors as may be prescribed and that such executive committee shall have and shall exercise such of the powers and authority of the board of directors during the intervals between that board's meetings as shall be prescribed in the bylaws of the joint municipal assistance agency or in the rules or resolutions of the board of directors.

(h) The board of commissioners, board of directors and executive committee may provide or adopt methods and procedures consistent with other applicable laws for the calling or conducting of meetings or the taking of any action.

(i) No commissioner or director of a joint municipal assistance agency shall receive any compensation for the performance of his or her duties hereunder, provided, however, that each commissioner and director may be paid his or her necessary expenses incurred while engaged in the performance of such duties.

"§ 159B-38. General powers of joint municipal assistance agencies and municipalities.—Each joint municipal assistance agency shall have all of the rights and powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Article, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the rights and powers:

(1) To establish and from time to time modify a schedule of dues and assessments and to provide that the payment thereof when due shall be prerequisite to voting at any meeting and participation in and enjoyment of rights or benefits of the joint municipal assistance agency;

(2) To appropriate for the purposes of the joint municipal assistance agency the funds derived from dues and assessments, and from any other source;

(3) To provide aid and assistance to any one or more municipalities, and to act for or on behalf of any one or more municipalities, in any activity related to the construction, ownership, maintenance, expansion or operation of an electric system, upon such terms, conditions and considerations as may be agreed to between the municipalities and the joint municipal assistance agency;

(4) To provide aid and assistance to any one or more joint agencies, and to act for or on behalf of any one or more joint agencies in the exercise of any power, function, right, privilege or immunity granted by Article 2 of this Chapter, upon such terms, conditions and considerations as may be agreed to between the joint agency and the joint municipal assistance agency;

(5) To provide property and services to any one or more municipalities or joint agencies upon such terms, conditions and considerations as may be agreed to between the municipalities or joint agency and the joint municipal assistance agency;

(6) To adopt bylaws for the regulation of the affairs and the conduct of its business, and to prescribe rules, regulations and policies in connection with the performance of its functions and duties;

(7) To adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure;

(8) To acquire and maintain an administrative building or office at such place or places as it may determine, which building or office may be used or owned together with any joint agency or agencies, municipalities, corporations, associations or persons under such terms and provisions for sharing costs and otherwise as may be determined;

(9) To sue and be sued in its own name, and to plead and be impleaded;

(10) To receive, administer and comply with the conditions and requirements respecting any gift, grant or donation of any property or money;

(11) To acquire by purchase, lease, gift, or otherwise, or to obtain options for the acquisition of, any property, real or personal, improved or unimproved, including an interest in land less than the fee thereof;

(12) To sell, lease, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of, or to grant options for any such purposes with respect to, any real or personal property or interest therein; provided, however, that property acquired by a joint municipal assistance agency from a municipality without consideration or for a consideration other than the fair market value thereof as determined by the governing board of the municipality may only be disposed of in accordance with the procedures set forth in Article 12 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes;

(13) To make and execute contracts for a period not exceeding three years and other instruments necessary or convenient in the exercise of the powers and functions of the joint municipal assistance agency, including contracts with municipalities, joint agencies, persons, firms, corporations and others, provided, however, that such contracts shall not unreasonably preclude the municipality or joint agency from contracting with other parties in order to achieve economy, adequacy and reliability in the operation of their electric systems;

(14) To employ engineers, architects, attorneys, real estate counselors, appraisers, financial advisors and such other consultants and employees as may be required in the judgment of the joint municipal assistance agency and to fix and pay their compensation from funds available to the joint municipal assistance agency therefor; and

(15) To do all acts and things necessary, convenient or desirable to carry out the purposes, and to exercise the powers granted to the joint municipal assistance agency herein.

Any municipality or joint agency is authorized to appropriate and pay funds to a joint municipal assistance agency and to enter into contracts or arrangements with a joint municipal assistance agency for the purposes and in the execution of the functions and powers of the municipality or joint agency.

Joint municipal assistance agencies shall comply with Article 8 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes respecting acquisition or construction of property to the same extent required of municipalities; provided, however, that Article 8 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes shall not apply to a municipality, joint municipal assistance agency or joint agency in transactions between a joint municipal assistance agency and a municipality or joint agency involving the transfer or construction of property.

Property owned by a joint municipal assistance agency or jointly owned by municipalities or joint agencies and joint municipal assistance agencies shall be exempt from property taxes; provided, however, that each joint municipal assistance agency shall, in lieu of property taxes, pay to any governmental agency authorized to levy property taxes the amount which would be assessed as taxes on real and personal property of such agency if such property were otherwise subject to valuation and assessment by the Department of Revenue. Such payments in lieu of taxes shall be due and shall bear interest if unpaid, as in the cases of taxes on other property. Payments in lieu of taxes made hereunder shall be treated in the same manner as taxes for purposes of all procedural and substantive provisions of law.

"§ 159B-39. Dissolution.—Whenever the governing board of a joint municipal assistance agency and the governing boards of its member municipalities shall by resolution or ordinance determine that the purposes for which the joint municipal assistance agency was formed have been substantially fulfilled and that all obligations incurred by the joint municipal assistance agency have been fully paid or satisfied, such governing boards may declare the joint municipal assistance agency be dissolved. On the effective date of such resolution or ordinance, the title to all funds and other property owned by the joint municipal assistance agency at the time of such dissolution shall vest in the members of the joint municipal assistance agency as provided in this Chapter and the bylaws of the joint municipal assistance agency. Notice of such dissolution shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

"§ 159B-40. Reports, liability, and personnel.—(a) Each joint municipal assistance agency shall, following the closing of each fiscal year, submit an annual report of its activities for the preceding year to the governing boards of its members. Each such report shall set forth an operating and financial statement covering the operations of the joint municipal assistance agency during such year. The joint municipal assistance agency shall cause an audit of its books of record and accounts to be made at least once in each year by independent certified public accountants.

(b) No commissioner, alternate commissioner or director or officer of any joint municipal assistance agency or officer of any municipality or person or persons acting in their behalf, while acting within the scope of his authority, shall be subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of his carrying out any of the powers expressly or impliedly given in this Article.

(c) Each municipality, joint agency and joint municipal assistance agency shall be severally liable for its own acts or omissions and not jointly or severally liable for the acts, omissions, or obligations of others, including other municipalities.

(d) In no event shall any municipality or joint agency be liable or responsible for any acts, omissions or obligations of any joint municipal assistance agency or any of its officers, employees or agents; provided, however, that contracts between the joint municipal assistance agency and one or more municipalities or one or more joint agencies may expressly provide for the imputation of or indemnification for any liability of one party thereto by the other, or for the assumption of any obligation of one party thereto by the other.

(e) Personnel employed or appointed by a municipality and performing services for or on behalf of a joint municipal assistance agency shall have the same authority, rights, privileges and immunities (including coverage under the workmen's compensation laws) which the officers, agents and employees of the appointing municipality enjoy within the territory of that municipality, whether within or without the territory of the appointing municipality, when they are acting within the scope of their authority or in the course of their employment.

(f) Personnel employed or appointed by a joint municipal assistance agency shall be qualified for participation in the North Carolina Local Government Employees' Retirement System with the same rights, privileges, obligations and responsibilities as they would have if they were employees of a municipality.

H. B. 658 CHAPTER 624

AN ACT TO PROTECT RENTERS OF APARTMENT BUILDINGS BEING CONVERTED TO CONDOMINIUMS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 47A of the General Statutes is hereby amended by designating the existing provision as Article 1 and by adding a new Article to read as follows:

"ARTICLE 2.

"Renters in Conversion Buildings Protected.

"§ 47A-33. Definitions.—The definitions set out in G.S. 47A-3 also apply to this Article. As used in this Article, unless the context requires otherwise, the term:

(1) 'Conversion building' means a building that at any time before creation of the condominium was occupied wholly or partially by persons other than purchasers and persons who occupy with the consent of purchasers.

(2) 'Declarant' means any person or group of persons acting in concert who, as part of a common promotional plan, offers to dispose of his or its interest in a unit not previously disposed of.

(3) 'Dispose' or 'disposition' means a voluntary transfer to a purchaser of any legal or equitable interest in a unit, but does not include the transfer or release of a security interest.

(4) 'Offering' means any advertisement, inducement, solicitation, or attempt to encourage any person to acquire any interest in a unit, other than as security for an obligation.

(5) 'Residential purposes' means use for dwelling or recreational purposes, or both.

"§ 47A-34. Offering statement.—An offering statement must contain or fully and accurately disclose:

(1) The name and principal address of the declarant;

(2) A general description of the condominium including, to the extent possible, a listing of any improvements and amenities that declarant anticipates including in the condominium, and declarant's schedule of completion of construction on buildings;

(3) The terms and significant limitations of any warranties provided by the declarant; and

(4) Any other information made available to the general public in connection with the offering.

"§ 47A-35. Time to vacate; Right of first refusal to purchase.—(a) A declarant of a condominium containing conversion buildings, and any person in the business of selling real estate for his own account who intends to offer units in such a condominium, shall provide each of the residential tenants and any residential subtenant in possession of a portion of a conversion building notice of the conversion as well as an offering statement as provided in G.S. 47A-34 no later than 90 days before the tenant or subtenant are required to vacate. The notice shall set forth generally the rights of tenants and subtenants under this section and section (b) of G.S. 47A-35. This notice shall be hand-delivered to the unit or mailed by prepaid United States mail to the tenant and subtenant at the address of the unit or any other mailing address provided by a tenant. No tenant or subtenant may be required to vacate upon less than 90 days' notice, except by reason of nonpayment of rent, waste, conduct that disturbs other tenants' peaceful enjoyment of the premises or breach of lease giving rise to the right of repossession of the unit by the declarant, and the terms of the tenancy may not be altered during that period. Failure to give notice as required by this section is a defense to an action for possession.

(b) For 30 days after the delivery of the notice described in subsection (a), the person required to give the notice shall offer to convey each unit or proposed unit occupied for residential use to the tenant who leases that unit. The tenant can accept an offer under this section by entering into an agreement to purchase within the 30-day period. The tenant shall be allowed a 30-day period after acceptance in which to complete a purchase transaction. This subsection does not apply to any unit in a conversion building if that unit will be restricted exclusively to nonresidential use or the boundaries of the converted unit do not substantially conform to the dimensions of the residential unit before conversion.

(c) If a declarant, in violation of subsection (b), conveys a unit to a purchaser, recordation of the deed conveying the unit extinguishes any right a tenant may have under subsection (b) to purchase that unit, but does not affect any other right of a tenant.

"§ 47A-36. Applicability.—This Article applies to condominiums of five or more units created on or after January 1, 1984."

Sec. 2. Article 1 of Chapter 47A of the General Statutes, as designated by this act, is amended by deleting the word "Chapter" each time it appears and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Article".

Sec. 3. This act shall become effective January 1, 1984.

Except that with respect to services in the educational institutions listed above, benefits shall not be payable based on such services for any week commencing during the period between two successive academic years, or during a similar period between two regular terms, or during a period of paid sabbatical leave provided for in the individual's contract, if the individual has a contract or contracts, written, oral or implied, or a reasonable assurance to perform services in any such capacity for such educational institution for both such academic years or both such terms. Substantial fault is defined to include those acts or omissions of employees over which they exercised reasonable control and which violate reasonable requirements of the job but shall not include (1) minor infractions of rules unless such infractions are repeated after a warning was received by the employee, (2) nonintentional mistakes made by the employee, nor (3) failures to perform work because of insufficient skill, ability, or equipment. Upon a finding of discharge under this subsection, the individual shall be disqualified for a period of nine weeks unless, based on findings by the Commission of aggravating or mitigating circumstances, the period of disqualification is lengthened or shortened within the limits set out above. The length of the disqualification so set by the Commission shall not be disturbed by a reviewing court except upon a finding of plain error."

Sec. 7. The last sentence of G.S. 96-12(e)C.2 is amended by adding the words "or substantial fault" after the words "discharged for misconduct".

Sec. 8. G.S. 96-14(8) is rewritten to read:

When the amount so paid by the employer is in a lump sum and covers a period of more than one week, such amount shall be allocated to the weeks in the period on such a pro rata basis as the Commission may adopt and if the amount so prorated to a particular week would, if it had been earned by the claimant during that week of unemployment, have resulted in a reduced benefit payment as provided in G.S. 96-12, the claimant shall be entitled to receive such reduced payment if the claimant was otherwise eligible."

Sec. 9. The first sentence of G.S. 96-8(13)a. is rewritten to read:

Sec. 10. The first paragraph of G.S. 96-15(b)(1) is rewritten to read:

"Initial Determination. A representative designated by the Commission shall promptly examine the claim and shall determine whether or not the claim is valid. If the claim is determined to be not valid for any reason other than lack of base period earnings, the claim shall be referred to an Adjudicator for a decision as to the issues presented. If the claim is determined to be valid, a monetary determination shall be issued showing the week with respect to when benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable, and the potential maximum duration thereof. The claimant shall be furnished a copy of such monetary determination showing the amount of wages paid him by each employer during his base period and the employers by whom such wages were paid, his benefit year, weekly benefit amount, and the maximum amount of benefits that may be paid to him for unemployment during the benefit year. When a claim is not valid due to lack of earnings in his base period, the determination shall so designate. The claimant shall be allowed 10 days from the earlier of mailing or delivery of his monetary determination to him within which to protest his monetary determination and upon the filing of such protest, unless said protest be satisfactorily resolved, the claim shall be referred to the Chief Deputy Commissioner or his designee for a decision as to the issues presented. All base period employers, as well as the most recent employer of a claimant on a temporary layoff, shall be notified upon the filing of a claim which establishes a benefit year."

Sec. 11. The fourth sentence of G.S. 96-15(b)(2) is amended by deleting the words "an appeal is initiated" and substituting "a written appeal is filed pursuant to such regulations as the Commission may adopt".

Sec. 12. The third sentence of G.S. 96-15(c) is amended by deleting "further appeal is initiated" and substituting "a written appeal is filed pursuant to such regulations as the Commission may adopt", and further by rewriting the fourth sentence to read: "No person may be appointed as an Appeals Referee unless he possesses the minimum qualifications necessary to be a staff attorney eligible for designation by the Commission as a hearing officer under G.S. 96-4(m)."

Sec. 13. G.S. 96-15(h) is rewritten to read:

"Appeal to Courts. Any decision of the Commission in the absence of an appeal therefrom as herein provided, shall become final 30 days after the date of notification or mailing thereof, whichever is earlier, and judicial review thereof shall be permitted only after any party claiming to be aggrieved thereby has exhausted his remedies before the Commission as provided by this Chapter and has filed notice of appeal as hereinafter provided. The Commission shall be deemed to be a party to any judicial action involving any such decision and may be represented in any such judicial action by any qualified attorney who has been designated by it for that purpose. If a notice of appeal is filed, but not in a timely fashion, the court shall dismiss the appeal upon the motion of the Commission. In order to obtain judicial review under this Chapter, the person seeking review must file a petition in the superior court of the county in which the appellant resides or has his principal place of business.

The petition shall explicitly state what exceptions are taken to the decision or procedure of the Commission and what relief the petitioner seeks. Within 10 days after the petition is filed with the court, the person seeking the review shall serve copies of the petition by personal service or by registered mail upon the Commission and upon all who were parties of record to the Commission proceedings. Names and addresses of such parties shall be furnished to the petitioner by the Commission upon request. Any party to the Commission proceeding may become a party to the review proceeding by notifying the court within 10 days after receipt of the copy of the petition. Any person aggrieved may petition to become a party by filing a motion to intervene as provided in G.S. 1A-1, Rule 24.

Within 45 days after receipt of the copy of the petition for review or within such additional time as the court may allow, the Commission shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceedings under review. With the permission of the court the record may be shortened by stipulation of all parties to the review proceedings. Any party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for such additional cost as may be occasioned by the refusal. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record when deemed desirable."

Sec. 14. G.S. 96-15(i) is rewritten to read:

"Appeal Proceedings. The decision of the Commission shall be final, subject to judicial review as herein provided. If a timely petition for review has been filed as provided in G.S. 96-15(h), the court shall have power to make party defendant any other party which it may deem necessary or proper to a just and fair determination of the case. The Commission may, in its discretion, certify to the reviewing court questions of law involved in any decision by it. In any judicial proceeding under this section, the findings of the Commission as to the facts, if there is evidence to support them and in the absence of fraud, shall be conclusive, and the jurisdiction of said court shall be confined to questions of law. Such actions and the questions so certified shall be heard in a summary manner and shall be given precedence over all civil cases. An appeal may be taken from the judgment of the superior court, as provided in civil cases. The Commission shall have the right of appeal to the appellate division from a decision or judgment of the superior court and for such purpose shall be deemed to be an aggrieved party. No bond shall be required of the Commission upon such appeal. Upon the final determination of the case or proceeding, the Commission shall enter an order in accordance with such determination. When an appeal has been entered to any judgment, order, or decision of the court below, no benefits shall be paid pending a final determination of the cause, except in those cases in which the final decision of the Commission allowed benefits."

Sec. 15. G.S. 96-18 is amended be deleting subsections (d) and (f) and by rewriting subsection (g) to read:

"(g)(1) Any person who, under subsection (e) above, has been held ineligible for benefits and who, because of those same acts or omissions has received any sum as benefits under this Chapter to which he was not entitled, shall be liable to repay any such sum to the Commission as provided in subparagraph (3) below, provided such decision under subsection (e) has been made within two years of the last such act or omission.

(2) Any person who has received any sum as benefits under this Chapter by reason of the nondisclosure or misrepresentation by him or by another of a material fact (irrespective of whether such nondisclosure or misrepresentation was known or fraudulent) or has been paid benefits to which he was not entitled for any reason (including errors on the part of any representative of the Commission) other than subparagraph (1) above shall be liable to repay such sum to the Commission as provided in subparagraph (3) below, provided no such recovery or recoupment of such sum may be initiated after three years from the last day of the year in which the overpayment occurred.

(3) The Commission may collect the overpayments provided for in this subsection by one or more of the following procedures as the Commission may, except as provided herein, in its sole discretion choose:

a. If, after due notice, any overpaid claimant shall fail to repay the sums to which he was not entitled, the amount due may be collected by civil action in the name of the Commission, and the cost of such action shall be taxed to the claimant. Civil actions brought under this section to collect overpayments shall be heard by the court at the earliest possible date and shall be entitled to preference upon the calendar of the court over all other civil actions except petitions for judicial review under this Chapter.

b. If any overpayment recognized by this subsection shall not be repaid within 30 days after the claimant has received notice and demand for same, and after due notice and reasonable opportunity for hearing (if a hearing on the merits of the claim has not already been had) the Commission, under the hand of its Chairman, may certify the same to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the claimant resides or has property, and additional copies of said certificate for each county in which the Commission has reason to believe such claimant has property located; such certificate and/or copies thereof so forwarded to the clerk of the superior court shall immediately be docketed and indexed on the cross index of judgments, and from the date of such docketing shall constitute a preferred lien upon any property which said claimant may own in said county, with the same force and effect as a judgment rendered by the superior court. The Commission shall forward a copy of said certificate to the sheriff or sheriffs of such county or counties, or to a duly authorized agent of the Commission, and when so forwarded and in the hands of such sheriff or agent of the Commission, shall have all the force and effect of an execution issued to such sheriff or agent of the Commission by the clerk of the superior court upon a judgment of the superior court duly docketed in said county. The Commission is further authorized and empowered to issue alias copies of said certificate or execution to the sheriff or sheriffs of such county or counties, or a duly authorized agent of the Commission in all cases in which the sheriff or duly authorized agent has returned an execution or certificate unsatisfied; when so issued and in the hands of the sheriff or duly authorized agent of the Commission, such alias shall have all the force and effect of an alias execution issued to such sheriff or duly authorized agent of the Commission by the clerk of the superior court upon a judgment of the superior court duly docketed in said county. Provided, however, that notwithstanding any provision of this subsection, upon filing one written notice with the Commission, the sheriff of any county shall have the sole and exclusive right to serve all executions and make all collections mentioned in this subsection and in such case, no agent of the Commission shall have the authority to serve any executions or make any collections therein in such county. A return of such execution or alias execution, shall be made to the Commission, together with all monies collected thereunder, and when such order, execution or alias is referred to the agent of the Commission for service, the said agent of the Commission shall be vested with all the powers of the sheriff to the extent of serving such order, execution or alias and levying or collecting thereunder. The agent of the Commission to whom such order or execution is referred shall give a bond not to exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000) approved by the Commission for the faithful performance of such duties. The liability of said agent shall be in the same manner and to the same extent as is now imposed on sheriffs in the service of execution. If any sheriff of this State or any agent of the Commission who is charged with the duty of serving executions shall wilfully fail, refuse or neglect to execute any order directed to him by the said Commission and within the time provided by law, the official bond of such sheriff or of such agent of the Commission shall be liable for the overpayments and costs due by the claimant. Additionally, the Commission or its designated representatives in the collection of overpayments shall have the powers enumerated in G.S. 96-10(b)(2) and (3).

c. Any person who has been found by the Commission to have been overpaid under subparagraph (1) above shall be liable to have such sums deducted from future benefits payable to him under this Chapter.

d. Any person who has been found by the Commission to have been overpaid under subparagraph (2) above shall be liable to have such sums deducted from future benefits payable to him under this Chapter in such amounts as the Commission may by regulation prescribe but no such benefit payable for any week shall be reduced by more than fifty percent (50%) of that person's weekly benefit amount."

Sec. 16. G.S. 96-4 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(s) Upon a finding of good cause, the Commission shall have the power in its sole discretion to forgive, in whole or in part, any overpayment arising under G.S. 96-18(g)(2)."

"§ 32B-3. Provisions not exclusive.—The provisions of this Article are not exclusive and shall not bar the use of any other or different form of power of attorney desired by the parties concerned.

"Article 2.

"Durable Power of Attorney.

"§ 32B-8. Definition.—A durable power of attorney is a power of attorney by which a principal designates another his attorney-in-fact in writing and the writing contains a statement that it is executed pursuant to the provisions of this Article or the words 'This power of attorney shall not be affected by my subsequent incapacity or mental incompetence,' or 'This power of attorney shall become effective after I become incapacitated or mentally incompetent,' or similar words showing the intent of the principal that the authority conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding the principal's subsequent incapacity or mental incompetence.

"§ 32B-9. Registered durable power of attorney not affected by incapacity or mental incompetence.—(a) All acts done by an attorney-in-fact pursuant to a durable power of attorney during any period of incapacity or mental incompetence of the principal have the same effect and inure to the benefit of and bind the principal and his successors in interest as if the principal were not incapacitated or mentally incompetent if the power of attorney has been registered under the provisions of subsection (b).

(b) No power of attorney executed pursuant to the provisions of this Article shall be valid subsequent to the principal's incapacity or mental incompetence unless it is registered in the office of the register of deeds of that county in this State designated in the power of attorney, or if no place of registration is designated, in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the principal has his legal residence at the time of such registration or, if the principal has no legal residence in this State at the time of registration or the attorney-in-fact is uncertain as to the principal's residence in this State, in some county in the State in which the principal owns property or the county in which one or more of the attorneys-in-fact reside. A power of attorney executed pursuant to the provision of this Article shall be valid even though the time of such registration is subsequent to the incapacity or mental incompetence of the principal.

(c) Any person dealing in good faith with an attorney-in-fact acting under a power of attorney executed and then in effect under this Article shall be protected to the full extent of the powers conferred upon such attorney-in-fact, and no person so dealing with such attorney-in-fact shall be responsible for the misapplication of any money or other property paid or transferred to such attorney-in-fact.

"§ 32B-10. Relation of attorney-in-fact to court-appointed fiduciary.—(a) If, following execution of a durable power of attorney, a court of the principal's domicile appoints a conservator, guardian of the principal's person or estate, or other fiduciary charged with the management of all of the principal's property or all of his property except specified exclusions, the attorney-in-fact is accountable to the fiduciary as well as to the principal. The fiduciary has the same power to revoke or amend the power of attorney that the principal would have had if he were not incapacitated or mentally incompetent.

(b) A principal may nominate, by a durable power of attorney, the conservator, guardian of his estate, or guardian of his person for consideration by the court if protective proceedings for the principal's person or estate are thereafter commenced. The court shall make its appointment in accordance with the principal's most recent nomination in a durable power of attorney except for good cause or disqualification.

"§ 32B-11. File with clerk, records, inventories, accounts, fees, and commissions.—(a) Within 30 days after registration of the power of attorney as provided in G.S. 32B-9(b), the attorney-in-fact shall file with the clerk of superior court in the county of such registration a copy of the power of attorney. Every attorney-in-fact acting under a power of attorney under this Article subsequent to the principal's incapacity or mental incompetence shall keep full and accurate records of all transactions in which he acts as agent of the principal and of all property of the principal in his hands and the disposition thereof.

(b) Any provision in the power of attorney waiving or requiring the rendering of inventories and accounts shall govern, and a power of attorney that waives the requirement to file inventories and accounts need not be filed with the clerk of superior court. Otherwise, subsequent to the principal's incapacity or mental incompetence, the attorney-in-fact shall file in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the power of attorney is filed, inventories of the property of the principal in his hands and annual and final accounts of the receipt and disposition of property of the principal and of other transactions in behalf of the principal. The power of the clerk to enforce the filing and his duties in respect to audit and recording of such accounts shall be the same as those in respect to the accounts of administrators, but the fees and charges of the clerk shall be computed or fixed only with relation to property of the principal required to be shown in the accounts and inventories. The fees and charges of the clerk shall be paid by the attorney-in-fact out of the principal's money or other property and allowed in his accounts. If the powers of an attorney-in-fact shall terminate for any reason whatever, he, or his executors or administrators, shall have the right to have a judicial settlement of a final account by any procedure available to executors, administrators or guardians.

(c) In the event that any power of attorney executed pursuant to the provisions of this Article does not contain the amount of commissions that the attorney-in-fact is entitled to receive or the way such commissions are to be determined, and the principal should thereafter become incapacitated or mentally incompetent, the commissions such attorney-in-fact shall receive subsequent to the principal's incapacity or mental incompetence shall be fixed in the discretion of the clerk of superior court pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 32-50(c).

"§ 32B-12. Appointment, resignation, removal, and substitutions.—(a) A power of attorney executed under this Article may contain any provisions, not unlawful, relating to the appointment, resignation, removal and substitution of an attorney-in-fact, and to the rights, powers, duties and responsibilities of the attorney-in-fact.

(b) If all attorneys-in-fact named in the instrument or substituted shall die, or cease to exist, or shall become incapable of acting, and all methods for substitution provided in the instrument have been exhausted, such power of attorney shall cease to be effective. Any substitution by a person authorized to make it shall be in writing signed and acknowledged by such person. Notice of every other substitution shall be in writing and acknowledged by the person substituted. No substitution or notice subsequent to the principal's subsequent incapacity or mental incompetence shall be effective until it has been recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the power of attorney has been recorded.

"§ 32B-13. Revocation.—Every power of attorney executed pursuant to the provisions of this Article shall be revoked by:

(1) The death of the principal; or

(2) Registration in the office of the register of deeds where the power of attorney has been registered of an instrument of revocation executed and acknowledged by the principal while he is not incapacitated or mentally incompetent, or by the registration in such office of an instrument of revocation executed by any person or corporation who is given such power of revocation in the power of attorney, or by this Article, with proof of service thereof in either case on the attorney-in-fact in the manner prescribed for service of summons in civil actions.

"§ 32B-14. Powers of attorney executed under the provisions of G.S. 47-115.1.—A power of attorney executed pursuant to G.S. 47-115.1 prior to October 1, 1983, shall be deemed to be a durable power of attorney as defined in G.S. 32B-8."

Any municipal governing board desiring to annex territory under the provisions of this Part shall first pass a resolution stating the intent of the municipality to consider annexation. Such resolution shall describe the boundaries of the area under consideration and fix a date for a public hearing on the question of annexation, the date for such public hearing to be not less than 45 days and not more than 90 days following passage of the resolution.

(b) Notice of Public Hearing. The notice of public hearing shall:

(1) Fix the date, hour and place of the public hearing.

(2) Describe clearly the boundaries of the area under consideration, and include a legible map of the area.

(c) Action Prior to Hearing. At least 30 days before the date of the public hearing, the governing board shall approve the report provided for in G.S. 160A-47, and shall make it available to the public at the office of the municipal clerk. If the Local Government Commission finds that the extension to the property was not complete by the end of the two-year period, it shall enter an order directing the city not to levy any further ad valorem taxes on the property until the fiscal year commencing after completion of the extension. In addition, if the Local Government Commission found that the extension to the property was not completed by the end of the two-year period, and if it finds that for any fiscal year during the period beginning with the first day of the fiscal year in which the annexation ordinance became effective and ending the last day of the fiscal year in which the two-year period expired, the city made an appropriation for construction, operation or maintenance of a water or sewer system (other than payments the city made as a customer of the system) from the fund or funds for which ad valorem taxes are levied, then the Local Government Commission shall order the city to release or refund an amount of the petitioner's property taxes for that year in question in proportion to the percentage of appropriations in the fund made for water and sewer services. By way of illustration, if a net amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) was appropriated for water or sewer construction, operation or maintenance from a fund which had total expenditures of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) and the petitioner's tax levy was one thousand dollars ($1,000), the amount of release or refund shall be ten dollars ($10.00)."

"§ 160A-37.1. Contract with rural fire department.—(a) If the area to be annexed described in a resolution of intent passed under G.S. 160A-37(a) includes an area in an insurance district defined under G.S. 153A-233, a rural fire protection district under Article 3A of Chapter 69 of the General Statutes, or a fire service district under Article 16 of Chapter 153A of the General Statutes, and a rural fire department was on the date of adoption of the resolution of intent providing fire protection in the area to be annexed, then the city (if the rural fire department makes a written request for a good faith offer, and the request is signed by the chief officer of the fire department and delivered to the city clerk no later than 15 days before the public hearing) is required to make a good faith effort to negotiate a five-year contract with the rural fire department to provide fire protection in the area to be annexed.

(b) If the area is a rural fire protection district or a fire service district, then an offer to pay annually for the term of the contract the amount of money that the tax rate in the district in effect on the date of adoption of the resolution of intent would generate based on property values on January 1 of each year in the area to be annexed which is in such a district is deemed to be a good faith offer of consideration for the contract.

(c) If the area is an insurance district but not a rural fire protection district or fire service district, then an offer to pay annually over the term of the contract the amount of money which is determined to be the equivalent of the amount which would be generated by multiplying the fraction of the city's general fund budget in that current fiscal year which is proposed to be expended for fire protection times the tax rate for the city in the current year, and multiplying that result by the property valuation in the area to be annexed which is served by the rural fire department is deemed to be a good faith offer of consideration for the contract; provided that the payment shall not exceed the equivalent of fifteen cents (15¢) on one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation of annexed property in the district according to county valuations for the current fiscal year.

(d) Any offer by a city to a rural fire department which would compensate the rural fire department for revenue loss directly attributable to the annexation by paying such annually for five years, is deemed to be a good faith offer of consideration for the contract.

(e) Under subsections (b), (c), or (d) of this section, if the good faith offer is for first responder service, an offer of one-half the calculated amount under those subsections is deemed to be a good faith offer.

(f) This section does not obligate the city or rural fire department to enter into any contract.

(g) The rural fire department may, if it feels that no good faith offer has been made, appeal to the Local Government Commission within 30 days following the passage of an annexation ordinance. The rural fire department may apply to the Local Government Commission for an order staying the operation of the annexation ordinance pending the outcome of the review. The Commission may grant or deny the stay in its discretion upon such terms as it deems proper, and it may permit annexation of any part of the area described in the ordinance concerning which no question for review has been raised, provided that no other appeal under G.S. 160A-38 is pending.

(h) The Local Government Commission may affirm the ordinance, or if the Local Government Commission finds that no good faith offer has been made, it shall remand the ordinance to the municipal governing board for further proceedings, and the ordinance shall then not become effective unless the Local Government Commission finds that a good faith offer has been made.

(i) Any party to the review under subsection (h) may obtain judicial review in accordance with Chapter 150A of the General Statutes."

Sec. 21. Chapter 160A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

(b) If the area is a rural fire protection district or a fire service district, then an offer to pay annually for the term of the contract the amount of money that the tax rate in the district in effect on the date of adoption of the resolution of intent would generate based on property values on January 1 of each year in the area to be annexed which is in such a district is deemed to be a good faith offer of consideration for the contract.

(c) If the area is an insurance district but not a rural fire protection district or fire service district, then an offer to pay annually over the term of the contract the amount of money which is determined to be the equivalent of the amount which would be generated by multiplying the fraction of the city's general fund budget in that current fiscal year which is proposed to be expended for fire protection times the tax rate for the city in the current year, and multiplying that result by the property valuation in the area to be annexed which is served by the rural fire department is deemed to be a good faith offer of consideration for the contract; provided that the payment shall not exceed the equivalent of fifteen cents (15¢) on one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation of annexed property in the district according to county valuations for the current fiscal year.

(d) Any offer by a city to a rural fire department which would compensate the rural fire department for revenue loss directly attributable to the annexation by paying such amount annually for five years, is deemed to be a good faith offer of consideration for the contract.

(e) Under subsections (b), (c), or (d) of this section, if the good faith offer is for first responder service, an offer of one-half the calculated amount under those subsections is deemed to be a good faith offer.

(f) This section does not obligate the city or rural fire department to enter into any contract.

(g) The rural fire department may, if it feels that no good faith offer has been made, appeal to the Local Government Commission within 30 days following the passage of an annexation ordinance. The rural fire department may apply to the Local Government Commission for an order staying the operation of the annexation ordinance pending the outcome of the review. The Commission may grant or deny the stay in its discretion upon such terms as it deems proper, and it may permit annexation of any part of the area described in the ordinance concerning which no question for review has been raised, provided that no other appeal under G.S. 160A-50 is pending.

(h) The Local Government Commission may affirm the ordinance, or if the Local Government Commission finds that no good faith offer has been made, it shall remand the ordinance to the municipal governing board for further proceedings, and the ordinance shall then not become effective unless the Local Government Commission finds that a good faith offer has been made.

(i) Any party to the review under subsection (h) may obtain judicial review in accordance with Chapter 150A of the General Statutes."

Sec. 22. Chapter 160A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 160A-37.2. Assumption of debt.—(a) If the city has annexed any area which is served by a rural fire department and which is in an insurance district defined under G.S. 153A-233, a rural fire protection district under Article 3A of Chapter 69 of the General Statutes or a fire service district under Article 16 of Chapter 153A of the General Statutes, then upon the effective date of annexation if the city has not contracted with the rural fire department for fire protection, or when the rural fire department ceases to provide fire protection under contract, then the city shall pay annually a proportionate share of any payments due on any debt (including principal and interest) relating to facilities or equipment of the rural fire department, if the debt was existing at the time of adoption of the resolution of intent, with the payments in the same proportion that the assessed valuation of the area of the district annexed bears to the assessed valuation of the entire district on the date the annexation ordinance becomes effective.

He is not required to appear before the clerk or magistrate for this purpose. His examination shall comply with the requirements of the initial examination as provided in G.S. 122-58.4(b) and (c). If the physician petitioner's recommendation is for inpatient commitment and the clerk or magistrate finds probable cause to believe that the respondent meets the criteria for inpatient commitment, he shall issue an order for transportation to or custody at a treatment facility described in G.S. 122-58.4(c)(1). If a physician executes an affidavit for inpatient commitment of a respondent, a second qualified physician shall be required to perform the examination required by G.S. 122-58.6."

If a physician is not immediately available, the respondent may be temporarily detained in a community mental health facility, if one is available; if such facility is not available, he may be detained, under appropriate supervision, in his home, in a private hospital or a clinic, in a general hospital, or in a regional mental health facility, but not in a jail or other penal facility.

(b1) The qualified physician shall examine the respondent as soon as possible, and in any event within 24 hours, after the respondent is presented for examination. The examination shall include but is not limited to an assessment of the respondent's:

deterioration which would predictably result in dangerousness as defined by G.S. 122-58.2(1), and

d. his current mental status or the nature of his illness limits or negates his ability to make an informed decision to voluntarily seek or comply with recommended treatment, the physician shall so indicate on the physician's examination report and shall recommend outpatient commitment. In addition the examining physician shall indicate the name, address, and telephone number of the proposed outpatient treatment physician or center. The person designated in the order to provide transportation shall return the respondent to his regular residence or to the home of a consenting person, and he shall be released from custody.

If a respondent becomes dangerous to himself or others pending a district court hearing on outpatient commitment, new proceedings for involuntary inpatient commitment may be initiated.

(d) If an inpatient commitment proceeding is initiated pending the hearing for outpatient commitment and the respondent is admitted to an inpatient facility to be held for an inpatient commitment hearing, the outpatient commitment proceeding shall be terminated and notice sent by the clerk of court in the county where the respondent is being held to the clerk of court of the county where the outpatient commitment was initiated."

(e) Hearings may be held at the community mental health center in which the respondent is being treated, if it is located within the judge's judicial district, or in the judge's chambers. If the commitment proceedings were initiated as the result of the respondent's being charged with a violent crime, including a crime involving an assault with a deadly weapon, and the respondent was found not guilty by reason of insanity or incapable of proceeding, the commitment order shall so indicate. If the court orders inpatient commitment for a respondent who is under an outpatient commitment order, the outpatient commitment is terminated and the clerk of the superior court of the county where the district court hearing is held shall send a notice of the inpatient commitment to the clerk of superior court where the outpatient commitment was being supervised.

(2) If the court finds by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence that the respondent is mentally ill; that he is capable of surviving safely in the community with available supervision from family, friends or others; that based on respondent's treatment history, the respondent is in need of treatment in order to prevent further disability or deterioration which would predictably result in dangerousness as defined by G.S. 122-58.2(1); and that the respondent's current mental status or the nature of his illness limits or negates his ability to make an informed decision to voluntarily seek or comply with recommended treatment, it may order outpatient commitment for a period not in excess of 90 days. If the commitment proceedings were initiated as the result of the respondent's being charged with a violent crime, including a crime involving an assault with a deadly weapon, and the respondent was found not guilty by reason of insanity or incapable of proceeding, the commitment order shall so indicate.

(3) If the court does not find that the respondent meets either of the commitment criteria set out in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, the respondent shall be discharged and the facility in which he was last a patient so notified.

(4) Before ordering any outpatient commitment, the court shall make findings of fact as to the availability of outpatient treatment. The court shall also indicate on the order the outpatient treatment physician or center who is to be responsible for the management and supervision of the respondent's outpatient commitment. The court shall order venue for further court proceedings to be transferred to the county where the outpatient commitment will be supervised. When an outpatient commitment order is issued for a respondent held in an inpatient facility, the court may order the respondent to be held at the facility for no longer than 72 hours in order for the treatment facility to notify the designated outpatient treatment physician or center of the treatment needs of the respondent. The facility shall send a copy of the outpatient commitment order to the designated outpatient treatment physician or center. Upon an order changing venue, the clerk of superior court of the county where the facility is located shall transfer a copy of the order of outpatient commitment to the clerk of superior court of the county where the outpatient treatment is to be supervised.

(b) If an examining physician has recommended outpatient commitment and the respondent has been released pending the district court hearing, the court may make one of the following dispositions:

(1) If the court finds by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence that the respondent is mentally ill; that he is capable of surviving safely in the community with available supervision from family, friends or others; that based on respondent's treatment history, the respondent is in need of treatment in order to prevent further disability or deterioration which would predictably result in dangerousness as defined in G.S. 122-58.2(1); and that the respondent's current mental status or the nature of his illness limits or negates his ability to make an informed decision to voluntarily seek or comply with recommended treatment, it may order outpatient treatment for a period not in excess of 90 days.

(2) If the court does not find that the respondent meets the criteria of commitment set out in subdivision (1) of this subsection, the respondent shall be discharged and the facility at which he was last a patient so notified.

(c) Treatment at a private facility or by a private physician shall be at the expense of the respondent to the extent that such charges are not disposed of by contract between the area mental health, mental retardation, and substance abuse authority and the private facility. The area mental health, mental retardation, and substance abuse authorities are authorized to set fees for inpatient or outpatient treatment services provided under a commitment order in accordance with G.S. 122-35.47."

Sec. 15. Chapter 122 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section G.S. 122-58.8A as follows:

"§ 122-58.8A. Immunity from liability.—None of the facilities or centers described in G.S. 122-58.2(5) (6) and (7), or any of the officials, staff or employees thereof, or any physician or other individual who is responsible for the management, supervision and treatment of a respondent's outpatient commitment shall be financially liable, personally or otherwise, for actions of the respondent if such entities, physicians or individuals follow accepted professional judgement, practice and standards in the management, supervision and treatment of the respondent. This immunity is in addition to any other legal immunity from liability to which these entities, physicians or other individuals may be entitled."

Sec. 16. Chapter 122 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section G.S. 122-58.10A as follows:

"§ 122-58.10A. Duties for follow-up on commitment order.—(a) If the commitment order directs inpatient treatment, the qualified physician attending the respondent is authorized to administer to the respondent reasonable and appropriate medication and treatment that is consistent with accepted medical standards. Provided, however, when a respondent refuses medication, he shall be afforded the protections provided by the rules adopted by the Commission for Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Services in force at the time of providing treatment regarding a patient's right to refuse treatment. The qualified physician attending the respondent shall release or discharge the respondent in accordance with G.S. 122-58.13.

(b) If the commitment order directs outpatient treatment, the outpatient treatment physician is authorized to prescribe or administer to the respondent reasonable and appropriate medication and treatment that is consistent with accepted medical standards.

(1) If the respondent fails to comply or clearly refuses to comply with all or part of the prescribed treatment, the physician or his designee shall make all reasonable effort to solicit the respondent's compliance. Such efforts shall be documented and reported to the court with a recommendation to the court whether the respondent should (1) have his case dismissed or (2) be given a supplemental hearing.

(2) If the respondent fails to comply, but does not clearly refuse to comply, with all or part of the prescribed treatment after reasonable effort to solicit the respondent's compliance, the physician or his designee may request the court to order the respondent taken into custody for the purpose of examination. Upon receipt of such a request, the clerk shall issue an order to a law enforcement officer to take the respondent into custody and to take him immediately to the designated outpatient treatment physician or center for examination. The law enforcement officer shall turn the respondent over to the custody of the physician or center who shall conduct the examination and then release the respondent.

(3) In no case may the respondent be physically forced to take medication or forcibly detained for treatment unless he poses an immediate danger to himself or others. In such cases inpatient commitment proceedings shall be initiated.

(4) At any time that the outpatient treatment physician finds that the respondent no longer meets the criteria set out in G.S. 122-58.4(c)(2), the physician shall so notify the court and the case shall be dismissed. Provided, however, if the respondent was initially committed as a result of conduct resulting in his being charged with a violent crime, including a crime involving an assault with a deadly weapon, and the respondent was found not guilty by reason of insanity or incapable of proceeding, the designated outpatient treatment physician or center shall notify the clerk that discharge is recommended. The clerk shall calendar a supplemental hearing as provided in G.S. 122-58.10B to determine whether the respondent meets the criteria for outpatient commitment.

(5) Any person who has knowledge that a respondent on outpatient commitment has become dangerous to self or others as defined by G.S. 122.58.2(1) may initiate a new petition for inpatient commitment as provided in this Article.

(c) If the respondent on outpatient commitment intends to move or moves to another county within the State, the designated outpatient treatment physician or center shall notify the clerk of court in the county where the outpatient commitment is being supervised. The clerk shall calendar a supplemental hearing within 10 days and give notice of the hearing to the petitioner, the designated outpatient treatment physician or center, and the respondent. At the supplemental hearing, the court shall determine if the respondent meets the criteria for outpatient commitment set out in G.S. 122-58.4(c)(2). If the court determines that the respondent no longer meets the criteria for outpatient commitment, it shall discharge the respondent from the order and dismiss the case. If the court determines that the respondent continues to meet the criteria for outpatient commitment, it shall continue the outpatient commitment but shall designate a physician or center at the respondent's new residence to be responsible for the management or supervision of the respondent's outpatient commitment. The court shall order the respondent to appear for treatment at the address of the newly designated outpatient treatment physician or center and shall order venue for further court proceedings under the outpatient commitment to be transferred to the new county of supervision. Upon an order changing venue, the clerk of court in the county where the outpatient commitment has been supervised shall transfer the records regarding the outpatient commitment to the clerk of court in the county where the commitment will be supervised. Also, the clerk of court in the county where the outpatient commitment has been supervised shall send a copy of the court's order directing the continuation of outpatient treatment under new supervision to the newly designated outpatient treatment physician or center.

If the respondent moves to another state, the designated outpatient treatment physician or center shall notify the clerk of superior court of the county where the outpatient commitment is supervised and the outpatient commitment shall be terminated.

(d) The clerk of superior court of the county where outpatient commitment is to be supervised shall keep a separate list regarding outpatient commitment and shall prepare quarterly reports listing all active cases, the assigned supervisor and the disposition of all hearings, supplemental hearings and rehearings."

Sec. 17. Chapter 122 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section G.S. 122-58.10B as follows:

"§ 122-58.10B. Outpatient commitment; supplemental hearings.—(a) Upon receipt of a request for a supplemental hearing, the clerk shall calendar a hearing to be held within 14 days and notify, at least 48 hours in advance of the hearing, the petitioner, the respondent, his attorney, if any, and the designated outpatient treatment physician or center. The respondent shall be notified by personally serving on him an order to appear. The procedures for the hearing shall follow G.S. 122-58.7A. In hearings for alleged noncompliance, the court must determine whether the respondent has failed to comply and, if so, the causes for noncompliance. If the court determines that the respondent has failed or refused to comply it may:

(1) upon finding probable cause to believe that the respondent is mentally ill and dangerous to himself or others, order an examination by the same or different qualified physician as provided in G.S. 122-58.4(b1) and (c) in order to determine the necessity for continued outpatient or inpatient commitment;

(2) reissue or modify the outpatient commitment order in compliance with G.S. 122-58.8; or

(3) discharge the respondent from the order and dismiss the case.

(b) At any time during the term of an outpatient commitment order, a respondent may apply to the court for a supplemental hearing for the purpose of discharge from the order. Such application must be made in writing to the clerk of superior court."

If the respondent no longer meets the criteria, the physician shall so notify the clerk who shall dismiss the case. Provided, however, if the respondent was initially committed as a result of conduct resulting in his being charged with a violent crime, including a crime involving an assault with a deadly weapon, and the respondent was found not guilty by reason of insanity or incapable of proceeding, the physician shall notify the clerk that discharge is recommended. The clerk shall calendar a supplemental hearing as provided in G.S. 122-58.10B. The clerk, at least 10 days before the end of the commitment period, on order of the district court, shall calendar the rehearing and shall notify the petitioner, the respondent, his attorney, if any, and the designated outpatient treatment physician or center of the time and place of the hearing.

(b) Rehearings are governed by the same procedures as initial hearings, and the respondent has the same rights he had at the initial hearing, including the right to appeal.

(c) If the court finds that the respondent no longer meets the criteria of G.S. 122-58.4(c)(2), it shall unconditionally discharge him. A copy of the discharge order shall be furnished by the clerk to the designated outpatient treatment physician or center. If the respondent continues to meet the criteria of G.S. 122-58.4(c)(2), the court may order outpatient commitment for an additional period not in excess of 180 days."

Sec. 21. G.S. 122-58.13(a) is amended by adding a new sentence between the first and second sentences as follows: "However, if the chief of medical services of the inpatient facility determines that the patient meets the criteria for outpatient commitment as defined in G.S. 122-58.4(c)(2), he may request the clerk to calendar a supplemental hearing to determine whether an outpatient commitment order shall be issued."

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 97-10.2 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:

"(j) In the event that a judgment is obtained which is insufficient to compensate the subrogation claim of the Workers' Compensation Insurance Carrier, or in the event that a settlement has been agreed upon by the employee and the third party when said action is pending on a trial calendar and the pretrial conference with the judge has been held, either party may apply to the resident superior court judge of the county in which the cause of action arose or the presiding judge before whom the cause of action is pending, for determination as to the amount to be paid to each by such third party tort-feasor. If the matter is pending in the federal district court such determination may be made by a federal district court judge of that division."

Sec. 2. G.S. 97-10.2(e) is amended to read:

"(e) The amount of compensation and other benefits paid or payable on account of such injury or death shall be admissible in evidence in any proceeding against the third party. In the event that said amount of compensation and other benefits is introduced in such a proceeding the court shall instruct the jury that said amount will be deducted by the court from any amount of damages awarded to the plaintiff. If the third party defending such proceeding, by answer duly served on the employer, sufficiently alleges that actionable negligence of the employer joined and concurred with the negligence of the third party in producing the injury or death, then an issue shall be submitted to the jury in such case as to whether actionable negligence of employer joined and concurred with the negligence of the third party in producing the injury or death. The employer shall have the right to appear, to be represented, to introduce evidence, to cross-examine adverse witnesses, and to argue to the jury as to this issue as fully as though he were a party although not named or joined as a party to the proceeding. Such issue shall be the last of the issues submitted to the jury. If the verdict shall be that actionable negligence of the employer did join and concur with that of the third party in producing the injury or death, then the court shall reduce the damages awarded by the jury against the third party by the amount which the employer would otherwise be entitled to receive therefrom by way of subrogation hereunder and the entire amount recovered, after such reduction, shall belong to the employee or his personal representative free of any claim by the employer and the third party shall have no further right by way of contribution or otherwise against the employer, except any right which may exist by reason of an express contract of indemnity between the employer and the third party, which was entered into prior to the injury to the employee. In the event that the court becomes aware that there is an express contract of indemnity between the employer and the third party the court may in the interest of justice exclude the employer from the trial of the claim against the third party and may meet the issue of the actionable negligence of the employer to the jury in a separate hearing."

S. B. 308 CHAPTER 652

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A NORTH CAROLINA ENERGY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. This act may be referred to as the North Carolina Resource Recovery and Energy Facility Finance Act.

Sec. 2. The General Statutes are hereby amended by adding a new Chapter, G.S. 159F, to read as follows:

"North Carolina Energy Development Authority.

"§ 159F-1. Public purpose.—The purposes of this Chapter are to encourage the good management of solid waste and the conservation of natural resources through the promotion or development of facilities to collect, separate and reclaim solid waste for energy production purposes where economically feasible, and to reduce the energy costs of public buildings and government operations by the development of resource recovery facilities and other energy-related facilities.

"§ 159F-2. Legislative findings.—(a) The people of the State of North Carolina have the right to a clean and wholesome environment.

(b) The continuing technological progress and improvement in the methods and processes of manufacture, packaging and marketing of consumer products have resulted in an ever mounting increase of and change in the characteristics of the mass of material being discharged. The economic and population growth of the State and the improvements in the standards of living enjoyed by its population have required increased industrial production together with related commercial operations to meet these needs, resulting in a rising tide of discharged materials.

(c) Maximum resource recovery from solid waste is necessary to protect the public health, welfare, and quality of the natural environment. The ability to economically recover energy resources from solid waste and from other available resources has become a logical and necessary function to be assumed by the North Carolina Energy Development Authority.

(d) The energy costs associated with the operation and maintenance of State and local government buildings are significant. Reduction of those energy costs through development of energy resources such as resource recovery facilities and through conservation is an overriding public purpose.

Therefore, to assist the development of resource recovery facilities and to reduce the energy costs of the operation and maintenance of public buildings, it is desirable to create an Energy Development Authority, with the powers enumerated herein. It is hereby determined and declared that it is necessary for the health and welfare of the inhabitants of the State that the energy generation facilities created by such Authority and serving a specified geographic area shall be used by public or private owners or occupants of all lands, buildings, and premises within said area, and a municipality may, by ordinance, require that all solid waste generated within said area and placed in the waste stream for disposal, shall be delivered to the permitted energy generation facility or facilities created by the Energy Development Authority. Actions taken pursuant to this Chapter shall be deemed to be acts of the sovereign power of the State of North Carolina, and to the extent reasonably necessary to achieve the purposes of this Chapter, a municipality may displace competition with public service for solid waste management and disposal. It is further determined and declared that no special purpose service district under the jurisdiction of the municipality or person, firm, corporation, association or entity within said geographic area shall engage in any activities which would be competitive with this purpose or with ordinances, rules or regulations adopted pursuant to the authority granted herein.

"§ 159F-3. Definitions.—The following words and terms, unless the context clearly indicates a different meaning, will have the following respective meanings:

One member shall be experienced in energy matters, one member shall be experienced in solid waste matters, and a third member shall be experienced in the financing of public facilities. The members shall be compensated for per diem and allowances as provided in G.S. 138-5 and G.S. 138-6.

(c) The Department of Administration shall provide such technical and clerical services and personnel as the Authority may require in the performance of its functions and shall provide liaison services with other agencies of State government to disseminate information and comment on Authority matters. The Authority shall reimburse the Department for such services from its revenues or from any other funding source.

(d) To the extent necessary, the Authority shall require any participating State agency, unit of local government or federal agency to advance funds to pay for the expenditures required by subsections (b) and (c) and other preliminary costs. Such funds shall be reimbursed to the advancing party from the proceeds of the sale of revenue bonds for the proposed project.

"§ 159F-5. Powers of the Authority.—(a) The Authority or any joint venture created pursuant to this Chapter shall have all of the powers necessary and convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Chapter, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following powers:

The Authority may permit separation and exclusion of specific kinds of waste if it determines that such waste is not necessary for the operation of the facility;

(8) The power and obligation to review and actively supervise the enforcement of such solid waste plans or ordinances, when adopted in conjunction with a project;

(9) The power to adopt fee schedules, user charges, and other charges for the use and operation of facilities under its jurisdiction and control and to approve and supervise the enforcement of such schedules or charges when adopted by a unit of local government in connection with a project;

(c) Notwithstanding the powers granted in subsection (a), the Authority shall not have the power to require any State agency, municipality, or special purpose service district to contract or enter into a joint venture with the Authority.

"§ 159F-6. Compliance with laws applicable to environmental pollution abatement and control.—This Chapter shall not be construed as amending, repealing or in any manner abridging or interfering with those sections of the General Statutes relating to the abatement or control of environmental pollutants and wastes and toxic or hazardous wastes and substances, nor shall the provisions of this Chapter be construed as being applicable to or in any way affecting the authority of State agencies and commissions to control the discharge of environmental pollutants and wastes and toxic or hazardous wastes substances into the air, soil, or waters of the State. The Authority shall be considered a State agency for purposes of the North Carolina Environmental Policy Act.

"§ 159F-7. Powers of State agencies and units of local government necessary to fulfill obligations under a joint venture.—(a) All State agencies and units of local government shall have the power to enter into joint ventures or contracts with the Authority to effectuate the purposes of this Chapter.

(b) When a State agency or unit of local government enters into a joint venture or contract with the Authority, that agency or unit of local government shall have the power to:

(2) Agree to deliver all solid waste collected within the jurisdiction of such agency or unit of local government and to pay a charge for the disposal thereof which may be fixed or based upon a formula. Such agreement may be for such period of years as may be deemed necessary by such agency or unit of local government, but shall not exceed 40 years. Such agreement may be renewed under such terms as may be set forth therein

"§ 159F-8. Issuance of revenue bonds.—(a) The Authority is hereby authorized to issue revenue bonds in such principal amount as may be necessary to provide sufficient monies for the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, extension, betterment, improvement, or payment of the costs of one or more projects described herein, including engineering, inspection, legal and financial fees and costs, working capital, interest on the bonds or notes issued in anticipation thereof during construction and all other project costs defined in G.S. 159F-3(c) and, if deemed advisable by the Authority, for a period not exceeding two years after the estimated date of completion of construction, establishment of debt service reserves, and all other expenditures of the Authority incidental and necessary or convenient thereto.

Subject to agreements with the holders of its revenue bonds, the Authority may issue further revenue bonds and refund outstanding revenue bonds whether or not they have matured. Revenue bonds may be issued partly for the purpose of refunding outstanding revenue bonds and partly for any other purpose under this Chapter.

(b) Obligations issued under the provisions of this Chapter shall not be deemed to constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or of any municipality or political subdivision thereof or a pledge of the faith and credit of the State or of any such political subdivision, but shall be payable solely from the revenues of the Authority. Each obligation issued under this Chapter shall contain on the face thereof a statement that the Authority shall not be obligated to pay the same nor interest thereon except from the revenues pledged therefor, and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State or of any political subdivision thereof is pledged to the payment of the principal of or the interest on such obligation.

(c) The bonds or coupons issued by the Authority which are duly certified by the officials of the Authority in the exercise of their functions on the date of their signing, shall be held valid, binding and sufficient for all purposes even though prior to the delivery and payment of such bonds or coupons, any or all of the officials of the Authority whose signatures or legal facsimile thereof that appear on the documents have ceased in their official functions in the Authority. The validity of the authorization and bond issue shall not depend or be affected by any procedure related to the construction, acquisition, expansion, or improvement of the project for which the bonds have been issued, or by any contract entered in connection with such project. Any resolution authorizing the bond issue may provide that such bonds shall contain a clause to the effect that they are being issued pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter, and any bond containing the referred clause, authorized by a resolution of the Authority, shall be deemed conclusively valid and issued pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter.

(d) Whether or not the bonds are of such form and character as to be negotiable instruments under the terms of the North Carolina Uniform Commercial Code, the notes and bonds are hereby made negotiable instruments within the meaning of and for all the purposes of the North Carolina Uniform Commercial Code, and shall be deemed to be so for all purposes, at all time in the absence of any express statement that it is not assignable.

(e) Neither the directors of the Authority nor any person executing bonds and coupons shall be liable personally on the bonds or other obligations or be subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the issuance thereof.

(f) The Authority, subject to such agreements with bondholders as may then exist, shall have power out of any funds available therefor to purchase bonds of the Authority or bonds which may be assumed by the Authority, which bonds shall thereupon be cancelled, at a price not exceeding:

(1) if the bonds are then redeemable, the redemption price then applicable plus accrued interest to the next interest payment thereon; or

(2) if the bonds are not then redeemable, the redemption price applicable on the first date after such purchase upon which the bonds become subject to redemption plus accrued interest to the date of purchase, whereupon which notes or bonds shall be cancelled.

(g) The Authority may not issue revenue bonds under this Chapter unless the issue is approved by the Local Government Commission. The Authority, or its duly authorized agent, shall file an application for Local Government Commission approval of the issue with the secretary of the Local Government Commission. The application shall state such bonds and the financial condition of the Authority and its enterprises as the secretary may require. The Local Government Commission may prescribe the form of the application.

Before he accepts the application, the secretary may require the Authority or its representatives to attend a preliminary conference at which time the secretary and his deputies may informally discuss the proposed issue and the timing of the steps to be taken in issuing the bonds.

After an application in proper form and order has been filed, and after a preliminary conference if one is required, the secretary shall notify the Authority in writing that the application has been filed and accepted for submission to the Local Government Commission. The secretary's statement shall be conclusive evidence that the Authority has complied with this section.

(h) In determining whether a proposed revenue bond issue shall be approved, the Local Government Commission may consider:

(1) Whether the project to be financed from the proceeds of the revenue bond issue is necessary or expedient;

(2) Whether the proposed project is feasible;

(3) The Authority's debt management procedures and policies;

(4) Whether the Authority is in default in any of its debt service obligations;

(5) Whether the probable net revenues of the project to be financed will be sufficient to service the proposed revenue bonds; and

(6) The ability to market the proposed revenue bonds at reasonable rates of interest.

The Local Government Commission may inquire into and give consideration to any other matters that it may believe to have a bearing on whether the issue should be approved.

The Local Government Commission shall approve the application if, upon the information and evidence it receives, it finds and determines:

(1) That the proposed revenue bond issue is necessary or expedient;

(2) That the amount proposed is adequate and not excessive for the proposed purpose of the issue;

(3) That the proposed project is feasible;

(4) That the Authority's debt management procedures and policies are good, or that reasonable assurances have been given that its debt will henceforth be managed in strict compliance with law; and

(5) That the proposed revenue bonds can be marketed at reasonable interest cost.

(i) After considering an application the Local Government Commission shall enter its order either approving or denying the application. An order approving an issue shall not be regarded as an approval of the legality of the bonds in any respect.

If the Commission enters an order denying the application, the proceedings under this Chapter shall be at an end.

(j) At any time after the Local Government Commission approves an application for the issuance of revenue bonds, the Authority may adopt a revenue bond order pursuant to this Chapter.

(k) A revenue bond order or a trust agreement securing revenue bonds may contain covenants as to:

(1) The pledge of all or any part of revenues received or to be received from the undertaking to be financed by the bonds, or the enterprise of which the undertaking is to become a part;

(2) Rates, fees, rentals, tolls or other charges to be established, maintained, and collected, and the use and disposal of revenues, gifts, grants, and funds received or to be received;

(3) The setting aside of debt service reserves and the regulation and disposition thereof;

(4) The custody, collection, securing, investment, and payment of any moneys held for the payment of revenue bonds;

(5) Limitations or restrictions on the purposes to which the proceeds of sale of revenue bonds then or thereafter to be issued may be applied;

(6) Limitations or restrictions on the issuance of additional revenue bonds or notes, the terms upon which additional revenue bonds or notes may be issued and secured, or the refunding of outstanding or other revenue bonds;

(7) The procedures, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the percentage of revenue bonds the bondholders of which must consent thereto, and the manner in which such consent may be given;

(8) Events of default and the rights and liabilities arising thereupon, the terms and conditions upon which revenue bonds issued under this Chapter shall become or may be declared due before maturity, and the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived;

(9) The preparation and maintenance of a budget with respect to the expenses of the Authority for the operation and maintenance of revenue bond projects;

(10) The retention or employment of consulting engineers, independent auditors, and other technical consultants in connection with revenue bond projects;

(11) Limitations on or the prohibition of free service by revenue bond projects to any person, firm or corporation, public or private;

(12) The acquisition and disposal of property for revenue bond projects;

(13) Provisions for insurance and for accounting reports and the inspection and audit thereof; or

(14) The continuing operation and maintenance of the revenue bond project or the enterprise of which it is to become a part.

(l) In fixing the details of revenue bonds, the Authority shall be subject to the following restrictions and directions:

(1) The maturity dates may not exceed the maximum maturity periods prescribed by the Commission for general obligation bonds pursuant to G.S. 159-122.

(2) No bonds may be made payable on demand, but any bond may be made subject to redemption prior to maturity, with or without premium, on such notice and at such time or times and with such redemption provisions as may be stated. When any such bond shall have been validly called for redemption and provision shall have been made for the payment of the principal thereof, any redemption premium, and the interest thereon accrued to the date of redemption, interest thereon shall cease.

(3) The bonds may bear interest at such rate or rates, payable semiannually or otherwise, may be in such denominations, and may be payable in such kind of money and in such place or places without or within the State of North Carolina, as the issuing Authority may determine.

(m) All revenue bonds issued under this Chapter shall be equally and ratably secured by a pledge, charge, and lien upon revenues provided for in the bond order, without priority by reason of number, or of dates of bonds, execution, or delivery, in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and of the bond order; except that that Authority may provide in a revenue bond order that revenue bonds issued pursuant thereto shall to the extent and in the manner prescribed in the order or agreement be subordinated and junior in standing, with respect to the payment of principal and interest and the security thereof, to any other revenue bonds.

Any pledge made by the Authority pursuant to this Chapter shall be valid and binding from the date of final passage of the bond order upon the issuance of any bonds or bond anticipation notes thereunder. The revenues, securities and other monies so pledged and then held or thereafter received by the Authority or any fiduciary shall immediately be subject to the lien of the pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and the lien of the pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the Authority without regard to whether such parties have notice thereof.

(n) Whether or not the revenue bonds and interest coupons appertaining thereto are of such form and character as to be investment securities under Article 8 of the Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in this State, all revenue bonds and interest coupons appertaining thereto issued under this Article are hereby made investment securities within the meaning of and for all the purposes of Article 8 of the Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in this State, subject only to the provisions of the bonds pertaining to registration.

(o) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Chapter, the State Treasurer shall have the exclusive power to issue bonds and notes authorized under the Chapter upon request of the Authority and with the approval of the Local Government Commission.

The State Treasurer in his sole discretion shall determine the interest rates, maturities, and other terms and conditions of the bonds and notes authorized by this Chapter.

The Authority shall cooperate with the State Treasurer in structuring any bond issue in general, and also in soliciting proposals from financial consultants, underwriters, and bond attorneys. The State Treasurer shall have the exclusive power to employ and designate the financial consultants, underwriters, and bond attorneys to be associated with the bond issue.

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A UNIFORM EVICTION POLICY.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Article 3 of Chapter 42 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 42-37. Notice to tenant of execution of writ for possession of property; storage of evicted tenant's personal property.—(a) When sheriff may remove property. Before removing a tenant's personal property from demised premises pursuant to a writ for possession of real property or an order, the sheriff shall give the tenant notice of the approximate time the writ will be executed, to be no more than seven days from the sheriff's receipt thereof. The sheriff shall remove the tenant's property, as provided in the writ, no earlier than the time specified in the notice, unless:

(1) the landlord, or his authorized agent, signs a statement saying that the tenant's property can remain on the premises, in which case the sheriff shall simply lock the premises; or

(2) the landlord, or his authorized agent, signs a statement saying that the landlord does not want to eject the tenant because the tenant has paid all court costs charged to him and has satisfied his indebtedness to the landlord.

Upon receipt of either statement by the landlord, the sheriff shall return the writ unexecuted to the issuing clerk of court and shall make a notation on the writ of his reasons. The sheriff shall attach a copy of the landlord's statement to the writ. If the writ is returned unexecuted because the landlord signed a statement described in subdivision (2) of this subsection, the clerk shall make an entry of satisfaction on the judgment docket. If the sheriff padlocks, the costs of the proceeding shall be charged as part of the court costs.

(b) Sheriff may store property. When the sheriff removes the personal property of an evicted tenant from demised premises pursuant to a writ or order the tenant shall take possession of his property. If the tenant fails or refuses to take possession of his property, the sheriff may deliver the property to any storage warehouse in the county, or in an adjoining county if no storage warehouse is located in that county, for storage. The sheriff may require the landlord to advance the cost of delivering the property to a storage warehouse plus the cost of one month's storage before delivering the property to a storage warehouse. If a landlord refuses to advance these costs when requested to do so by the sheriff, the sheriff shall not remove the tenant's property, but shall return the writ unexecuted to the issuing clerk of court with a notation thereon of his reason for not executing the writ. All costs of summary ejectment, execution and storage proceedings shall be charged to the tenant as court costs and shall constitute a lien against the stored property or a claim against any remaining balance of the proceeds of a warehouseman's lien sale.

(c) Liability of the sheriff. A sheriff who stores a tenant's property pursuant to this section and any person acting under the sheriff's direction, control, or employment shall be liable for any claims arising out of the willful or wanton negligence in storing the tenant's property.

(d) Notice. The notice required by subsection (a) shall be made by one of the following methods:

(1) by delivering a copy of the notice to the tenant or his authorized agent at least two days before the time stated in the notice for serving the writ;

(2) by leaving a copy of the notice at the tenant's dwelling or usual place of abode with a person of suitable age and discretion who resides there at least two days before the time stated in the notice for serving the writ; or

(3) by mailing a copy of the notice by first class mail to the tenant at his last known address at least five days before the time stated in the notice for serving the writ."

Sec. 2. Chapter 838 of the 1953 Session Laws and Chapter 464 of the 1975 Session Laws are repealed.

Sec. 3. G.S. 42-51 as it appears in Volume 2A, 1981 Cumulative Supplement, is amended on the fifth line by inserting between the words "tenant" and "or" the language "costs of removal and storage of tenant's property after a summary ejectment proceeding".

Sec. 4. This act shall become effective July 1, 1983, and shall apply to writs of possession for real property and orders that are issued on or after that date.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 1st day of July, 1983.

S. B. 238 CHAPTER 673

AN ACT TO CREATE THE PRIVATE PROTECTIVE SERVICES RECOVERY FUND.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section. 1. G.S. 74C-1 through G.S. 74C-19 are designated as Article 1 and captioned as follows:

"ARTICLE 1.

Private Protective Services Board."

Sec. 2. General Statutes Chapter 74C is amended by adding a new Article to read:

"ARTICLE 2.

Private Protective Services Recovery Fund.

"§ 74C-30. Private Protective Services Recovery Fund created; payment to Fund; management; use of funds.—(a) There is hereby created and established a special fund to be known as the 'Private Protective Services Recovery Fund' (hereinafter Fund) which shall be set aside and maintained in the Office of the State Treasurer. Said Fund shall be used in the manner provided in this Article for the payment of claims where the aggrieved person has suffered a direct monetary loss by reason of certain acts committed by any person licensed under this Chapter.

(b) Nothing contained in this Article shall limit the authority of the Board to take disciplinary action against any licensee or trainee under this Chapter, nor shall the repayment in full of all obligations to the Fund by any licensee or trainee nullify or modify the effect of any other disciplinary proceeding brought under this Chapter.

(c) In addition to the fees provided for elsewhere in this Chapter, the Board shall charge the following fees which shall be deposited into the Fund:

(1) On July 1, 1983, the Board shall charge every licensee and trainee possessing a license or trainee permit on that date a one-time fee of fifty dollars ($50.00);

(2) The Board shall charge each new applicant for a licensee or trainee permit fifty dollars ($50.00), provided that for purposes of this Article a new applicant is hereby defined as an applicant who did not possess a license or trainee permit on July 1, 1983; and

(3) The Board is authorized to charge each licensee and trainee an additional amount, not to exceed fifty dollars ($50.00), on July 1 of any year in which the balance of the Fund is less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), provided that any amount so assessed will be only so much as is needed to raise the level of the Fund to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), provided further that no such assessment shall be made until after such time as the Fund initially reaches a level of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) from funds collected pursuant to subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection.

(d) The State Treasurer shall invest and reinvest the monies in the Fund in a manner provided by law, provided that sufficient liquidity shall be maintained to satisfy claims authorized by the Board. The proceeds from such investments shall be deposited to the credit of the Fund. The Board in its discretion, may use any and all of the proceeds from such investments for any of the following purposes:

(1) To advance education and research in the private protective services field for the benefit of those licensed under the provisions of this Chapter and for the improvement of the industry;

(2) To underwrite educational seminars, training centers and other educational projects for the use and benefit generally of licensees and trainees; and

(3) To sponsor, contract for and to underwrite any and all additional educational training and research projects of a similar nature having to do with the advancement of the private protective services field in North Carolina.

"§ 74C-31. Application for payment out of Fund; hearing grounds.—(a) The Fund shall serve as a guaranty for the obligations of those licensed under this Chapter. The Fund's liability, as guaranty, is contingent upon a licensee or trainee defaulting upon an obligation owed to a person by the licensee or trainee where said obligation was entered into by the licensee or trainee within the scope of the licensee's or trainee's employment in providing private protective services.

(b) An aggrieved party may petition the Board for a hearing to determine whether or not a licensee or trainee defaulted upon an obligation owed to the aggrieved party by the licensee or trainee; whether, if such an obligation is found, it arose within the licensee's or trainee's scope of employment while providing private protective services; and if so, the amount of damages suffered by the aggrieved party. Said hearing shall be governed by the procedures of Chapter 150A of the General Statutes.

(c) Claims filed under this Chapter may only be brought for obligations incurred on or after July 1, 1983.

(d) Until such time as the Fund reaches one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), or at any time the Fund has insufficient assets in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to pay outstanding claims, the State Treasurer shall not disburse any payments to an aggrieved party. However, any party aggrieved and awarded payment as ordered by the Board which order is dated after July 1, 1983, shall hold a vested right for payment plus interest as provided in G.S. 24-1 once the Fund reaches a sufficient level for payments. Authorized payments which cannot be made due to a lack of funds will be paid as funds become available, beginning with those payments which have been unsatisfied for the longest period of time.

(e) Hearings held pursuant to this Article shall be separate and apart from any hearings authorized pursuant to Article 1 of this Chapter. However, there is no prohibition against, if the Board so desires, holding hearings pursuant to Article 1 and Article 2 at the same location, on the same date, or in front of the same hearing officer provided that in so doing no provisions of Chapter 150A of the General Statutes are violated.

"§ 74C-32. Order directing payment out of Fund.—If the Board finds, after a hearing pursuant to G.S. 74C-31, that the Fund, as guarantor, should make a payment to an aggrieved party, the Board shall enter an order directed to the State Treasurer authorizing payment from the Fund of whatever sum the Board shall find to be payable in accordance with the limitations contained in this Article.

"§ 74C-33. Maximum liability; pro rata distribution.—(a) Payments from the Fund shall be subject to the following limitations:

(1) The Fund shall not be liable for more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) per obligation regardless of the number of persons aggrieved; and

(2) The liability of the Fund shall not exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for any one licensee or trainee within a single calendar year.

(b) If the maximum liability of the Fund is insufficient to pay in full the valid claims of all aggrieved persons whose claims relate to the same obligation or to the same licensee or trainee, the amount for which the Fund is liable shall be distributed among the claimants in a ratio that their respective claims bear to the total of such valid claims or in such manner as the Board deems equitable. Upon action of the Board or parties, the Board may require all claimants and prospective claimants to be joined in one action to the end that the respective rights of all such claimants to the Fund may be equitably adjudicated and settled."

Sec. 3. G.S. 74C-8(f) is hereby amended on line 7 by deleting the phrase: "furnishing of the required cash bond or surety bond" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "the required contribution to the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund,".

Sec. 4. G.S. 74C-10 is hereby amended by repealing subsections (a), (b), (c) and (d).

Sec. 5. G.S. 74C-10(h) is amended on line 2 by deleting the words "surety bond and" and is further amended on line 6 by deleting the phrase "bond, insurance certificate, or both." and inserting in lieu thereof the words "insurance certificate."

Sec. 7. G.S. 74C-12(a)(14) is rewritten to read as follows: "Failure to make the required contribution to the Private Protective Services Recovery Fund or to maintain the certificate of liability insurance required by this Chapter;".

Sec. 8. The catch line of G.S. 74C-10 is rewritten to read:

"§ 74C-10. Certificate of liability insurance required; form and approval; suspension for noncompliance."

Sec. 10. This act shall become effective July 1, 1983.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 1st day of July, 1983.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 126-11 is amended by rewriting the section to read as follows:

"(a) The board of county commissioners of any county may establish and maintain a personnel system for all employees of the county subject to its jurisdiction, which system and any substantial changes to the system, shall be approved by the State Personnel Commission as substantially equivalent to the standards established under this Chapter for employees of local departments of social services, local health departments, and area mental health programs, local emergency management programs. If approved by the State Personnel Commission, the employees covered by the county system shall be exempt from all provisions of this Chapter except Article 6.

(c) The Office of State Personnel shall monitor at least annually county personnel systems approved under this section in order to ensure compliance.

(d) In order to define 'substantially equivalent', the State Personnel Commission is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations to implement the federal merit system standards and these regulations at a minimum shall include: recruitment and selection of employees; position classification; pay administration; training; employee relations; and records and reports."

Sec. 2. Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing a board of county commissioners to designate any positions as exempt.

S. B. 607 CHAPTER 675

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified, this the 1st day of July, 1983.

S. B. 188 CHAPTER 676

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE HEIGHT OF TALL BUILDINGS OR STRUCTURES ON MOUNTAIN RIDGES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Chapter 113A of the General Statutes is amended by adding at the end thereof a new Article 14, to read as follows:

"Article 14.

"Mountain Ridge Protection.

"§ 113A-205. Short title.—This act shall be known as the Mountain Ridge Protection Act of 1983.

"§ 113A-206. Definitions.—Within the meaning of this Article:

(1) The word 'person' includes any individual, partnership, firm, association, joint venture, public or private corporation, trust, estate, commission, board, public or private institution, utility, cooperative, interstate body, the State of North Carolina and its agencies and political subdivisions, or other legal entity.

(2) A person, as defined in this section, doing business or maintaining an office within a county is a resident of the county.

(3) 'Tall buildings or structures' include any building, structure or unit within a multiunit building with a vertical height of more than 40 feet measured from the top of the foundation of said building, structure or unit and the uppermost point of said building, structure or unit; provided, however, that where such foundation measured from the natural finished grade of the crest or the natural finished grade of the high side of the slope of a ridge exceeds 3 feet, then such measurement in excess of 3 feet shall be included in the 40-foot limitation described herein; provided, further, that no such building, structure or unit shall protrude at its uppermost point above the crest of the ridge by more than 35 feet. 'Tall buildings or structures' do not include:

(a) Water, radio, telephone or television towers or any equipment for the transmission of electricity or communications or both.

(b) Structures of a relatively slender nature and minor vertical projections of a parent building, including chimneys, flagpoles, flues, spires, steeples, belfries, cupolas, antennas, poles, wires, or windmills.

(c) Buildings and structures designated as National Historic Sites on the National Archives Registry.

(4) 'Construction' includes reconstruction, alteration, or expansion.

(5) 'Ridge' means the elongated crest or series of crests at the apex or uppermost point of intersection between two opposite slopes or sides of a mountain, and includes all land within 100 feet below the elevation of any portion of such line or surface along the crest.

(6) 'Protected mountain ridges' are all mountain ridges whose elevation is 3000 feet and whose elevation is 500 or more feet above the elevation of an adjacent valley floor; provided, however, that a county may elect to eliminate the requirement for an elevation of 3000 feet, and such election shall apply both to an ordinance adopted under G.S. 113A-208 and the prohibition against construction under G.S. 113A-209; provided, further, that such ordinance shall be adopted pursuant to the procedures of G.S. 113A-208.

(7) 'Crest' means the uppermost line of a mountain or chain of mountains from which the land falls away on at least two sides to a lower elevation or elevations.

"§ 113A-207. Legislative findings.—The construction of tall or major buildings and structures on the ridges and higher elevations of North Carolina's mountains in an inappropriate or badly designed manner can cause unusual problems and hazards to the residents of and to visitors to the mountains. Supplying water to, and disposing of the sewage from, buildings at high elevations with significant numbers of residents may infringe on the ground water rights and endanger the health of those persons living at lower elevations. Providing fire protection may be difficult given the lack of water supply and pressure and the possibility that fire will be fanned by high winds. Extremes of weather can endanger buildings, structures, vehicles, and persons. Tall or major buildings and structures located on ridges are a hazard to air navigation and persons on the ground and detract from the natural beauty of the mountains.

"§ 113A-208. Regulation of mountain ridge construction by counties and cities.—(a) Any county or city may adopt, effective not later than January 1, 1984, and may enforce an ordinance that regulates the construction of tall buildings or structures on protected mountain ridges by any person. The ordinance may provide for the issuance of permits to construct tall buildings on protected mountain ridges, the conditioning of such permits, and the denial of permits for such construction. Any ordinance adopted hereunder shall be based upon studies of the mountain ridges within the county, a statement of objectives to be sought by the ordinance, and plans for achieving these objectives. Any such county ordinance shall apply countywide except as otherwise provided in G.S. 160A-360, and any such city ordinance shall apply citywide, to construction of tall buildings on protected mountain ridges within the city or county, as the case may be.

(b) Under the ordinance, permits shall be denied if a permit application (and shall be revoked if a project) fails to provide for:

(1) Sewering that meets the requirements of a public wastewater disposal system that it discharges into, or that is part of a separate system that meets applicable State and federal standards;

(2) A water supply system that is adequate for fire protection, drinking water and other projected system needs; that meets the requirements of any public water supply system that it interconnects with; and that meets any applicable State standards, requirements and approvals;

(3) Compliance with applicable State and local sedimentation control regulations and requirements; and

(4) Adequate consideration to protecting the natural beauty of the mountains, as determined by the local governing body.

(c) Permits may be conditioned to insure proper operation, to avoid or mitigate any of the problems or hazards recited in the findings of G.S. 113A-207, to protect natural areas or the public health, and to prevent badly designed, unsafe or inappropriate construction.

(d) An ordinance adopted under the authority of this section applies to all protected mountain ridges as defined in G.S. 113A-206. A county or city may apply the ordinance to other mountain ridges within its jurisdiction if it finds that this application is reasonably necessary to protect against some or all of the hazards or problems set forth in G.S. 113A-207.

(e) Determinations by the county or city governing board of heights or elevations under this Article shall be conclusive in the absence of fraud. Any county or city that adopts a ridge ordinance under the authority of this section or other authority shall send a copy of the ordinance to the Secretary of Natural Resources and Community Development.

(f) Any county or city that adopts an ordinance pursuant to this section must hold a public hearing before adopting the ordinance upon the question of adopting the ordinance or of allowing the construction of tall buildings on protected mountain ridges to be governed by G.S. 113A-209. The public hearing required by this section shall be held upon at least 10 days' notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the unit adopting the ordinance. Testimony at the hearing shall be recorded and any and all exhibits shall be preserved within the custody of the governing body. The testimony and evidence shall be made available for inspection and scrutiny by any person.

(g) Any resident of a county or city that adopted an ordinance pursuant to this section, or of an adjoining county, may bring a civil action against the ordinance-adopting unit, contesting the ordinance as not meeting the requirements of this section. If the ordinance is found not to meet all of the requirements of this section, the county or city shall be enjoined from enforcing the ordinance and the provisions of G.S. 113A-209 shall apply. Nothing in this Article authorizes the State of North Carolina or any of its agencies to bring a civil action to contest an ordinance, or for a violation of this Article or of an ordinance adopted pursuant to this Article.

"§ 113A-209. Certain buildings prohibited.—(a) This section applies beginning January 1, 1984, in any county or city that has failed to adopt a ridge protection ordinance pursuant to G.S. 113A-208 by January 1, 1984.

(b) No county or city may authorize the construction of, and no person may construct, a tall building or structure on any protected mountain ridge.

(c) No county or city may authorize the providing of the following utility services to any building or structure constructed in violation of subsection (b) of this section: electricity, telephone, gas, water, sewer, or septic system.

"§ 113A-210. Application to existing buildings.—G.S. 113A-208 and G.S. 113A-209 apply to buildings that existed upon the effective date of this Article as follows:

(1) No reconstruction, alteration or expansion may aggravate or intensify a violation by an existing building or structure that did not comply (a) with G.S. 113A-209 upon its effective date, or (b) with an ordinance adopted under G.S. 113A-208 upon its effective date.

(2) No reconstruction, alteration or expansion may cause or create a violation by an existing building or structure that did comply (a) with G.S. 113A-209 upon its effective date, or (b) with an ordinance adopted under G.S. 113A-208 upon its effective date.

"§ 113A-211. Enforcement and penalties.—(a) Violations of this Article shall be subject to the same criminal sanctions, civil penalties and equitable remedies as violations of county ordinances under G.S. 153A-123.

(b) Any person injured by a violation of this Article or any person who resides in the county in which the violation occurred may bring a civil action against the person alleged to be in violation. The action may seek:

(1) Injunctive relief; or

(2) An order enforcing the provision violated; or

(3) Damages caused by the violation; or

(4) Both damages and injunctive relief; or

(5) Both damages and an enforcement order; or

(6) Both an enforcement order and injunctive relief. If actual damages as found by the court or jury in suits brought under this subsection are five hundred dollars ($500.00) or less, the plaintiff shall be awarded double the amount of actual damages; if the amount of actual damages as found by the court or jury is greater than five hundred dollars ($500.00), the plaintiff shall receive damages in the amount so found. Injunctive relief or an enforcement order under this subsection may be based upon a threatened injury, an actual injury, or both.

Civil actions under this subsection shall be brought in the General Court of Justice of the county in which the alleged violation occurred. The court, in issuing any final order in any action brought pursuant to this section may award costs of litigation, including reasonable attorney and expert-witness fees, to any party, whenever it determines that such an award is appropriate. The court may, if a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction is sought, require the filing of a bond or equivalent security, the amount of such bond or security to be determined by the court. Nothing in this section shall restrict any right which any person or class of persons may have under the common law or under any statute to seek injunctive or other relief.

(c) Within the meaning of this section, violations of this Article include violations of local ordinances adopted pursuant to G.S. 113A-208.

"§ 113A-212. Assistance to counties and cities under ridge law.—(a) The Secretary of Natural Resources and Community Development shall provide assistance upon request to the counties and cities in carrying out their functions pursuant to this Article, such as by providing model studies, plans, and ordinances for their consideration.

(b) The Secretary of Natural Resources and Community Development shall identify the protected mountain ridge crests in each county by showing them on a map or drawing, describing them in a document, or any combination thereof. Such maps, drawings, or documents shall identify the protected mountain ridges as defined in G.S. 113A-206 and such other mountain ridges as any county may request , and shall specify those protected mountain ridges that serve as all or part of the boundary line between two counties. By November 1, 1983, the map, drawing, or document tentatively identifying the protected mountain ridge crests of each county shall be filed with the board of county commissioners and with the city governing body of each city that requests it. By January 1, 1984, the map, drawing, or document identifying the protected mountain ridge crests shall be permanently filed by the Secretary with the register of deeds in the county where the land lies, and made available for inspection at the Secretary's office in Raleigh. Copies of the maps, drawings, or documents certified by the register of deeds, shall be admitted in evidence in all courts and shall have the same force and effect as would the original.

(c) Determinations by the Secretary of elevations under this section shall be conclusive in the absence of fraud.

"§ 113A-213. Article is supplemental.—This Article provides a supplemental source of authority in addition to other present or future legislation and shall not be construed as prescribing an exclusive procedure or as granting exclusive powers.

"§ 113A-214. Choosing coverage or removal from coverage of this Article.—(a) This Article shall apply in all counties and cities unless and until the jurisdiction adopts an ordinance exempting itself from the coverage of this Article.

This exemption shall only be effective after a binding referendum, in which all registered voters in the jurisdiction are eligible to vote, which shall be held on or before May 8, 1984. The binding referendum shall be held either as a result of a resolution passed by the governing body of the jurisdiction or as a result of an initiative petition signed by fifteen percent (15%) of the registered voters in the jurisdiction and filed with the Board of Elections of that county not later than 60 days before the election is to be held. At that referendum, each qualified voter desiring to vote shall be provided a ballot on which shall be printed the following:

☐ FOR coverage under the Mountain Ridge Protection Act of 1983.

☐ AGAINST coverage under the Mountain Ridge Protection Act of 1983.

(b) If a jurisdiction removes itself from the coverage of this Article, by means of a binding referendum, as provided for in subsection (a) of this section, then it shall have until May 13, 1986 to place itself again under the coverage of this Article by means of an ordinance passed after a similar binding referendum. Once a jurisdiction opts out and then opts back under the Article, it may not take any further action to again remove itself from the coverage of the Article.

(c) If a county has chosen the permit procedure authorized by G.S. 113A-208, and then opts out of and either the county or any city in the county opts back under the coverage of this Article, then that jurisdiction may choose the permit procedure even after January 1, 1984.

(d) When a county removes itself from the coverage of this Article all cities within the county shall be removed from the coverage of this Article. Provided, however, a city in a county that has removed itself from coverage may, under the procedure set forth in subsection (b) of this section, place itself again under the coverage of this Article.

(e) When a protected mountain ridge is any part of the boundary between two jurisdictions then that part of the ridge shall be covered by this Article unless both jurisdictions remove themselves from the coverage of this Article."

Sec. 2. Chapter 153A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 153A-448. Mountain ridge protection.—Counties may enact and enforce mountain ridge protection ordinances pursuant to Article 14 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, and in such enactment and enforcement shall comply with all applicable provisions of Article 14 unless the county has removed itself from the coverage of Article 14 through the procedure provided by law."

Sec. 3. Chapter 160A of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read:

"§ 160A-458.2. Mountain ridge protection.—Cities may enact and enforce mountain ridge protection ordinances pursuant to Article 14 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, and in such enactment and enforcement shall comply with all applicable provisions of Article 14 unless the city has removed itself from the coverage of Article 14 through the procedure provided by law."

Sec. 4. This act is effective upon ratification.

Section 1. Chapter 50 of the General Statutes is amended by adding a new section to read as follows:

"§ 50-13.9. Procedure to insure payment of child support.—(a) Upon its own motion or upon motion of either party, the court may order at any time that support payments be made to the clerk of court for remittance to the party entitled to receive the payments.

(b) After entry of such an order by the court, the clerk of court shall maintain records listing the amount of payments, the date payments are required to be made, and the names and addresses of the parties affected by the order.

(c) The parties affected by the order shall inform the clerk of court of any change of address or of other condition that may affect the administration of the order. The court may provide in the order that a party failing to inform the court of a change of address within a reasonable period of time may be held in civil contempt.

(d) When a supporting party fails to make a required payment of child support, and is in arrears of said payment, the clerk of superior court shall mail by regular mail to the last known address of the supporting party a notice of delinquency which shall set out the amount of child support currently due and shall demand immediate payment of said amount. The notice shall also state that failure to make immediate payment may result in the issuance of an order of the court requiring the supporting party to appear before a district court judge and show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of the order of the court. The failure to receive said notice shall not be a defense in any proceedings thereafter. If the supporting party is subsequently found in contempt of an order of the court, thereafter notice shall be in the discretion of the clerk.

If the arrearage is not paid in full within 21 days after the mailing of said notice or is not paid within 30 days after the supporting party becomes delinquent, if the clerk has elected not to send a delinquency notice, the clerk shall cause to be issued an order ordering the supporting party to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of orders of the court and shall issue a notice of hearing before a district court judge. Said order may be signed by the clerk or a district court judge, and shall be served upon the supporting party pursuant to the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. The clerk shall also notify the party to whom support is owed of the pending hearing. The clerk may withdraw the order to the supporting party upon receipt of the delinquent payment. On motion of the recipient, with the approval of the district court judge, if he finds it is in the best interest of the child, no order shall be issued.

(e) The clerk of court shall maintain and make available to the district court judge a list of attorneys who are willing to undertake representation, pursuant to this section, of persons to whom child support is owed. No attorney shall be placed on such list without his permission.

(f) At least seven days prior to a contempt hearing set forth in subsection (d), the clerk must notify the district court judge of all cases to be heard on contempt charges at the next term of district court and the judge shall appoint an attorney to represent each party to whom support payments are owed from the list described in (e) if the judge deems it to be in the best interest of the child for whom support is being paid, unless:

(1) The attorney of record for the party to whom support payments are owed has notified the clerk of court that he will appear for said party; or

(2) The party to whom support payments are owed requests the judge not to appoint an attorney; or

(3) An attorney for the enforcement of child support obligations pursuant to Title IV, Part D, of the Social Security Act as amended is available.

The judge may order payment of reasonable attorney's fees as provided in G.S. 50-13.6.

(g) Nothing in this section shall preclude the independent initiation of proceedings for civil contempt by a party."

Sec. 2. This act shall become effective October 1, 1983. The Director of the Budget is authorized to transfer for the fiscal years 1983-84 and 1984-85 related savings from the Department of Human Resources, Division of Social Services to the Judicial Department sufficient for the establishment of necessary positions and other expenses to implement this act. It is not mandatory that this act be implemented until such funds are available.
